PITTSBURGH:
SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 27, 1858.

PAPAL MEXICO.—It was the Roman Catholic Church in Mexico, that broke down the only really free government that in the mutation of affairs in that unhappy country has ever been established there. We refer to the administration for government of Comonfort. By the course which his views of duty lead him to adopt, and we believe they were righteous views, he brought down upon his head the concentrated power of the whole priesthood of Mexico. He determined and effected that ecclesiastics should be tried in the same courts and be subjected to the same laws as laymen, and this arrayed against him millions of property, an interest as indivisible as that of the slaveholders of the South. It proved too much for him: Comonfort is now an exile.

The present President, Zuloaga, has laid himself down at the feet of the Pope. He is determined to bow before the power which crushed his predecessor. He has written a letter, all servility, to PIO NONO, and expresses the hope that the laws adopted against the property and privileges of the church will not lead his Holiness to believe that there are many enemies to the church in Mexico, and assures him that the entire nation is devoted to the Holy Father and the church, and that there are among the people no unbelievers or hardened infidels.

The President farther assures the Holy See that the restoration of the privileges of the church, and the re-establishment of harmony between the church and the government, have "been received with the most enthusiastic and truly national acclamations of our population." Zuloaga concludes his letter in the following terms:

"May your Holiness deign to bless the people, government and authorities of the republic, in order that unions may be re-established and peace flourish under the holy influence of religion.

"I pray, finally, your Holiness to receive the assurance of the profound veneration with which I am your Holiness' most devoted son."

Where there are such churls in power, the Romish Church can find no great opposition to the upbuilding of her power upon the ruins of popular liberty, where it is always most stable.

THE STUDY OF THE MODERN LANGUAGES.—It has seemed to us frequently, as we have considered the large proportion of time which is spent in our colleges and universities in teaching and learning the dead languages, that it would be better if more of it were spent in acquiring a knowledge of the modern languages. We do not undervalue the advantages of mental discipline implied in a thorough mastery of Greek and Latin, nor would we decry the importance of a thorough appreciation of the force and power of our own language, derived from an intimate acquaintance with the original tongues. The great mass of men, however, do not really need, either for use or ornament, an introduction to the treatises of Cicero or the orations of Demosthenes. Even if men were well acquainted with the languages which these orators used, that acquaintance would lay open a comparatively narrow field of literature. The study of our own tongue is of the first importance. One frequently finds young men who can conjugate Greek verbs and Latin nouns with the greatest facility, who are yet unable to "speak the English language with propriety."

Next to this, in importance, we would place the French and German. They are becoming useful vehicles of thought with us, as our republic extends and gathers new nations into the fold of the States. They introduce us to the best thought of the age, and open before the scholar a wide range of history, poetry and philosophy. It is moreover notorious that Americans in Europe are at the mercy of every understrapper who can play upon their ignorance, even in the smallest matters which pertain to the traveller's comfort. We think our University would do a great service to the community by so arranging its course of study as that the attention of young men may be directed to a careful study of the living languages of Europe. Open to them the treasures of Schiller and of Goethe, and introduce them to the beauties and the truths of Cousin, Guizot and Thiers. Place in their hands the key to success and advantage in foreign travel, so that a tour in Europe may have some more praiseworthy effect than the simple development of a ridiculous desire to imitate foreigners in what is disagreeable, without gaining from them any really worthy thought or refined accomplishment.

THE STATE OF SLAVERY.—The New Orleans Bee of the 16th inst., speaks as follows of the recent efforts in Louisiana to open the slave trade:

"The bill authorizing the importation into Louisiana of twenty-five hundred Africans, after passing the House with little or no opposition, has been rejected in the Senate, at the close of a most violent and exciting debate, by a majority of two."

It has been very earnestly denied by the Slavery organs in this quarter, that any movement of this sort has been seriously attempted. Indeed the previous statements of the New Orleans Delta on this subject have been boldly declared to be a hoax. The preceding statement of the Bee shows not only the truth of the allegation, but that the friends of the measure came very near succeeding at the very first suggestion of the project. The resolutions adopted at the recent Anti-Buchanan meeting, in this city, the other night, in opposition to this traffic, were not a bit too soon. There is a good deal of reason to believe that the breaking down of the laws of 1808 or the re-opening of this traffic under some assumed name, is a part of the programme of the President. As Col. Forney has declared, it is to be made the next test of Democracy, and all those who are now speaking, wishing and voting for the success of the Lecompton swindle will be among the first to shout amen to Mr. Buchanan's recommendation as soon as it shall be made.

