AND CONTROLLED TO STATE AND ADDRESS OF THE STATE OF THE S

The Virginia banks, we believe, invariably resort to the trick of issuing by the branches the bills which are payable at the principal bank, and rice versa. And the Examiner says that practically they have always been in a state of suspension, so far as the people are concerned. That paper alleges that the holder of a ten dollar bill could not (prior to suspension) present it for collection without meeting with insult.

South Carolina, another State pre-eminently "Bemocratic" in its professions, has a greater amount of bank capthal in proportion to its agamount of bank capital in proportion to its aggregate wealth than any State in the Union. In fact its bank capital is not far from equal to the assessed value of its farms and plantations, and the State is overrun with one dollar bills. Could the foul bypocrisy of the party in power be better illustrated than by a rectina of the above plain facts?—Wash. Republic.

sent out an agent to look after his interests, with orders to convert everything into cash, at any sacrifice. The result was that the agent closed everything for $60,000, with which he started for home, and took passage on board the Central America, in which vessel he was lost with his treasure, and the owner from independence has been reduced to poverty. This is a hard case, indeed.—Boston Gazette, One of the most horrible of the deaths at Campore was that of Lieut. Sanders, of H. M. S4th Foot. Having been brought before the Rajah Nena Sahib, he pulled out his revolver, shot dead five of the guard and missed the Rajah with the sixth round. Then they crucifed him to the ground: the whole of the leavalry charged pust him, and every one of them had a cut at him; he was cut to pieces by the whole of them. A correspondent says: "It would strike torror into the heart of says: "It would strike torror into use nears of the devil himself to go fato that house where 280 poor women and children were put to death in the most cruel manner by them; the whole of their clothing was forn to pieces by them, even the hairs of the head pulled out by the root, the heads and bodies hacked and mangled to atoms."

and bodies hacked and mangled to atoms."

A DIFFERENCE.—If we had five niggers at large in this District, contrary to law, the President, old as he is, would mount his horse, and, at the head of his marines, would sustain the Constitution and the Union at all hazards, and at all costs. But as, instead of five niggers, we only have five banks at large, contrary to law, the Administration contents itself with expressing a little harmless disapprobation. One runaway nigger would bring down upon us the whole army of the United States. Five runaway banks have brought down upon us mothing pages of that book.

The supply of gold in the street to-day was large, and the bullion brokers were not anxious to buy at 1@ cent. prem. The Banks are estimated to hold twelve millions, and with the California steamer and the Persia, due within a day or two with large supplies, our Banks are not strengthening themselves by purchase. They receive every day considerable amounts over their counters.—N. Y. Trib.

COLORED REGIMENTS FOR INDIA.—The Toronto Colomist snys there is a movement among the colored residents of Canada to organize a colored regiment for India. Whether the British government will accept their services remains to be seen, but the Colonist thinks that such regiments would be eminoutly fit for the service. would be eminently fit for the service.

THE OUTER EDGE.—Henry Ward Beecher says that the march of civilization bears hell on its outer edge. We are reminded of this by the vote cast at the recent elections on the confines of lowa and Minnesota. Throughout the undiscovered portions of lows, and along the outside the country, and whiskey prevails over the configuration at the best medium through which to reach the public.
