HILLDALE CENTERRY We have before us and the best states of the barres stolen, recovered the annual.

NATIONAL MAGAZINE — The June number has been received and is for sale by J. L. Read, fourth street. The list of contents is full and field, and parents will find it an instructive and pleasant work to both young and old of their ways dry and covered in their season with flowers and shady trees. The trustees state that the sale of lots will come off on Saturday, June 6th, at two o'clock p. m., and that families in either city or vicinity, who have not yet previded themselves with a resing place for their dead, are invited to visit the grounds of Hilldale Cemetry.

The Dipatch says that since the last cale of the meeting has been received and is for sale by J. Read, fourth street. The list of contents is full and rich, and parents will find it an instructive and pleasant work to both young and old of their households. Published by Carlton & Porter, New York.

A Lad named Wm. Raiston, son of a store-keeper of that name in the Dinmond, Allegheny, was shot in the arm, on Saturday evening by the accidental discharge of a pistol, loaded with shot, which he was carrying in his pocked.

The Dispatch says that since the last cale of burial lots, many private selections have been made. The improvements and adorning have made. The improvements and adorning have constantly progressed. The clegant gate-house and gate way, and most of the fencing, have been completed, and a large part of the avenues manding many views of surpassing beauty; the soil peculiarly suited to purposes of sepulture. Hilldale Cemetery is located just on the northern border of Allegheny, and yet completely seduced and protected by topographical position, from any future growth of the city.

BRAUTIFUL PROPERTY FOR PRIVATE RESIDENCES.—The lots arranged in the plan of John Irwin, Eq., and advertised in our columns for sale on Tuesday evening of next week, in the sales room of P. M. Davis, Fifth street, have peculiar and unusual features to invite attention of all desiring to creet for themselves elegant and comfortable residences. Statuste within the First Ward of Allegheny, these lots are of convenient distance from business, yet surrounded by all the advantages of pure sir, and roominess to breathe it; beautiful scenery, to attach rural comfort to home, and withat the public and domestic conveniences of city improvements. The lots are bounded by apacious streets and divided to suit the building of either extensive mansions or cosy homesteads, as will be seen by plans for distribution at Mr. Davis' auction rooms. All our readers who contemplate securing to them went to Mary's house to arrest her hopeful son. He ran into the garret or up stairs, and was fol-lowed by Clark. As the latter rushed up the stairway he received a shot from a pistol in the hands of Schwambly, the bullet taking effect in the of Schwambly, the couler taking elect in the breast, and it was thought, inflicting a dangerous wound. Officers Day and Kelly were near and pouncing upon the desperado got the better of him. They brought him to the Mayor's office whence he was at once sent to jail to await a further hearing.

High Rivers.—The effect of the late, long continued rains was perceptible in our rivers on Wednesday morning. The Monongahela commenced rising on Tuesday evening and continued until about 1 o'clock r. st. on Wednesday, when it renched its highest stage, when there was about 26 feet in the channel. Some houses on the bank of the Youghlogheny were partially submerged. Moorhead and Co's rolling mill and Ludwick's grist mill had suspended for a while, as the water was running through the establishments, so as to prevent operation. On Tuesday night the railroad bridge over Turtle Greek was carried away, but it is said will be replaced in a few days by a more substantial structure. Had it been a good bridge in the first place it would have saved the detention of the trains several times in the short period the High Rivers .-- The effect of the late, long
