PITTSBURGH:

TUESDAY MORNING, FEB. 9, 1858.

☞ OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.☜

News of the City and Neighborhood.

HAVE WE WORKERS OF MIRACLES AMONG US?—Why, of course we have! There are the two wonderful monks, perched on a hill over above Birmingham, Fathers Gaudentius and Anthony, Genoese people, who have a piece of a bone of the leg of St. Paul, and a piece of the heart of the same with which miracles of healing are wrought! These two "Fathers" have recently made a visit to Brooklyn, of which we spoke several days since, and, as we remarked, they performed there certain wonderful miracles.

As soon as the report gained credence in Brooklyn that diseases were cured by them, much excitement immediately followed. The churches where they preached were beset with throngs of people: the blind, the lame, the deaf, and those affected with more acute diseases, were brought in great numbers by their believing friends, to be present at the manifestations of the missionaries. The excitement among those who were unprepared to believe in miracles at the present day was also very great, and it is said that not only many wonderful cures have been effected, but that hundreds have been confirmed in their predisposition to the Catholic faith, and that very many formerly of opposite opinions have been converted and united with the church. Fathers Gaudentius alone is asserted to have received over five hundred converts into the Catholic Church; and when it is considered that conversions to this faith are not effected with the rapidity usual in Protestant revivals, it must be admitted that Father Gaudentius has unusual reason to rejoice over the result of his clerical labors.

We find the result of some of their cures in an article in a New York paper, as follows:

"Miss Van Winkle, of Bergen street, whoshas suffered much from disease of the spine, went to the missionaries for relief. The application of the relics was made with the customary blessing, and the patient imagined that she was better, but the disease has returned with all its original virulence.

"We were informed of a case of an Irish woman who gains a subsistence by collecting cold victuals at the kitchen doors of these in more affluent circumstances than herself. This female was subject to epileptic fits; she was cured, and, accordingly to her account, 'can make more by begging than ever before in the whole course of her life.'

"It is a noticeable fact, however, that despite the strong declarations of some of the Catholic newspapers of their full faith that these cures are supernatural, the priests of the churches in Brooklyn either express an utter disbelief that any 'miracles' have been performed, or require as much incontrovertible proof of that proposition as would convince the toughest skeptic."

The holy Fathers have returned to their convents in Birmingham. Nobody appears to have taken any special notice of this fact, and we discern in it a fulfilment of the delusion that a prophet is not without honor, save in his own country.

HISTORY OF THE REFORMATION.—We are indebted to the agents of Messrs. W. & W. H. Freeman, whose office is at No. 113 Third street, nearly opposite the St. Charles Hotel, for Nos 17, 18, 19 and 20 of D'Aubigne's History of The Reformation. The gorgeous style in which this admirable work is getting on has never been surpassed, and the quality of paper, the clearness of type, the beauty, finish and fitness of the engravings, are all that could be desired. This History is in fact the History of Europe and of the civilized world for the time in which the events it relates transpired. Charles the Fifth of Spain, and all the great wars and conquests of which he was the author and in which he was prime mover, find no more faithful chronicler than the pious child of that great and glorious Reformation, D'Aubigne. Those who would have this great work in a proper style, and so produced in all respects as the grandeur of the subjects it treats deserves, will do well to secure a copy of Freeman's edition, which is sold only to subscribers.

A RARE BOOK.—Robert Pearsall Smith, Philadelphia, has reproduced a fac simile of an old book on the Orchard and Garden, first printed at London by "J. H." for Francis Williams, of all the years in the world in the blessed year 1626, when "that blessed Martyr" Charles I. was king in Great Britain. We have looked it over "from end to end" with the greatest pleasure. The type is the Old German text, and each chapter opens with a grand illuminated initial letter. In reading this book we have been impressed with the idea that the last three and a quarter centuries have not learned a great deal about gardening, which was far longer in the days of Charles I. We commend this little book of 39 pages, bound in cheap style, to those who like such things, and we hope the number is not small. We are not advised that they are for sale in town, but they can be procured as noted above.

