The official returns, of course, indi-cate in no manner the political sentiment of I have made a chemical examination of some specimens of W. E. CHILDS & COS ROOFING, left at my office, the reits of which are as follows:

18. The materialis compounded so as to remain pliable for a greatlength of time.

24. The constructy is not readily inflaenced by the temperature; consequently it would not be liable to melt and ren from a roof in Summer, or cruck in Winter, i. e. extremes of natural heat and cold would not injure it.

25. The composition is not said but slightly alkaline. It would not destroy the carrass, but on the contrary protect from the action of the weather.

4th. It is Water Proof, and to a large extent Fire-Proof; that is, sparks and fire brands falling upon it could not frame it. In my opinion such a roof will last for years liput on carefully and receiving prompt attention.
