PITTSBURGH:
WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEB. 17, 1858.

THE CIRCUIT COURTS.—The telegraph informs us that Senator Seward has given notice of his intention to introduce a bill for the re-organization of the U. S. Supreme and Circuit Courts, so that the several states shall be represented by the Judges in those courts more nearly on the basis of their federal population, while the administration of justice shall be more speedy and efficient. The opinion of that statesman is, that slavery is entrenched more strongly in the Supreme Court than elsewhere in the government and against that he intends to marshal all the forces of freedom under the constitution.

The press has had but little to say, directly, concerning the Supreme Courts. With its more recent decisions the people think they see cause to complain, but upon the basis of its constitution, against which the bill of Mr. Seward is to be directed, there has been perhaps less written for the public eye than the importance of the subject deserves. That the distinguished Senator from New York has not moved in this matter simply for the sake of agitation will, we think, appear from a cursory review of the domains in which the various circuits bear and decide cases that come within their jurisdiction, and from which the Judges bring their own views to the Supreme bench to decide upon questions of national application.

As now arranged, Mr. Justice Clifford, of Maine, presides in the First Circuit. This consists of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The latest census reports are those of 1850 and from those we shall gather our figures. The white population of this circuit was in 1850, 2,028,694.

The second circuit over which Justice Nelson, of New York, presides, consists of Vermont, Connecticut and New York. The population of these states is 3,724,826.

The third circuit allotted to Justice Grier of Pennsylvania, consists of New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Population, 2,723,669.

The Fourth Circuit, that of Chief Justice Taney, consists of Delaware, Maryland and Virginia. Population 1,383,912.

The Fifth Circuit—Alabama, Louisiana and Kentucky—Justice Campbell, of Alabama, presides over. Population 1,443,418.

The Sixth Circuit—North and South Carolina and Georgia—is allotted to Justice Wayne, of Georgia. The population of these States, 1,349,163.

The Seventh Circuit, that of Justice M'Lean, of Ohio, consists of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan. Their population is 4,173,309.

The Eighth Circuit, that of Justice Catron, of Tennessee, consists of Tennessee and Missouri, with a population of 1,348,840.

Ninth Circuit—Mississippi and Arkansas—Justice Daniel, of Virginia, has a population of 457,007.

The States of Florida, Texas, Iowa and Wisconsin, have not yet been attached to any circuit, but their District Courts have the power of Circuit Courts, and the District Judges act as Circuit Judges.

Let us now recapitulate, that the whole may strike the eye comprehensively:

FREE STATE CIRCUITS.

		POPULATION.
1st.....	Justice Clifford,	2,028,694
2d.....	" Nelson,	3,724,826
3d.....	" Grier,	2,723,669
7th.....	" M'Lean,	4,173,309
Total.....		12,650,398

SLAVE STATE CIRCUITS.

4th.....	Justice Taney,	1,383,912
5th.....	" Campbell,	1,443,418
6th.....	" Wayne,	1,349,163
8th.....	" Catron,	1,348,840
9th.....	" Daniel,	457,907
Total.....		5,982,240

The first and second circuits, it will be seen, contain nearly the same population as the whole five Slave State circuits; while Judge M'Lean's circuit, alone, lacks but a fraction of being equal to them.

The ingenuity evinced in giving the slave States, with a free white population of 5,982,240, six judges, while the free States, with a free white population of 12,650,398, or more than double, have only four, may excite admiration, as a mere specimen of ingenuity, but is a fair subject of alarm when we consider the power which this Court, thus packed, is arrogating to itself. The South regards the President and Congress as mere outposts in its line of defence; the Supreme Court, as at present constituted, is its citadel. It has been constituted as it is with direct reference to such an emergency, and the South has not been content with securing to itself a mere majority of the judges; it has insisted and succeeded in insisting that the judges from the North shall be of the Southern stripe, ready to do the bidding of Slavery. Of all the nine judges on that bench, there is but one—JOHN MCLEAN—who has in him soul enough to lift up a voice in behalf of freedom; and as he is now an old man, it is not at all improbable that even his place will be filled with a judicial doughface before Buchanan's administration expires.

