PITTSBURGH:

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 11, 1858.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

City and News Items.

THE VANDERKIST AFFAIR.—On an investigation yesterday before the Mayor, as to the matter of the death of Charles Vanderkist who was drowned off the steamer Belmont, Mr. S. Peppard, clerk of this steamer, made the following statement:

"In justice to the officers of the steamer Belmont, I herewith annex a statement is regard to Chas. Vanderkist, whose remains were found in the Ohio river near New Cumberland. Deceased left Pittsburgh Dec. 17th, 1857, on board steamer Belmont bound for Cincinnati, she reached New Cumberland about 11 o'clock same night, where she came to alongside steamer Eunice. Vanderkist asked me how long the boat would remain. I answered, "all night." We left on the morning of the 18th about daylight. When we arrived at Steubenville, I remarked to Mr. Forsyth, second clerk, that the man who was so noisy and drunk aboard the boat was missing. I thought nothing more about him, supposing he had been left on board steamer Eunice. The Belmont went on to Louisville and returned to this city, when I heard an old lady enquiring for her son. I remarked I did not know anything about him, but there was a traveling bag or satchel in the office, which was shown to her, and claimed by her as belonging to her missing son. Anything further in regard to this matter deponent knoweth not.

Signed, S. PEPPARD, Clerk.

To the same tenor is the statement of Mr. Forsyth, 2d clerk.

Those statements ought to put all these rumors at rest forever in regard to this matter. Vanderkist's name has become a standing word in our papers, and this accident has been used to the prejudice of the Belmont. Vanderkist being the worse for liquor, fell into the river in the night and was drowned, as unfortunately, many another man had done. That is the end of the matter. Vanderkist was buried, exhumed, and again buried, three times. Now may he rest for ever in peace.

NEWSPAPERS.—Our accommodating and enterprising contemporary the Pittsburgh Daily Dispatch, has donned a new suit, and comes out as bright as a pin. Success to it say we.

We learn from the Methodists Christian Advocate, the organ in this part, of that body of Christians, (printed on the press of The Gazette) that its present issue about 8,000 weekly, or, to be precise, 7,877; that its financial condition is very encouraging, and that it has before it a new and widening sphere of usefulness. At the recent conference in Cambridge, O., of which we gave a full report, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That Dr. Baird having succeeded admirably in his efforts to make the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate what it should be—an excellent family and religious journal—we will use our best efforts to give it the widest circulation practicable.

Resolved, That Rev Dr. I. N. Baird be and is hereby appointed a committee of conference to correspond with sister conferences, with a view to concert of action on the subject of Slavery, at our approaching General Conference.

We also gather from the columns of our neighbor the following statistics of the Pittsburgh Conference: "The past year has been one of glorious success to the Methodist Episcopal Church of the Pittsburgh Conference. The net increase in the membership of the church is 6,767; increase in contributions to the missionary cause, $2,601.90—making in all this year for this cause, $11,203.78. Number in Sunday school, 5,041; increase of collections for conference claimants, $375.61.

THE Pittsburgh Post has an article upon the assessment for paving streets, under the late law. In this assessment, the new feature is presented of a tax upon church property. We give below the amounts assessed upon the several churches in this city:

The amount assessed upon School Houses in the city is $1683.06, the lowest being $52.12 for the Ninth and the highest $466.93 for the Second Ward. The First Ward School House pays $241.49, the Third $380.46, the Fourth $152.26, and all the others less than $100 each. The assessments on Engine Houses in the aggregate reach $178.27.