GREENE COUNTY.—We are rejoiced to see by the Waynesburgh Messenger that the slaves of black locofocoism in Greene county who tried to pack a convention there last week to get Lecompton endorsed, failed most signally. Henry Clay Deane, formerly chaplain of the U. S. Senate, was present there, and poured such hot shot into the administration servitors that they were glad to beat a retreat. Deane is now in Fayette county, and intends to get up an Anti-Swindle meeting in some part of that county soon, unless Mr. Dawson may get the use of the Administration guillotine to frighten him into the ranks again in some way.

THE Harrisburgh Telegraph counts up the list of the "rewarded." Mr. Abl gets a chance to trade in some of his brethren. He has a contract to supply mules for the army. Mr. Jamison, of Indiana county, has also an interest in the trade. Mr. White, of Cambria, gets a contract to supply wagons, Mr. Arnold Plumer has a son made receiver of public monies at Minnesota, and Mr. Hopkins a son appointed in a land office in Kansas. These were Lecompton members of the Harrisburgh Convention.

SENATOR ANDREW JOHNSON, of Tennessee, who has spent most of his life working as a tailor by the side of nigger "joura," in a recent speech in the Senate said: "I do not care whether you call it slavery or servitude, the man who has menial offices to perform is the slave or the servant, I care not whether he is white or black. Servitude or slavery grows out of the organic structure of man."

This man is not to be despised because he labored, but because he now turns up his nose at those who labor.

WE see "from the papers" that that old champion of freedom, the Mentor of the free soil movement, and the respected and worthy son of Pennsylvania, Hon. J. R. Giddings, has a book in press entitled "The Exiles of Florida." It is said to be written in an eloquent and attractive style, and it is believed that it will enhance the already brilliant reputation of that worthy and self-sacrificing man.

MEXICAN PROTECTORATE.—The New Orleans Delta (a democratic filibuster,) attributes the idea of a Mexican protectorate to our present national administration. That journal says:

"Ever since its developement there has been a most prodigious cackling among the Administration organs. Long leaders, and longer letters to the President to be the residuary executor of those benignant offices supposed to be involved in the exercise of a protectorate. We are inclined to believe, indeed, that this idea of a Mexican protectorate has, to some extent, an origin connected with the personal vanity of the President. Ever since the Indian braves addressed him in such reverential terms as their grandfather, he has no doubt cherished the idea of extending his patriarchal authority over more remote countries and more numerous communities. It is probably to this chance expression of reverence from an Indian warrior that the grand idea of a Mexican protectorate took its rise, if it was not exogitated by the laborious mental processes which characterize the Cabinet councils and counsels."

It is evident that the Delta has not a very exalted opinion of the statesmanship of our Chief Magistrate. It has probably not forgotten the scurvy trick which Mr. BUCHANAN played off on its friend Walker—first encouraging his expedition to Nicaragua, and then throwing cold water on the whole affair. The Delta says that if Mr. B. wants an idea whose magnitude will not oppress him, it can furnish him one without charge. Let him abandon the Mexican protectorate scheme as entirely too large for his abilities, and turn his attention towards Hayti. That is the filibuster organ's weak point—it has its designs steadily fixed against the colored population. The burden of its song are slave-trade and piracy—Hayti and Africa—with a variation sometimes in favor of Walker and Nicaragua.—Even the Delta has a mission.

LAKE STEAMERS.—COLLINGWOOD ROUTE.—The navigation of the upper Lakes is about to open; the splendid steamer Lady Elgin is advertised to leave Chicago for the Superior country about the 5th of April, touching at all the mines, and running regularly in that trade during the season. It is the intention of the proprietors to place other vessels on this line, should the trade require more than the lady Elgin. Chicago enjoys a large share of the trade from the copper region, and the natural increase of the trade and travel on this route demands a corresponding increase of tonnage. It is the intention of the proprietors of the Chicago Superior line to keep on first-class steamers sufficient to meet these requirements.

The great Collingwood Line, running tri-weekly from Chicago to Collingwood, in connection with the Canadian Grand Trunk Railroad, touching at Mackinaw and all other ports on the route, is also organized, and one of the five first-class propellers comprising this line is advertised to leave Chicago about the first of May. These vessels are all fitted up with special regard to the comfort and convenience of passengers, and the speedy transmission of freight, and will form a regular tri weekly line from the terminus of the Grand Trunk Road to Chicago, during the season. These lines are owned by Messrs. A. T. Spencer, G. S. Hubbard, of Chicago, and others.

PERSONAL.—A little item appeared in one of the Philadelphia papers, on Thursday, stating that a fisticuff occurred in the street there, between a couple of the "dimocracy." We heard incidentally yesterday that the persons engaged were Harry Magraw, State Treasurer, and Rice, of the Pennsylvanian, and that Rice caught a terrible "belting." Rice personified Mr. Buchanan's administration, and Harry represented Packer's. This was, therefore, a collision between State and Federal authority. Ominous!