THE APPROACHING ERUPTION.—As the time draws near that is to witness the awful spectacle of two fellow-beings launched into eternity by the hand of justice, an effort appears to be making to excite the public mind by details of how the persons condemned look; what they say; what they do, how they eat, what they drink; how their cells are locked up and how they are unlocked, how the scaffold is to be built and where, and every other particular that can have any interest for the curious.

TRIAL OF RICHARDS.—The second of the young men concerned in the murder of old Mr. Welman was brought into Court yesterday morning and placed in the dock. He was arrigned in the usual form but did not plead, his counsel arguing that on a former day, to wit, on the 12th of January ult. he had been called before the Court, and then and there appealed to God and his country for a safe deliverance. Subsequent to the pleading, there was a severance, Kelly being tried and Denny and Richards being remanded. They have since lain in jail, and it was contended by Richards' counsel, when he was yesterday arraigned, that he could not plead again. After considerable discussion it was decided to go on with the case under his former declaration of "Not Guilty." It appeared to several of the best lawyers at the bar that the plea of "Once in Peril" would have been effectual in behalf of the prisoner. Certainly it could not well be set forth on the records that a man had been arraigned in Court on the 12th of January and plead not guilty that he then and there appealed to God and his country—the jury before which he stood—and that subsequently, on the 8th day of February, the same man had been arraigned for the same offence and asked to plead again to the same indictment. Such in part was the course of argument of several gentlemen learned in the law. The testimony in this case will be similar to that in the case of Kelly, already convicted

A VALUABLE BOOK.—We have been favored with a copy of the second edition of "THE INVALID'S GUIDE AND CONSULTATIVE MANUAL," a little work replete with practical information, by Dr. Calvin M. Fitch, A. M. M. D.

The book contains over 30 pages more of matter than the first edition, although the price is not increased.

In taking up Lung diseases as a speciality, Drs. Fitch and Sykes have been compelled to direct their attention also to various other chronic diseases which produce Consumption, and are often complicated here in the early stages, and remember that its proceedings during the session on Friday were brought in an unpleasant manner. It was due to fair dealing that he should acquit himself of the responsibility for a violation of confidence, dignity and decorum. He was the aggressor, and whatever of responsibility properly attached to it belonged to him alone. He was also bound to say that he should make whatever reparation it was in his power to that dignity and decorum of the House thus violated. He did this in expression of his profound regret at the occurrence. Personal collisions are always unpleasant, and very seldom excusable, and particularly, never in a legislative body. He felt, himself bound to assume the responsibility which he assumed in saying that he was the aggressor, and that the responsibility belonged to him. In this conviction he had no other statement to make, and that was whether or not blow was directed at him or not, was more than he could say; at least he was unconscious of having received it. With this explanation he parted from the subject.

Mr. Grow said he had been taught in childhood that all fights among men are disgraceful to human nature, and to a Christian community, and this is especially the case when they occur among the sons of Kelly. Riper years and force of education satisfied him that this lesson was good and true, yet the right of self-defence he recognized as one of the inalienable rights of man to be exercised on all occasions and under all circumstances whenever necessary for the preservation of life or property. He at the last sitting of the House found himself unexpectedly engaged in the first personal conflict; for this he reconciled to the House most cheerfully, whatever apology was due for the violation of this order and decorum, and no one regretted more than himself the occasion for the violation of its order.

The House immediately adjourned.

Mr. Capt. Bailey and Civil Letpet, having procured furniture and fixtures. There were 12 passengers on board, all of whom, though badly frightened, were fortunately saved. We are informed that engineer Thos Girty, stood his watch manfully. He remained by the engines until the water reached his waist on the lower deck. He then went on the hurricane deck only on the upper deck. Mr. Grow, of Kentucky, introduced a joint resolution passed by the Rhode Island Legislature instructing its Senators and requesting the Representatives in Congress from that State to vote against the admission of Kansas into the union under the Lecompton Constitution.

Mr. Florence, of Pennsylvania: Yes clearly.

Mr. Washburne did not press his motion.

The main question was then ordered to be put by a vote of 113 yeas to 107 nays.

The result of this vote was watched by members and spectators with the greatest anxiety.

The next question was announced to be on the resolution of Mr. Harris, of Ill., to refer the Message to a special Committee of the Senate.