E. J. ALLEN.—Mr. E. J. Allen, a young gentleman well-known and held in high esteem when he lived in this city, was recently the cause of a painful death to a man who was employed on an aqueduct, in Georgetown, D. C., the work on which Mr. Allen is overseeing. The following facts we clip from the Dispatch:

The firm which is building the aqueduct had in their employ about one hundred and twenty men, mainly Irishmen, and some of them, as usual, very turbulent, troublesome and intemperate characters. Occasional difficulties were experienced, when it was found necessary to discharge and settle with those who proved unmanageable, no very serious trouble occurred till Wednesday morning last, when Thomas Crotty, who had been discharged for misconduct, came into the office of the firm intoxicated, and used insulting and threatening language to Mr. E. J. Allen, who ordered him out, when a difficulty followed, and Crotty, a very large and powerful man, seized Mr. Allen, who, knowing his dangerous character, turned round and drew a revolver from beneath the pillow of a bed in the office, which Crotty also grappled, and the weapon went off in the struggle, the ball penetrating Crotty's temple, causing his death in a very short time. The Coroner's jury at once gave a verdict of accidental death. Mr. Allen was placed under bonds to answer any charge that might be made against him in the matter, although none was made.

THE HISTORICAL MAGAZINE.—This valuable monthly publication has become a fixed fact—It has now reached its 5th number of the second volume and it grows better as it grows older. It is published by Benj. Richardson, at 348 Broadway, New York, and 26 Bromfield st., Boston. It is the organ of the Historical Societies of the United States, reporting from month to month the proceedings of their various meetings. Besides these it has a vast number of Suggestions, Notes and Quiries, etc., each one of which brings out some new fact or speculation worthy of recollection. It gathers up the loose threads of past events and in the hands of the historian there will in time be enough to weave into the web of history. J. S. Davison, Market street, keeps this monthly for sale, and those who buy (20 cents a number or $2,00 per annum) will get their money's worth.

Hovey's Magazine of Horticulture is on our table for May.

CAST-STEEL SCYTHES.—We have examined one of J. M. Robinson's Patent Solid Cast-Steel Scythes, manufactured by Messrs. Postley & Nelson, 17 Market street. It is a neat, smooth, well-shaped scythe, made of solid cast-steel, well tempered; it will give a good edge until worn to the back, is easier kept in order than the ordinary welded scythe, and is not liable to bend or break, by any ordinary treatment. We saw one of these scythes subjected to a severe test on the anvil; it was only after having been bent and rebent some fifteen times that it was cracked. We also read a letter from a party who had used one of them in grass for a season, and had tried it in a patch of three years' old briars; it stood the test well and was uninjured. We therefore recommend an examination and a trial of this new scythe.

MRS. ANN M'CAULEY, of the First Ward, made a complaint before the Mayor yesterday against the Reams' for keeping a voracious sow. One of these animals attacked Mrs. M'Cauley's little boy, aged about five years, and tore the flesh off his leg in a frightful manner. If some persons had not chanced to see the animal at the moment of this depredation, the boy would have been killed in a very few minutes.

DR. PARRISH'S EXHIBITION.—We may set out with the declaration that if we had all the space in our paper at the late hour of the night in which this is written, before us, we could not express a tithe of the gratification and delight we enjoyed last evening at Masonic Hall, were we to fill the whole space supposed. Words will fail to convey an adequate idea of what Dr. Parrish has done for these five boys, and we are exceedingly mortified to find that his efforts do not appear to be much appreciated, if we may judge from the fact that only some hundred persons were present last evening.

Let us strive to sketch what we saw last night. There are five boys. The first is from Philadelphia, was taken to this school of the Dr's in Germantown, and was unable to articulate a word, although ten or twelve years old—The second boy was from Hollidaysburg: when taken to the Training School he had merely an animal existence; his lethargy was wonderful: he ate and slept, and there was the history of his life. The third is the son of a Moravian Missionary, the boy being now nineteen years of age, and up to the time when Dr. P. took him in hand he was unable to speak. The fourth was a victim of St. Vitus' dance and unable to control himself—a mere wreck. The fifth was a sprite and is yet as playful and loving as a little kitten. He was, however, hopelessly idiotic.

