WE indirectionly omitted, vesterday, to mention the receipt of Harpor's Magazine, for August, laid on our table by Mesers. Gildenfenney and Hunt & Miner, of Fith street. It is an interesting number. The leading illustrated article is a continuation of the Winter in the South, in which Equire Broad-activated his interesting family travel up the Romessee river, and visit Chattanooge, Knowville, and other interesting places in that muniainous region. "The Virginians" are also brought along a few chapters, and grow quits interesting.
