The Union in the same article takes the plorable depreciation of "assets, (which were no doubt considered "ample" at one day,) but GEORGE WEYMAN, The Union in the same article takes the position that a majority cannot rightly deprive a minority of their "property," whether "by open force or coercive legislation." It charges the Free States which, have abolished slavery with committing "a great outrage" in so doing, because the majority deprived the minority of their property without their consent. The Union titled afterwards to explain that this meant only that slaveholders had theright, under the Constitution, to take their slaves into free States and hold them there during a temporary residence; but a glance at the above will show that it referred to persons from one State settling in another, with their slaves, and pronounces void all the provisions in our State plorable depreciation of "assets," (which were Manufacturer and Dealer in all kinds of TOBACCO, SNUFF AND CIGARS, LEAF TOBACCO, Corner of Smithfield Servet and Diamond Allry,

DATE OF A STATE OF A S

PERSON

SURROGATE BRADFORD yesterday rendered his decision in the famous Parish Will case, substantially in favor of the contestants of the will, the brother and two sisters of the deceased—
The party chiefly to be benefitted by this decision is Mr. Daniel Parish, who will be the gainer of nearly amillion of dollars by it, if it should be acquiexed in by the widow. But the probability is that it will be taken up to the Court of Appeals. The costs of the suit, of both parties, are to be paid out of the estate.—N. Y. paper.