Imagine these five boys taken from the very lowest point of imbecility, where pity becomes disgust as one beholds them, and in the course of a few years made objects to love, to admire, to delight in. They sang to us in concert a song of welcome. Their voices were not as sweet as angels', but thank God they shall become so in His own good time. They took in their hands each a pair of heavy wooden dumb bells; their teacher pointed to a chart of characters, and Mrs. Welch, the honored matron of the school, played upon the melodeon a pleasant air. Would any one believe it? those poor children beat time with the dumb bells, going through with the most difficult and astonishing exercises in a manner that so delighted the small audience present, that they could not restrain their feelings. Those poor, dear little fellows, so nest in their dress, so cheerful, so active, so exact, so skilful with their dumb bells as to make them musical, were but idiots, blank, babbling idiots, a few years ago. Thank God for Dr Parrish and his assistants, and the school for idiotic children! Then these little fellows gave us a lesson in Geography: told us about the States, about their own State, about the ocean, etc. We have no place to say half we want to to-night. Dr. Parrish is to exhibit at Dr. Rodgers' church in Allegheny, this evening, at New Brighton on Wednesday, and in this city again on THURSDAY evening.

If all our readers could have heard the expressions of delight that greeted that performance last evening, they would not fail to be there on Thursday evening. We trust that the Mayor will see to have a police officer at the meeting to put into the lock-up about a dozen young ruffians who hang around and disturb meetings as they did last evening.

MEETING AT THE SECOND CHURCH.—A congregational meeting, to settle matters concerning with the sale of the lot on which the Second Church stands, and finally determine upon the site for the new church, was held last evening. A resolution was adopted, instructing the Trustees to proceed at once to close the sale of the old property, and to purchase as a site for the new church the lot on the corner of Irwin and Penn streets. The last service in the old church edifice will be preached next Sunday, when Dr. Lord will preach a historical sermon appropriate to the occasion, to be a sort of historical sketch of the church since its formation, and of its various places of worship heretofore. It is the design, as we learn, to proceed as soon as may be, to the demolition of the present edifice, and to the erection of the new.

THE ORPHAN'S FAIR SCHOOL.—By reference to another column, it will be seen that the Annual Fair for the benefit of this noble charity, commences this afternoon and will be continued this evening and to-morrow in City Hall, over the Market House. We trust that the generous ladies who have charge of the matter have received many handsome donations for their tables from other places in the East and North, and now nothing is needed but a large crowd to sympathize with and second their most passionate efforts. We confidently hope that the Fair will be a complete success and enable the managers to give a favorable answer to the many applications for admission which have recently been received.

POLICE ITEMS.—Alderman Donaldson, yesterday, committed a new married T. Melvin, charged with obtaining goods from T. M Perkins to the amount of $150, by false representations.

Justice Sampson, of Manchester, committed Wm. Reece for surety of the peace, on oath of Mary, his wife.

Justice Carnahan, of Temperanceville, committed a colored man named Joseph S James, charged with assault and battery with intent to commit an outrage, on child of Sarah Parker.

Peter Ackerman kicked up a row in Pehl's Lager Beer Saloon on Wood street, between 6th street, and the Diamond.

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW for April has been received, and is for sale by Hunt & Miner The first article on the Religion of Positivism, is absolutely disgusting The first half of it is de signed as an advocacy of the godless religion of Positivism, while the other half pretends to condemn it, but condemns Christianity along with it and is unblushing in its support of Infidelity The same Atheistic spirit runs through the articles on Shelley, and China, and we regard it as a very dangerous work, which no man can safely read to his family, or permit his family to read.

A NEW ENTERPRIZE.—Our late agent at Worcester, O., Mr. J. Schnickers, has embarked largely in the Book trade; and in order to push his literary enterprize, offers some five hundred dollar's worth of watches, jewelry, &c., on the "gift" principle, to purchasers of books. Julius has the talent and energy, and will certainly succeed in whatever he undertakes. He offers to the good people of Wooster, and the "country round about," a good opportunity of standard and miscellaneous books, at fair prices, and "throws in" the jewelry and watches. Call and purchase a book, and see what follows.