It is time, therefore, in view of the increasing wealth, population and importance of the Free States, and the probable triumph of the Free State sentiment in 1860, to be agitating either the destruction or the remodeling of this packed Court. Hence we are pleased to note the movement of Senator Seward. It will lead, we hope, to an agitation that will open the eyes of the people to the fact that this Court has become a mere political engine, to be used by unscrupulous demagogues for party ends.

THE TUNE CHANGED.—The Ohio State Journal, in an article on the recent Republican triumph in Congress, says that the Slave power destroyed the great Whig party, and has now done the same thing for the Democratic party. The Journal continues:—

"Nor do we hear any taunts now by the Douglasses and Coxes, and the editors of the Statesman about "bleeding Kansas," or "Freedom Shriekers." They "shriek" now as loud as we ever did over the wrongs of Kansas. They acknowledge the exact truth uttered so often by the Republicans respecting the villainies perpetrated by the "National Democracy" in that fair but ill-fated territory. The day of retribution has come. The blood of freemen has not fallen in the wilderness for nothing, nor will it remain there unavenged—the crimes and cruelties of slavery propagandists will not pass away without justice and judgement overtaking them. We have never doubted that the time would come when the Republican party would be vindicated by the people for the noble stand it had taken. The time has come, and some too when our opponents considered themselves the strongest, and the Republican party near to its death struggle. It should teach every man never to doubt the omnipotence of both public and private justice, or to question the correctness, in the end, of the verdict of the people.

THE Treasurer of the State of Ohio having discovered an over-issue in the circulating notes of the Canal Bank of Cleveland, he gave notice on Saturday that the work of redemption would be suspended. It will be necessary, we suppose, for parties who hold the notes, to present them before the 12th of March, in accordance with notice heretofore given. We have no particulars, with reference to this newly discovered fraud, but the effect of it will be to bring the notes of all the State Stock Banks into discredit, for the time being. This over-issue, is we suppose, another feature of the great Breslin frauds, so that the bottom of those villainous transactions has not yet been reached.—Cin. Gazette.

FACTORIES RESUMING WORK.—The Berkshire Woolen Company of Great Barrington, Mass., has recommenced running full time, the old prices of labor being reduced 20 per cent. The mills of the New England Worsted Company, at Saxonville, Mass., are now running full time. The Watuppa Mill, in Fall River, Mass., will go into full operation this week, on full time. It employs 175 operatives.

A WASHINGTON correspondent writes that from what he knows of Keitt, the South Carolina sprig of chivalry, who disgraced the Hall of Representatives the other day, he deems it entirely probable that he was "too drunk to know whether he was struck or not."

The Appointments.

Mr. Buchanan's appointments are like Angela' visits described by the poet, "few and far between." No miser was ever more chary of his hoarded gold than our chief magistrate is of the much sought for "loaves and fishes."—Occasionally one or two of the great army of expectants are relieved from a state of agonising suspense, by being made the recipients of government bounty, to the disappointment of a host of rivals, but the great famishing hosts, supplicate, and clamorous, as their interests may dictate, are still doomed to experience the unpleasant sensation of "hope deferred, which maketh the heart sick." Various motives may influence Mr. Buchanan in this course fraught as it is with cruelty to his own partizans. Possibly he may desire to retain these disinterested patriots, in his broken and diminishing ranks in order to keep up at least a show of support, before the avalanche of popular sentiment which he is compelled to encounter, at the very threshold of his administration. Even their questionable approval must be soothing to the great man's nerves. It must be quite a relief for him to turn from the contemplation of the "treason" of the Walkers, the Forneys, the Stantons, and hosts of other mal-contents, to the fawning sychophants, who,

"With bated breath and whisp'ring humbleness," cringe at his footstool, and laud his measures to the very skies!

A very pleasant incident, illustrative of Mr. Buchanan's magnimity of disposition, is related of him, since his election to the Presidency—It is well known that Lancaster county is literally overrun with office-seekers, many of whom have had implied promises of promotion from the President, but as yet only one—and that one said to be a near relative—has been gratified.—That fortunate individual now fills the snug office of Collector of the port of Philadelphia. A year having almost passed by, the expectants naturally became uneasy—so uneasy that they finally caused their complaints to be heard within the precincts of the White House. The word, however, was soon whispered to them confidentially, that the President hoped that his friends would not become too clamorous and thus attract attention to the fact that Lancaster county had been pretty well supplied already, having the President (himself!) and the Collector aforesaid (his relative!) This incident is so characteristic of Mr. Buchanan that those who know him will recognize the man in it at a single glance. And yet, on his word and promise thousands of individuals have been relying with the greatest confidence since the day he was inaugurated! Verily they are leaning on a broken reed.

