hated and tyrannical laws are sought to be imposed on an unwilling and remonstrating people; hireling troops are quartered in their midst, wicked tests are proposed and base bribes offered to the servants of the people to seduce them from the plain path of duty. Yet, the minions of power, the Macsycophants and the Uriah Heeps hang around their "gracious Soveraign" to cheer him on in the way to ruin, while the people in disgust, if not almost in despair, are throwing down the gage of defiance to an administration that has proved itself false to all promises, and in sheer hatred to its enemies has betrayed all its honest friends. The above we clip from the Union of this city, where it finds a place together with some low and scarrilous strictures of the New York Day Book. We have no right to interrogate our co-temporary, the only paper in this city which supports the Buchanan Administration, but if the editor of that paper has no objections we would like to have him say whether or not the above expresses his views? We have a right to infer that it does as it appears in the editorial columns of the Union, but as it is without editorial columns of the Union, but as it is without editorial columns of the Union, but as it is without editorial columns of the Union, but as it is without editorial columns of the Union.
