as lirely as the pending one on Kamsas. Then there is the revival of the Slave trade, the in-crease of the army, the re-organization of the Supreme Court, to say nothing of the Tariff and its kindred issues. Either of these questions will suffice for a decided stand against the most corrupt administration that ever existed in this country; and if the opposition have a majority in the next Congress, as there is no doubt they will, the impeachment and trial of the President may be thrown in by way of variety and to afford a little amusement and relaxation from the graver excitements. In any event, the corruption, extravagance and imbedity of this administration will at any time farmish sufficient ground to maintain a successful opposition upon; and one of our sincerest wishes is that we may be spared to to see the vengeance the people will take out in 1660 afford a more and make the United States a by-word among the nations of the earth.
