By order of the Ex. Co. Com.

Hos. Natural Cluytond.—This gentleman has been nominated to fill the vacaney on the Supreme Bench, occasioned by the resignation of Judge Curtis, of Massachusetts. There could be but one reason why he has been chosen to went the ermine. That reason was not the amount of his judicial lore; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great ability the high position which chance and a chance president elevated him to; it could not have been because he filled with great a As respects his judicial experience, he has never That the business of his office accumulated so rapidly on his hands that he was in a fair way of being overwhelmed by it, and that herculean fell like a hot shot among the conspirators of the propaganda, and which lays all its foundations deep and broad so that they cannot be shaken.

Mr. Clifford is much such a man in respect to doublity and duetility as Mr. Toucey of Connecticut. Like Juvanal's little Greek, either of them is ready to say, when the master declares "it is traim,"—"Aye, sir, it is very hot," and thereupon fall to stripping themselves and to the assiduous use of a fan. But the master laughs and says, "Yes, but it is very cold," whereupon they fling on their overcoats and huddle around the fire, party. Each speculator made about $280. "Yes, but it is very cold," whereupon they fling on their overcosts and huddle around the fire, exclaiming, "How very cold it is." Like old Polonins, Mr. Clifford will see with his prince every cloud "tery like a whale;" or like any other creature that esprice or policy may dictate other creature that exprise or policy may dictate to his master to say it resembles. Clifford on the beach, the masters of this republic will lack nothing in the way of opinions which they may desire. It is for this reason he was appointed, and to the art of swimming gently down with the current Mr. Clifford may now with impunity address himself. THE New York banks have quietly resume specie payments, the event creating no surpris cither there or elsewhere. There seems, ho ever, to be a diversity of sentiment there as t its propriety. The Journal of Commerce says:

"The formal resumption of specie payments by the banks of this city, which took place to-day, has attracted but little attention from any much as there was no great practical change to be effected by this theoretical movement, i promised no sufficient good to effect the possible will. As the chances in favor of any eril result however, are very remote, we trust that the movement will not be regretted."

The Commercial Advertiser says : "We find this monthing that the measure does not meet with a generally favorable reception, the impression being that the step is premature, and will have a prejudicial effect upon the interests of trade. That it will disarrange both the foreign and domestic exchanges, cause a drawing of specie upon ins from other cities, and deaden the market, which had began to manifest some activity, for mercantile paper, and the ra some activity, for mercantile paper, and the re sults are seen this morning in the fall of the price of stocks, and an advance of about half per cent. on the average in the rates for South-ern exchanges, while such sales of foreign bills as were made last night, after the determination of the banks was made known, were at a lower rate of premium."
The Philadelphia North American says:

There is nothing known definitely in regard to the resumption of specie payments by the banks of this city and State, but the impression seems pretty general that it will not be before the time fixed by the Legislature, in April next." We are not advised of the course that will be pursued by the suspended banks of Pittsburgh but hear it intimated that they may and proba bly will resume before April. If they would adopt the plan pursued in New York—commence at once paying in specie all liabilities, as pre sented, quietly and unostentationsly, without formally resuming, the public would gradually grow accustomed to the change, and resumption in name would easily follow at some future day this resumption in fact, and all possibility of a run would be avoided.

THE Buffalo Express of the 8th states that in The Busialo Express of the 8th states that in a number of cases lately tried in the Supremo Court at that city, the question was raised whether paper payable below, as it is called, and the subsequent sale of the other in Kenthat is in New York) but discounted there, is usurious or not; that the court held in the affirmative, and so instructed the jury, who rentited the subsequent sale of the other in Kenthat sale in New York) but discounted there, is usurious or not; that the court held in the affirmative, and so instructed the jury, who rentited in New York and imprisoned. dered a verdict accordingly. The opportune mission to Mexico afforded a good excuse for making a vacancy in the office of Altorney General for a man who was fally competent to the tasks it imposed. So Mr. Clifford received the nine thousand dollars ontift, the nine thousand dollars infit and the other thousands which came as salary while he was tarrying in "the halls of the Montezumas."

As, a lawyer, it has only been since he was appointed to the high effice under Polk to which we have above alluded, that he attained to anything like eminence, and never has he risen to the first rank at the har where he has practised for the last eight or ten years. Setting aside Mr. Fessenden, now U. S. Senator, who is head and shoulders above all the men at the bar where he practises, there are other men there, who might, as far as ago and experience go, he Mr. Clifford's sons, with whom he cannot cope for an hour on any field which the law presents. Recovery of Letters Stolen by Tuckerman.

Mr. Holbrook, the special agent of the Post Office department, who arrested Tuckerman, the mail robber, reports the recovery of over four hundred letters for foreign ports, which have not been violated, and which were forwarded by the steamer of Safurday, oth inst., from New York for Liverpool. These letters were mailed at New Orleans on the 7th ult., and left New York for Boston on the night of Sunday, the 17th. Among them are many letters from San Francisco and other places in California.