MR. BUCHANAN, in his obstinate persistence in attempting to force the Lecompton Constitution on the protesting people of Kansas—in his defiance of the much vaunted doctrine of the pseudo democracy that "the majority shall rule"—in his surrendering his administration to the control of Stephens, of Georgia, Greene, of Missouri, and their associates amongst the free-eaters and disunionists of the extreme South—has not even the poor consolation of receiving a sectional support for the infamous schemes he is even now engaged in engineering through both branches of Congress. He cannot boast of having on his side a united South to sustain and comfort him in his monstrous usurpation of power. There is a conservative force in that region, powerful in talent and great in its numerical strength that not only refuses to respond to his anti-Republican doctrines, but it actively and openly condemns them. While the North, save here and there a few mercenary adherents, is against him in one solid and indivisable body, the South, which even endorsed the measures of the Pierce administration, will present, in his behalf, broken ranks and rebellious leaders. Virginia, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky, through their most eminent citizens, have expressed their hearty and unequivocal condemnation of this Lecompton swindle from beginning to end. The probabilities are that our present Chief Magistrate will be supported by a party contemptible in numbers and character when compared with that of his predecessor. The weight of infamy which will bear him down on his retiring from the position he now holds will have no parallel in the history of the career of our most unfortunate and unsuccessful public men. Compared with him, Tyler and Pierce will hold a high position in the recollections of the American people.

The following paragraph in the Louisville Journal, in relation to the action of the Legislature of Alabama, is very significant, and shows a want of concert among the politicians of a very ultra Southern State.

"No sooner is the Administration "floored" in the North than we hear of "a kick back" in a quarter whence blows where certainly not looked for. Accordingly we find the Legislature of Alabama, at its late session, adopting a series of resolutions, endorsing the Lecompton swindle, which were introduced into the lower branch of the Alabama Legislature some time back, and referred to the committee on federal relations, we see where reported back on Friday last with the opinion of the committee "that it was inexpedient to pass them." The House concurred in the report by a vote of 75 to 5. The ostensible explanation of this result is the short time remaining of the session and the pressure of local business, but there is a shocking suspicion that the Lecompton business was, after all, too high a juggle for even Alabama to struggle under.

The significance of this refusal to "endorse" will be all the more appreciated when it is added that this same Alabama Legislature, not long since, adopted a series of resolutions, looking strongly toward disunion, in case the Lecompton constitution was thrown overboard."

California, although nominally a free state, has always been regarded as being very much under the control of the South. But this Lecompton swindle was too much for the people of that distant State, and in no section of the Union is the course of the Buchanan Administration held in greater abhorrence than in that region. The great principle, upon which rest the most cherished institutions of the country has its votories and defenders in the land of gold. Under the caption of "California against the Lecompton Fraud," Forney's Press thus notices the position of that young commonwealth:

We elsewhere print a letter received by the last steamer from California, written by one of the most prominent Democrats in that State, who distinguished himself by his championship of James Buchanan for the Presidential nomination against the most of the parties now wielding the Presidential power in California. This letter speaks for itself. It would be strange, indeed, if California, admitted as she was into the Union, against the votes and voices of the very men now anxious to force a hated Constitution upon the people of Kansas, (and yet who opposed the admission of California in spite of the popular endorsement of her Constitution!) —it would be strange if California should not resist all who refused the same justice to Kansas which she obtained for herself. Oregan, another of the new States on the Pacific, will raise a mighty voice against this Lecompton fraud, and Washington will add her protest to a policy which would keep her from the family of States, as long as a factious minority could dispense the power of the Federal Government against her people. Among the thousand weak points in this Lecompton scheme, nothing is more certain to bring it, and all who support it, to speedy disgrace, than the fact that the multitudes in the new and embryo States or Territories, and all those interested in them in the old States, are inexorably, passionately, and uncompromisingly opposed to it; and do not desire to make it a precedent, to be returned like the poisoned chalice to their lips.

