PITTSBURGH: WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 17, 1858.

way. A letter from that place gives us the particulars. We need give only an extract or two: "The voting commenced about 10 o'clock and Benedict Arnold? OUTHS.

"The voting commenced about 10 o'clock and Benedict Arnold" OUTIS. Benedict Arnold? OUTIS. Goodgns, a consistent apostle of the news Los comption faith, as he deposited his vote, suddenly with the heck-list and tore it in pieces? The "Dimocrats" immediately followed up this argue ment with bricks, sticks of wood, hege of settles, and whatever else offered itself to their fancies.

"Dimocraty" immediately followed up this argue" his votes in Congress we should say that he was " ment with bricks, sticks of wood, legs of setters, and whatver else offered itself to their fancies. One of the ballot-bozes was thrown out of the window and saved. The moderator and clearly that he was " made their escape in the same way, and were followed by the Eelectmen. The City Marshal and some of his force were at dinner, and thus the ballot-boz was left at the mercy of a brutal mbb, incited and infraited by men well known the ballot-box was left at the mercy of a brutal mbb, incited and infraited by men well known the ballot box was left at the mercy of a brutal mamong us as notorious in all that is debasing and corrupting to humanity, and others who on this day showed to what despitable means. The drow was very badly beaten, and also Mr. Wheeler, of the police. George H. Hoyt, a lame man, was knocked down and kicked. The troables did not end with election day... The Manchester Mirror says that a few foreign-ers in that city, who saw fit to vote the Republi-can ticket, have been in consequence set upon by the mass of the foreign population. The houses of M. F. Shehan and J. Bell were entered at night by the locofoco desperadoes, and thesy men found safety only in fight. The Mayor its force in the disturbed quarters of the city. A large meeting of the "great democrary" was held to encournes these mutinous proceedings.

tics force in the disturbed quarters of the city. A large meeting of the "great democracy" was held to encourage these motinous proceedings, but it ought, in justice, to be added that the desent men jn the party frowned upon it and many of them expressed their disgust at these outrarges in the most unqualified terms. outrages in the most unqualified terms.

THE REVIVAL OF THE SLAVE TRADE. - The and careful friends of the Administration cou THE REVIVAL OF THE SLAVE TRADE.—The Union of this city, following the lead of the Buchanan papers generally, affected to regard the article we copied from the N. O. Delta about a revival of the Slave Trade, as a hoax, and got up a forced laugh over our greenness in being taken in by such a fabrication. It turns out, however, as we expected, that the article was not nowever, as we expected, that the article was not taken in by such a fabrication. It turns out, however, as we expected, that the article was not a hoar, but precisely what it purported to be. The N. O. Bulletin, a staid, conservative paper, treats the subject with a real and unaffected con-cern. It opposes a revival of the slave trade, but looks with serious apprehension upon the efforts making in its favor. It says: efforts making in its favor. It says :