LECOMPTON ITEMS.—Mr. Horace F. Clarke, speech fully committed him against Lecompton, while reserving a place of retreat which will hardly be furnished by the Administration side.

The President's friends were exulting to-day at the possible division among the Opposition, and claiming a certainty of success.

Mr. Pendleton gave assurances this morning which ought to place his vote beyond doubt. Mr. English's position is a matter of speculation even among his own friends, notwithstanding his recent declarations.

Allowing for these possible defections, there will still be votes enough to carry Mr. Crittenden's substitute, if the Republicans are entirely united.

One of the best of the countless Kansas speeches in the House was made to-day by Frank Blair of Missouri.

Mr. Harris will be removed to Judge Douglas's house to-morrow, as it is more comfortable than his lodgings. He is far gone in consumption. His absence will be a serious loss to the Lecompton debate, but his vote will not be lost, for he means to be carried to the House when the vote is taken, however ill he may be.—N. Y. Tribune.

"ION," of the Baltimore Sun, thus airs his expectations:

The Kansas question is not now of a merely sectional character, but it involves a struggle between the administration on one side and the black republicans, in coalition with Democrats and anti-Lecompton democrats, on the other. The struggle is for the possession of the federal government for the next presidential term. If the Kansas bill be beaten in the House the black republicans will be triumphant in the country at the next elections for Congress, and possibly at the next presidential election. On the other hand, the success of the administration in carrying this measure will disorganize the league and completely destroy the republican party.

What a wise man "Ion" continues to be!

In the course of the debate in the Senate, Mr. Iverson said that Calhoun had returned the Free State Legislature on the advice of Southern gentlemen—not upon the returns. Judge Wade, in his quiet way, rose to check this false and inquired if he understood rightly, and who the parties were. Iverson, for the first time, discovered his blunder and attempted to escape from it by denying the right of interrogation. The point stuck in Mason, however, for half an hour after he rose to say that if any such advice had been given, he was not aware of it. Mr. Iverson did not tell the whole story. He forgot to mention that this movement had been one of anxious meditation, and that the suppression of the result on State officers, by which the power of the Legislature could be restrained, was an important part of the programme. It is true that Davis, Toombs, Iverson himself, Sebastian and others, knew a month ago, because the Secretary of the Interior laid the conclusive evidence before them, that the Free State majority must be declared, or another monstrous fraud be added to the many which disgrace the whole history of events in Kansas. All Calhoun's unscrupulous ingenuity has been exercised since then to impair the effect of that necessary declaration, and the result is now before the public. —Washington Corres.

EXTENT AND POPULATION OF MEXICO.—The population of Mexico at the present time is nearly 8,000,000, and the extent of territory is about a million square miles. About one-sixth part of the population is of European extraction. Three parts of the population consist of the pure aboriginal Indian races; and the two remaining parts consist of a mixed race of European, Indian, and African blood. The number, however, of the latter mixture is very small.

The State of Sonora, which, it has been conjectured, the Mormons would next locate in, and which it is supposed may also, before many years, be annexed to the United States, contains 147,133 inhabitants, and about 120,000 square miles, being the largest State in extent of territory in Mexico. The territory of Lower California, which will also probably at no distant day be settled from the United States, has only a population of 12,000, and is about 75,000 square miles. The State of Chihuahua, which will at no distant day be added to the territory of New Mexico, contains a population of 147,600, and about 100,000 square miles.

The annual revenue of Mexico is about $16,000,000, and the expenditures about $25,000,000. The national debt is $117,000,000, of which $62,000,000 is owed at home, $55,000,000, abroad.

BLOODY AFFRAY IN A COURT ROOM.—A few days since a case was being argued in the Probate Court, at Greensboro, Miss.; in the course of which Mr. Brantley, one of the lawyers engaged, denounced Messrs. Nowland and Davis, the opposing counsel, as "— rascals," who would steal, &c. An angry altercation ensued, when Brantley drew a pistol and presented it at Nowland, who thereupon stabbed him with a knife, inflicting a very dangerous wound. Next morning Nowland was shot down by a brother of Brantley, and very dangerously hurt. The Paulding (Miss.) Clarion relates the foregoing occurrences.

FATHER SAWYER, of Bangor, now in his one hundred and third year, is unwell, and but slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Rheumatism.—A CASE OF TEXAS MOSTUS STANDING CURED.—George W. Henderson, of Pittsburgh, says:

"After suffering for three months with Rheumatism, a part of the time so severely as to confine me to my bed, I have been entirely cured by using Boerhave's Holland Bitters. I have had one attack since, but found almost instantaneous relief in the same medicine. It is in my opinion, a sure remedy for Rheumatism."

CAUTION.—Be careful to ask for Boerhave's Holland Bitters. The great popularity of this medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing.