The question on the resolution of Mr. Harris, of Illinois, for a reference to a Special Committee has been taken and carried, yeas 114, nays 111.

Mr. Harris, of Illinois, moved to reconsider the vote and lay that motion on the table, which was carried by 115 against 111.

Mr. Hughes' resolution merely to refer the Kansas message to a Select Committee of 13, was amended by the adoption of Mr. Harris' substitute, given above, was agreed to by 115 against 111.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 8.

HOUSE.—The galleries of the House were more thronged on the opening of the session than on any previous occasion, including many ladies.

The Speaker announced the pending propositions to be on seconding the demand for the previous question on the several motions to refer the President's special Kansas message.

The demand was seconded by a vote of 110 to 105.

Mr. Washburne, of Maine, demanded the yeas and nays, wishing the question so decided instead of by tellers.

Mr. Barksdale, of Missouri, said: That I'm violation of the contract heretofore agreed upon.

The next question was announced to be on the motion of Mr. Stephens, of Ga., to refer the Message to the Committee on Territories.

The House disagreed on this motion, the vote standing yeas 112, nays 114.

The next question to be taken was announced to be on the resolution of Mr. Harris, of Ill., to refer the Message to a special Committee of the Senate.

The question on the resolution of Mr. Harris, of Illinois, for a reference to a Special Committee has been taken and carried, yeas 114, nays 111.

Later per Arabia.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The advices from India, though one week later, furnish nothing from Delhi. Two or three successful engagements with the enemy in other districts are reported. The English and French forces in China took possession of an island opposite Canton without opposition. The French Admiral has proclaimed the blockade of Canton river.

If the capture of Canton fails to bring the Chinese to terms, a march on Pekin is contemplated.

From Persia.—Heavy gales have been experienced along the English coast, but no damage to American shipping is reported.

Festivities in honor of the marriage of the Prince Royal to the Princess of Prussia had already commenced and were progressing, a meeting in the Parliament had been called.

COMMITTEE OF ARBITRATION FOR FEBRUARY, JAMES DICKEY, V. P., W. W. MAIR, JOHN FLEMING DAVID M'CANDLESS, JAMES GARDNER.

Weekly Review of the Pittsburgh Market.

Reported specially for the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PITTSBURGH, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1858.

Business continues unchanged. There is no apparent improvement to note. The receipts of goods from the East for shipment West are remarkably light, having been for the whole month of January only about 2,500 tons. The shipments West of Pittsburgh manufactured goods continue to improve, but very slowly.

The resumption of specie payments by our banks, which we noted last week, has be a followed by the resumption of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore banks. The banks of Chester county, Danville and Mahn's Chunk have also resumed, and the resumption will soon be general. In this city, as well as in all the other places named, the resumption was very quietly effected, there having been no run or cessation of any kind.

To the banks of Pittsburgh, which set the example, is due the credit of having relieved the other banks named to follow. It is probable that resumption would not have taken place before the 22th of April if our banks had not led off at an earlier day.

The effect of resumption will not be immediately felt. The banks, it is probable, will not enlarge their issues until confidence is so thoroughly restored as to render that course perfectly safe.

Money may be said to be in steady demand, but first class paper is not even decently abundant to absorb the means of the banks. None of them are lending up to the full extent of their willingness.

In the general markets there is no change of any importance to note. The speculative movements in Pork are attracting places at Cincinnati, but the advance can hardly be characterized as a healthy or permanent one.

Comparative statement of the Imports of Foreign Dry Goods at N. York for last week and since Jan. 1:

	1857.	1858.
For the week
Entered at the port	$2,209,305	$1,156,018
Thrown on market	2,500,555	4,116,292
Since Jan. 1.	1856.	1857.
Entered at the port	$12,247,231	$14,542,494
Thrown on market	19,836,749	14,772,250

The N Y Commercial Advertiser of Saturday says:

"There is little interest to notice in the aspect of money matters this week. General business continues gradually to improve as the season advances, but still there is nothing like animation manifested, nor do we expect that there will be during the present spring. Money continues in moderate abundant supply, the market rates on good securities being as we quote, but there are large transactions at five, and even less than five per cent, and we also hear of sales of first rate paper at 6 per cent. Good names but not of well known character are quoted at 7 per cent. and upward.