GRAND CONCERT.—We were agreeably surprised by the reading of a dispatch from Mr. Gran to Mr. Mellor, yesterday, which informs us that Messrs. Thalberg and Vieuxtemps, and Mme. d'Angri and Juliana May, will give one grand Concert in this city, on Thursday evening, the 20th inst., in City Hall. Our citizens will be gratified to hear that we are again to have such distinguished artists. Thalberg & Vieuxtemps would alone fill City Hall; but with the additional attraction of d'Angri and Juliana May, we anticipate that every available seat will be taken up.

ELEGANT FURNITURE AT AUCTION.—This morning at 10 o'clock, on the second floor of Davis' Auction Rooms, Fifth street, will occur the great event of the season in the way of elegant furniture. It is the sale, by order of administrators, of a large variety of splendid new furniture, which was specially made to order in our city for a new private residence abroad, but which the uncertain tenure of life has now placed under the auction hammer. The sale is by printed catalogue which will facilitate and make it agreeable for the attendance of the ladies.

REAL ESTATE AND STOCKS AT AUCTION.—This evening, at eight o'clock, Mr. Davis will sell in his second floor sales room, Fifth street, by order of Executors, real estate and ground rent of Wm. Arthurs, deceased. Also, by order of Orphans Court, the valuable real estate of the Rev. John Tassey, deceased. At the same time a list of valuable stocks. The executors and administrators have ordered that the above sales shall be positive and without reserve.

WE learn from the Beaver Star that the enterprising proprietors of the Rochester Oil Factory, Messrs. Cady, Thumm & Co., are already engaged in re-building their factory and repairing the losses they recently met with in the destruction of their establishment by fire They were extensively engaged in the manufacture of the celebrated "Kerosene Oil," and will soon be ready to resume operations.

BISHOP SIMPSON'S HEALTH.—As numerous inquiries are made of us as to the state of Bishop Simpson's health and prospects of recovery, we are allowed to say that he is very much improved, and in the course of a month or so, it is thought by Dr. M'Cook, his physician, he will be able to be abroad. He must, however, for a considerable time, "hasten slowly" if he would secure a perfect recovery.—Meth. Adv.

DISTRICT COURT.—The case of the Bluff Mining Co. vs. J. W. Woodwell, was closed yesterday. The Court instructed the jury that taking all the defendant's evidence to be true in all respects, he had not made a case. Verdict rendered for plaintiff in the sum of $300.

The case of Hood vs. Hood, is now on trial.

DR. PARRISH will give an exhibition on this evening in Rev. Dr. Rodgers' church, Allegheny City, and on Wednesday in Rev. Dr. Critchlow's church, in New Brighton, Pa.

DANIEL CUPLE, brakesman on the P. R. R., was arrested yesterday, at the instance of the Guardians of the Poor, for having been the cause of bringing a woman on to the city for support.

THE Pittsburgh and Allegheny Orphan Asylum will hold their anniversary at Excelsior Hall, Allegheny, on Tuesday afternoon, at three o'clock.

BORN' Clothing, for Spring and Summer, made with neatness and care, can be had at fair rates, from Carnaghan, Federal Street, Allegheny City. Boys' shirts, white and colored, boys' gloves, hosiery and under wear, and many little articles of boys' dress, such as are with difficulty obtained, will be found at his establishment for reasonable rates.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.

HOUSE.—Mr. Zollicoffer, of Tenn., from Committee on Territories, reported a bill to regulate and make uniform the right of suffrage in the territories of the United States.

On motion of Mr. Morgan, of N. Y., all the Senate bills of a private nature, now on the Speaker's table, were referred to appropriate committees, and on Friday all the bills not objected to are to be reported to the House and finally disposed of.

On motion of Mr. Goode, of Va., the 24th and 25th of May were set apart for the consideration of business pertaining to the District of Columbia.

Mr. Smith, of Va., from the Committee on Territories, asked leave to report a bill to organize a Territorial government for Neraka.

