Mr. Foster read in piace a bill to tak the countries of the Supreme Court have presented to the present of the Supreme Court have presented an imater to keep it from tinkering and spoiling, under plea of amending, the present banking the present banking the present banking law and abound at the Capital; and each individual legislator seems charged with the special mission of making the present banking law "all right," and preventing another crisis by legislation directed at the one that is just past. We are shy and suspicious of all these projects. Some of them have warm friends; especially is this the case with the one which limits bank dividends to eight per cent. per annum, and we know that a good deal can be said in favor of it; but we think it worth while to stop and inquire whether it is not wrong in principle, and whether a man who is allowed to make as much per cent. as he pleases in any other business should have a restriction put upon him when he chooses to put his money into bank shares. Our banking law may not be perfect; but change is not always reform.

The true secret of all our banking troubles

Mr. Miller read in place a bill to erect Jeffer-State has and will have a system of its own, and the notes of ono State cannot be kept from circulating in another. It is this multiplicity of systems, and the utter confusion which results from the various degrees of stability attained under them, which has deprived us of everything like a national currency, and subjected us to all sorts of shaves and to the wildest derangement in the exchanges between the difference of the confusion of the returns.

Mr. Imbric introduced a bill which was defended in least color of the fencing of railroads in Beaver Co. Mr. Crawford, a bill to annex that portion of Armstrong lying north of Bear Creek to Butler Co. Mr. Shaw, two bills; one to increase the pay of county auditors in Lawrence and one relative to the returns by collectors of taxes upon unseated lands. It gives the collectors thirty days longer to make their returns. rangement in the exchanges between the differ ent parts of the country. way of reforming our diverse banking systems is to wipe them allout and substitute for them the issue of paper money might dicathority of the general government upon the nettal deposits of gold and silver. But there is no prospect of this; and the next best thing is not to be in a hurry about changing what we have. With the exception of the Bank of Pennsylvania, which was not chartered under the present banking law, the public has not been a loser by the banks of this State in consequence of the late revulsion. pating a pro-slavery triumph by the abstention of the free State men from exercising the right of suffrage, made a show acceptant the presiding of more of the two Houses of the Territorial Legislature, to be present at the counting of the returns. They accepted this invitation, and were so present. Calhoun is thus caught in his own trap. He expected to get the sanction of those officials to a pro-slavery triumph, but on canvassing the votes it turns out that, notwith standing the enormous frands perpetrated by corrupt judges and bogus voters from Missouri, and the refusel of bulf the Free State men to the standing of the elaborate presentment of critical ensure from "the hilings owners to prove them ensure from "the hilings owners in matters in which, though deeply affecting Pittsburgh interiors, "intelligent strangers" are the best advisors, it will I think be difficult term for the will the mer passage of trade and travel by rail through Pittsburgh will benefit her more than it benefits any other place though which though deeply affecting Pittsburgh interiors, it will I think be difficult to wisors, it will I think be difficult to have by rail through Pittsburgh will benefit her more than it benefits any other place though which though deeply affecting Pittsburgh interiors, which, though deeply affecting Pittsburgh interiors, which though deeply affecting Pittsburgh interiors, which, though deeply affecting Pittsburgh will be set advisors, it will I think be difficult to him be difficult to him be difficult to him be difficult provisions, it will I think be difficult to him be difficult to him be difficult provisions, it will I think be difficult to him be standing the enormous frauds perpetrated by corrupt judges and bogus voters from Missouri, and the refusal of half the Free State men to vote, the Free State party has swept the entire vote, the Free State party has swept the Cattle sing of the Ohioriver, a much more objection ble matter than all the changes on the round ble matter than all the changes of the round ble matter than all the changes of the round ble matter than all the changes of the round ble matter than all the changes of the round ble matter than all the round ble matter than al ture and the whole State ticket. But it is not my object to discuss the chance gency, Calhoun holds open the result to receive further returns, though of course they will be illegally received, if at all. Under this aspect of the case the official publication of the result made by the Governor and presiding officers of the Territorial Legislature, is quite conclusive.

If, therefore, Kansas is admitted under the Lecampton Constitution, her Free State Legislature will elect Free State Senators, and call a new convention to frame a new constitution. If she is not admitted under that constitution, her Free State Territorial Legislature will call a new constitutional convention. We present, to-day, details of the latest election news from Kansas, by which it will be seen that Calhoun has slightly overreached himself.

Before the voting took place, Calhoun, anticipating a pro-slavery triumph by the abstention of the free State men from exercising the right enabled the presentment of revitations of the free State men from exercising the right.

It is not to be wondered at, in view of these facts, that the President and Cabinet show signs of backing down. They will not undertake, now, it is shrewlly suspected, to force through the Lecompton fraud, but will devote their energies to framing some other scheme of rascality to defraud the people and benefit the South.

The Election To-normow.—But one day is left for efficient action. We hope our friends in the two cities and adjacent boroughs will see to it at once that all necessary preparations are minde. Tinkets can be had on application at this office.