The banks are discounting freely the offerings of good paper, and it is generally believed that the line will show a handsome expansion.

The export of specie from this port for the week ending this day, and for the year 1858, was as follows:

Total for the week	$2,939,370 85
Previously reported	5,655,618 59
Total, 1858	$8,552,989 44

This is, we believe, the largest weekly export yet. If confirmed by subsequent advices, we must wait a good while before the good times return.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Saturday says:

"The money market is without material change, but it may thing it is easier. Currency is in fair supply, and good paper is discounted freely at 10@12 per cent.

There is an active movement ...eday in Bulk Meat, and large sales were made at 5½ for Shoulders, and 6¾ for Sides loose, closing firm. Sugars are also more active, and we note sales of 300 hhds at 7¢ for Cumberland Cut. Mess Pork was quiet, but firmly asked as when sold at $17 for Mess, $17,50 for Repacked and $18,50 for prime Lard. Sugars and Molasses unchanged. Coffee in good demand at full rates. Hogs continue in good request, and prices tend upwards.

The article of Molasses attracted considerable attention Orleans, quoted prices at Saturday morning, from New Orleans at 32@36c. The report to the Chamber of Commerce stated that all on the market had been bought up by speculators, closing at 34c. This information was confirmed by private dispatches, and some of sweeping, printed in another column, quotes 34@35c, as the range. Our market was, of course very much unsettled. Holders advanced their views to 35@36, but both buyers and sellers seemed afraid to operate, and little or nothing was done. In New York, on Saturday, prices advanced to 38@39c.

Sugar—Is buoyant, but we hear of no advance—Cin Gazette Monday.

RIVER NEWS.

Yesterday was another of those glorious days, of which this winter has been so productive. The sky was soft and considerable activity on the wharf. The Chenoa from Wheeling, Hazel Dell: Gazel, Belmont and Potomac from Cincinnati and the Great West from St Louis were all unloading, and several boats were loading as rapidly as possible. This really gives quite a business aspect to the whole place and that with the pleasantness and comforts of the day was encouraging.

The Emma Graham was in yesterday from Zanesville. She left again yesterday about noon. Her usual hour is this afternoon at 4 o'clock, but she had a large party of excursionists on board and was afraid that she might be frozen in here of which there is about as much danger now as there would have been last July.

The Bay City Capt Hillier will leave for Louisville this morning without fail. She has a good load.....The Argonaut is getting ready to leave.....For Nashville the Hastings is the only boat that we know of now.....The magnificent Rowena Capt Dozier and Sky-Lark, Capt Johnson are nearly ready for their first trip to the Missouri.....The Anglo Saxon has ready to leave.

The Aurora is up for New Orleans. She is a fine new steamer and Capt Rhodes will do all that can be done to make his boat safe and pleasant.....The Neptune, Capt Fee, will probably leave for St Louis today.....The Alleghenian hauled into the landing this morning to commence loading.

Nashville—The Cumberland was falling on Thursday, Nashville for New Orleans, left Nashville on the 4th for St Louis—The Taylor and Rose arrived on Thursday and Friday. Departed—Artizonia, for Hannibal, St Nicholas, for New Orleans, and Lacrosse, for Pittsburgh.

St Louis in New Orleans. She is spoken of by one of the papers as the "fine St Louis passenger packet, well and favorably known to shippers and travellers as one of the very best packets running between New Orleans and St Louis."

The elegant Gladiator, that passed down last April, returned from St Louis yesterday. The Gladiator rounded the Falls on Friday, through the Indiana Chute, under the skillful guidance of Capt D M Dreppe, in forty-five minutes with only six inches water to spare. She picked up 450 tons of produce at Louisville and Jeffersonville, for Parkers burgh and Pittsburgh. Being loaded to the water-line she cleared for Pittsburgh last night.

MEMPHIS—A flatboat containing 600 bushels of coal, the property of Mr Linnes, was sunk at Memphis on Monday.

