 Philadelphia North American takes this view of it:
 Orriclat Vote or the County...-We are the pople of the West, we have no doubt, will generally regard this as a lucky thing. Had it no been for the universal bankruptoy these lands might have lain idle for year to come, like the great tracts in Ohio, Indiann and Illinois, so long held in a similar condition. At the present time it is impossible for any of these apeculators to avoid n sale, and this, so far from being a matter for regret, is fortunat both for the West and the emigrating East. Next spring and stummer, then, we may lot for such a migration to the new territories and States on our Wostern borders, as has not been witnessed for many a year. Our factories and workshops here at the East are idle, and we fear they must continue, in view of the disturbed condition of the country. Thus, thousands of industrions people, where itable for them, will, as soon as they can naturally direct their attention to the West. From the New England and Middle States we apprehend a general morement in that direction.

apprenent a general movement in that direction. This will be a religf to the old and overburthen-the states, to be sures; but in gaining that relief, weahall lose the most valuable classes of our population—the laborers, whose native intelli-gence has advanced every description of indus-try, and anabled us, oren under the disadvant-ages of a false revenue system to compete with the nations of Europe. This is no trifting loss, and the community will feel it severely when the recomperation, which must evenfuelly come, shall enable us it is a well ascertained fact that a large propo-ti fs a well ascertained fact that a large propo-tion of the emigration to the West is composed of our own shrewd, industrious, hardy native population. Sinsitics abow, this clearly. It is a well ascertaines are the pioneers who rough it in the wilderness. They form the vest the U.S. Courts. The source of the squatters and borderers. No