LATE FROM LAKE SUPERIOR.—We have Ontonagon dates to Feb. 4th. On the 3d fine weather since November changed into a severe snow storm from the North-east, and winter began in earnest. Jan. 25th, a sail boat left for Iron river, a point 14 miles from Ontonagon, with a fishing party.

The mining news is favorable. The shipments of copper from Portage Lake last year were 744 tons, equal to the united products of the two preciding years. A handsome increase in 1858 over 1857 is anticipated.

The Sharon Company shipped 13,610 gross tons of iron ore the past year, and the Cleveland Iron Company 13,200, making 26,810 tons, which is more than double the amount shipped the preceding year. The Marquette Journal estimates the shipment of ore the coming season at 75,000 tons at least.

The Iron Mountain Railroad is now in running order 17 miles from Marquette. It runs directly past the Pioneer Works, the Jackson Mountain, the Cleveland Mountain, and terminates at the Lake Superior Iron Mountain. Two Locomotives are on it, and the road will be fully equipped with suitable freighting cars in the spring.—Cleveland Leader.

THE "National Democracy" had a fine time at Toledo (Ohio) last Thursday night. A meeting of the party was called, under the auspices of Steedman, the hero of the "great moral victory" in the contest for the Public Printing, and of his friends, the Postmaster and Collector at Toledo, for the purpose of endorsing the Administration. After a protracted and exciting contest, in which the Buchanan men had every advantage, their preconcert and thorough organization the meeting repudiated Lecompton, and gave an emphatic endorsement to Douglas.

Mr. S. Nicholson, of Pittsburgh, also remarks that he has experienced much relief from its use for headache.

Dyspepsia, that most troublesome and painful of all diseases, it is now ascertained can be effectually cured.—Many have been the preparations gotten up to attain this object, but with one solitary exception. We believe all have failed of their purpose. Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the one referred to, however, has proved such an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the stomach, that no one at all conversant with its history will question its efficacy in cases of no most alarming character. Thousands, by the frequent use of the Bitters, have enjoyed an equal degree of speedy and effectual restoration by physical strength and tone of stomach should not fail or hesitate to use it.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.
PROF. O. J. WOOD—Gentlemen: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for your "Great Hair Restorative," that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the Gideons forwarded all being sold) while we might order a quantity from you. Every customer, and the approbation, and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our City, fully confirms us that it is a MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.
Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size, and one dozen $2 size; and believe us yours very respectfully,

HICKORY GROVE, St. Charles Co., Mo., Nov. 19, 1856.
PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to report it. Our little son's head for some time was entirely destitute of hair, and was becoming scurfy, and covered with sores. We procured a bottle of your Restorative, and before it was used, the hair commenced coming out thickly, came off in consequence, when it soon began growing like a fine down. The hair is now of a beautiful color, and entirely free from scurf. We feel thankful to you for your valuable discovery, and cheerfully recommend it to all our friends, as we believe it to be the best article in use. Our little son's head is now entirely covered with a fine growth of hair, and we feel confident that if any one will use it according to directions, it will restore the hair to its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my care was one of the worst kind. Yours respectfully,
DANIEL L. MURPHY.

Hoca's Remedy for Pulmonary and Tubercular Consumption.
HAVING been appointed sole Agent for the sale of DOMINGO HOCA'S celebrated CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, the public will soon be put in possession of one of the most extraordinary remedies ever discovered for this fatal disease.
I have the more readily undertaken the agency, from the fact of its extreme simplicity—being an entire gift of agency from the ocean of which it is seriously miraculous, and having none of those attributes which make up the numerous compounds now in general use.
With the utmost confidence in the success of this remedy, which has heretofore been used in private practice with great success, as is shown by numerous letters and certificates, is now offered to the public.
A pamphlet, containing directions, letters from distinguished, individuals, and documentary evidence from the physicians of the hospital of Havana, Island of Cuba, &c., will accompany the remedy.
These speak volumes in its praise, and publicity is only required to render it as popular as it is beneficial. Address

Sole Agent for the United States,

The Best Fuel to use this Weather is CANNEL COAL.
A GOOD SIZED LUMP LAID ON THE Grate will retain fire for 48 hours, and at any time a little fresh fuel is wanted, a few blows of the poker and presto—it bursts out into a brilliant flame, dispensing light and heat through all the room.