The Lightfoot and R. F. Sass cleared for Pittsburgh with full cargoes. We see the latter will have to lighten over the shoalest bars, owing to low water.

MISCELLANEOUS—We have conversed with several of the crew of the unfortunate Dexter, who arrived here yesterday on the Glendale. It will be remembered that she sank at 4 p. m. last Sunday. She struck the larboard after quarter of the Shotwell wreck, knocking a hole in her starboard bow. She was immediately run on the bar, 150 yards distant, where she sank in five minutes in 14 feet water—One hour after she struck, the starboard hog-chain, in breaking the hull in two. The sand had washed out from under her bow, breaking it down badly, and from appearances, the sand and water was fast cutting through her midships. Capt. Bailey and Civil Letpet, having procured a barge from Memphis, succeeded in saving all the passengers, baggage, furniture and fixtures. There were 12 passengers on board, all of whom, though badly frightened, were fortunately saved. We are informed that engineer Thos Girty, stood his watch manfully. He remained by the engines until the water reached his waist on the lower deck. He then went on the hurricane deck only on the upper deck.....A lot of steerage recovered from the wreck of the Sandy Perry, is at such attention on the levee, Saturday, at Lewis's & Bro's, corner of 3d st. Mr. Florence, of Pennsylvania: Yes clearly.

Mr. Washburne did not press his motion.

The main question was then ordered to be put by a vote of 113 yeas to 107 nays.

The result of this vote was watched by members and spectators with the greatest anxiety.

The next question to be taken was announced to be on the resolution of Mr. Harris, of Ill., to refer the Message to a special Committee of the Senate.

The question on the resolution of Mr. Harris, of Illinois, for a reference to a Special Committee has been taken and carried, yeas 114, nays 111.

Mr. Harris, of Illinois, moved to reconsider the vote and lay that motion on the table, which was carried by 115 against 111.

Mr. Hughes' resolution merely to refer the Kansas message to a Select Committee of 13, was amended by the adoption of Mr. Harris' substitute, given above, was agreed to by 115 against 111.

Mr. Keitt rose to a personal explanation, saying the House would remember that its proceedings during the session on Friday were brought in an unpleas-

W. E. CHILDS & CO'S
PATENT ELASTIC FIRE AND WATER-PROOF
CEMENT ROOFING.
PERRIN & JOHNSON, Proprietors,

ARE NOW PREPARED TO CONTRACT AND PUT ON AT THE SHORTEST NOTICE the above Elastic Fire and Water-Proof Cement Roofing. It being the only article yet invented that will successfully resist the action of the atmosphere in this climate.

IT IS PERFECTLY FIRE AND WATER-PROOF,

And to point of durability, we believe it is equal, if not superior, to any Metallic Roofing. We can put it on over Old Tin, Iron, Felt or Shingle Roofs, it making not once how flat or steep the roof may be. This Roofing is warranted to prove as above represented. We will put it on for and collect that can be used.

15. We invite all who are building, and also those who wish their Roofs Repaired, to call at our office, 137 Third Street, and examine samples and satisfy themselves in regard to the durability and practicability of this Roofing.

J. M. PERRIN, } PERRIN & JOHNSON,
S. A. JOHNSON, } Cor. & Roofers,
WM. JOHNSON, } No. 133 Third street, between Wood and Smithfield, Pittsburgh, Penna.

I have made a chemical examination of some specimens of W. E. CHILDS & CO'S ROOFING, left at my office, the results of which are as follows:

1st. The material is compounded sass to remain pliable for a great length of time.

2d. The consistency is not readily influenced by the temperature, consequently it would not be liable to melt and run off from a roof in Summer, or crack in Winter, in extremes of natural heat and cold would not injure it it from the action of the weather.

3d. It would not destroy the canvass, but on the contrary protect it from the action of the weather.

4th. It is Water Proof, and to a large extent Fire-Proof; that is, sparks and fire brands falling upon it could not ignite it. In my opinion such a roof will last for years if put on carefully and receiving prompt attention.

Respectfully, JOSEPH M. LOCKE, Chemist,
Laboratory No. 123 Walnut street, Cincinnati, Ohio.