Mr. Cobb, of Alabama, objected

On motion of Mr. Kelsey, of New York, the House took up and passed the bill providing that where proof had been established, but the land warrant for military services not issued until after the death of the claimant, the title shall vest in the widow, and if the widow be dead also, then in the heirs of the warrantee. All such warrants to be treated as personal chattles.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the business on the Speaker's table, and agreed to the Senate amendments to the Military Academy Bill.

The House passed the following Senate Bills:—Enlarging the Detroit and Saginaw land district; for the relief of the Hungarian settlers on lands in Iowa, heretofore reserved from sale.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the Senate bill directing the Secretary to pay out of the fund heretofore received from Great Britain under the treaty of Ghent, various sums to citizens of Virginia, Maryland and South Carolina, to compensate for the loss of their slaves carried away by the British during the war of 1812.

Mr. Bliss argued that these claims instead of being embraced in, are expressly excluded by that treaty.

Mr. Garnett replied saying that the Governor of Virginia is interested in the bill, and that the slaves are to be paid for at the rate of $280 per head which is ridiculously low. Whenever the subject of slavery is mentioned the gentleman from Ohio, Mr. Bliss, as well as his older colleague, Mr. Giddings seem affected with a species of madness like dogs afflicted with hydrophobia. Great Britain gave a round sum in satisfaction of these claims and it was for the United States to make the disbursement. The gentleman from Ohio as a trustee would keep the money in his pocket for his own use and not pay it to whom it is due. Would he pay it to the slaves?

Mr. Giddings said it was to be paid to Democrats. Mr. Garnett replied that the Governor of Va. is a Democrat and he wanted the gentleman to be more definite.

Mr. Giddings said he had answered according to the gentleman's remarks about a mad dog, which was ungentlemanly and cowardly.

Mr. Garnett said nothing more could be expected from a man who distinguished himself by his black heart of heart and who had been guilty of treason against his country and his God.

The Speaker called to order for personal remarks Mr. Garnett said the Speaker should have restrained the gentleman from Ohio.

Mr. Giddings withdrew his remark; he only wanted to show his appreciation of the gentleman's charge, and not to vindicate the House.

Mr. Garnett—I have nothing to retract

Mr. Giddings—Nor I.

The bill was referred to a Committee of the Whole and the House adjourned.

SENATE.—The Senate met at eleven o'clock and transacted considerable private and comparatively unimportant business.

The Fisheries Bounty question was then considered, and Mr. Fessenden, of Me., made an elaborate speech in opposition to the repeal of the bounties.

Mr. Allen moved an amendment, that the bounties cease from the 31st December, 1859. Mr. Hamlin amended by substituting December, 1858.

Mr. Green moved to postpone the question till to-morrow.

The Senate then went into executive session, and subsequently adjourned.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Times says that Dubois, who has ocurred between Senator Pugh, of Ohio, and the President, is apparently irreconcilable, though efforts have been made to patch up a peace. The quarrel has gone so far that Pugh declares he will never again enter the White House while Buchanan is President, and the President is reported to have said that he regards Pugh no better than Hale. This difficulty, combined with other causes, has delayed the Ohio appointments, which have not been made yet. It is impossible, however, to pass over Pugh's friends entirely, since they constitute the Lecompton branch of the Ohio democracy. In the particular case where Pugh's wishes were most directly disregarded (the appointment of Marshal of the northern district of Ohio), his candidate was also supported by Messrs. Burns, Miller and others of the Ohio delegation, none of whom seem to exercise a very great amount of influence at the White House.

Any rumors that Judge Douglas is going to Kansas to stump it against the adoption of the Lecompton English programme are unfounded. Douglas says, he adheres strictly to the principle of non-intervention, and believes in letting the people there settle the matter in their own way entirely.

