

As an article in the Union yesterday morning... the late Gov. Walker, (not Mr. Buchanan's friend, William Brewster of the Ohio)

It is not that one of the few inferences from what the so-called Democratic party have been reaching to take last three years as the true principle of the Kansas bill...

By the Atlantic. (Continued from the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, London, Dec. 8.—Palmer, however, but not importance has occurred to nothing of great aspect of commercial affairs...

The demand of the Bank of England for discount at the minimum rate of five per cent, is still active, although it is gradually becoming less...

That successful revolution, it would seem, is world-wide. It extends throughout the American continent, it has fallen into the hands of the banking systems, upon people with good banking systems, and upon people with no banking systems at all...

After all, there may be thankful that, under a money banking system, no man need be a creditor, no man need be a debtor, no man need be a creditor, no man need be a debtor...

The "Factious Majority."—This alliance the majority has in our government been reduced to a Scotch Carolina statement to find no redress, as far as possible, all men who would be equal to the conditions of his own world...

At the present is the most popular paper in Paris, and nothing causes more irritation to the public than to be depicted suddenly in their national journal, the policy of the blow seems doubtful...

Special Notices. "Redeemed by Democrats to a more elaborate... by the late Gov. Walker, (not Mr. Buchanan's friend, William Brewster of the Ohio)