WASHINGTON CITY, May 10.—At noon, the Secretary of the Treasury opened sealed proposals for the issue of any portion or the whole of the five millions of dollars in treasury notes, in exchange for gold coin of the United States. The bids amount to over six ten millions of dollars, of which four millions and a half are under five per centum, ranging from 34 to 4 per centum: the remainder, nearly half a million, will be selected from the numerous 5 per cent. bids.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The bank statement for the week shows an increase of loans of $875,000; of specie $389,000; of circulation $263,000; of nominal deposits $2,727,000; of undrawn deposits $1,161,000.

Weekly Review of the Pittsburgh Market.

[Reported specially for the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PITTSBURGH, TUESDAY, May 11, 1858.

The weather, in spite of fitful promises to the contrary, continues cold and wet, keeping back corn planting and rendering the country roads almost impassable. The other spring crops are also kept back; but the wheat looks beautiful.

The good effect, however, is visible—the rivers are kept at a fine stage, and navigation goes on uninterruptedly—Nearly all the freight coming forward from the West is coming by river.

Business is only moderately active. The jobbers and grocers are kept busy in filling country orders, and are generally up to the average of previous years; but the manufacturers and other dealers are not doing more than half what they did last year. Their orders are small, but will probably be duplicated during the season, and in the aggregate they may be able to do a fair business for the season. Prices of produce undergo but little change. Our quotations below are nearly the same as during the previous week.

Money is plenty and the banks absorb all the good paper afloat. The difficulty is that there is so little paper making which every one is willing to pass as "good." The Iron City Bank yesterday called in its fourth instalment, amounting to $12,50 per share, and it was very promptly paid. The amount paid in was $100,000, increasing its capital to $300,000. The remaining $100,000 will not probably be called in before the autumn.

The money market elsewhere appears to be as easy and plethoric as ever. The New York Times of Saturday says:

"The supply of money offered on Wall Street at the low rates quoted for some weeks past, continues in excess of the demand, and to-day some deposits were left with the Brokers as cheap as 2@3 cent. per annum. A good many loans, at call, on approved collateral, are made at 4 @ cent. The rates of discount on select paper range from 4½ to 6 @ cent. Some of the leading houses, accepting for Southern account, have taken up their own bills at or below 4 @ cent. per annum. One immediate consequence of this state of things is that nearly ten millions Treasury Bills will probably be applied for at Washington, on Monday, from this city alone, at rates of interest ranging from 4 to 5 ½ cent."

APPLES—the receipts are rapidly falling off, and choice lots command, now, from $2,50 to $3,25 ₰ bbl as in quality

ASHES—There is but little doing, an occasional sale of Pots at 5¼ cash, and Pearls at 6@6¼ cash and time. Soda are steady at 3¾@4, as in quality

BUTTER & EGGS—The supply of Butter is not large, but the demand is restricted and the market is exceedingly full; sales of common to very good roll at 9@11, and strictly choice fresh roll at 12@14. Eggs are abundant and may be quoted slow sale at 6@6½.

BACON—The market is dull, and buyers restrict themselves to present wants. Sales of prime Shoulders at 7¼; and plain Hams 9½@9¾; some inferior Western Hams selling as low as 9¼. Country meat, which is plenty, sells at 7 for Shoulders, 9¼@9½ for Sides and 9 for Hams. Sugar cured Hams 12½.

BEANS—There is scarcely any inquiry, and we hear of one sale of prime small white at $1, holders generally ask $1,000

BUCKETS AND TUBS—The following are manufacturers' rates at Fullerton: Buckets, common and 3 hooped, $1, 60 and $1,80; extra large Tubs, 2 and 3 hoops, $6,75 and $7,75; No 1 Tubs, $5,00; No 2 do, $4,00; No. 3 do, $3,25; Keelers, do, $4,00. Keelers, No. 2, $2,75—cash, per funds. Sales of Buckets to retail trade at $1,75@2,00 ₰ doz.

BROOMS—there is a fair supply, and prices range from $1,25 per dozen for common to $2,75 for choice extra. Demand light, and only sufficient doing to sell out lots.
