Beware of Disorganizing Schemes.

Our Republican friends in the country should be on their guard against the schemes and devices of a few disappointed and intriguing men who were candidates before the late County Republican Convention and who, because defeated in that Convention, are now striving to break down the party that failed to perceive their extraordinary merits.

These men, with nothing but a balked ambition to prompt them, have seized hold of the TAX question as the best means of disorganizing our party; not that they care a particle about the burdens of taxation borne by the people, but that they think it a popular rallying cry, and one which will mislead the unsuspecting better than any other. Under a pretended love for the people they hope thus to cover up their nefarious designs of disorganizing our ranks.—They have but one aim; and that is to defeat the party that would not take them for its candidates.

The two most prominent men in this movement are THOMAS WILLIAMS and Gen. WILLIAM ROBINSON, Jr., both of whom were candidates for the Congressional nomination in the Allegheny district. Subordinate to them in point of activity (but not in malignity) are a half-dozen other defeated candidates, who have no motive to prompt them but the chagrin they feel at their defeat.

Of all the men among us who were active in inflicting the burden of railroad debt upon this county, there was not one who did so much to entail that curse upon us as Gen. WILLIAM ROBINSON, Jr. He was the head and front of the railroad interest and the foremost man in procuring and negotiating municipal and county subscriptions. If there is one man in this community whom the people might curse for bringing them into their unfortunate predicament, he is that man. Yet this Railroad President and Railroad Director is the chief manager of the True Press establishment and is making the loudest of all possible outcries against Railroad subscriptions! He, the President of one Railroad and a Director in another, has the impudence to call the Gazette, in reproach, (and most untruly) a Railroad organ! He rails out against Bondholders and Free Passes and Railroad influence, with a seeming disregard of the fact that he and his family have been living on money derived from railroads for ten years past and that he is even now in their employ! Can any one believe him to be sincere? No.—There never was a ranker political Pharisee.

What, then, is the secret of his course? He was a candidate for nomination to Congress before the Republican Convention and defeated. He does not pretend that he was unfairly beaten. He does not allege any fraud or trickery; nor can he. Mr. McKnight was fairly nominated over him, on the first ballot, by the spontaneous vote of the delegates, without the use of any extraneous or questionable influence, and any honorable man would have felt bound to submit. Not so the General. He has vowed to defeat the party that was so wilful as to prefer another to him, and the anti-railroad cry is taken up only because it seems to promise success.

Now, let us suppose that the Convention had nominated Gen. ROBINSON instead of Mr. McKnight. Would he then have taken the course he now does? Would he have thought the ticket a bad one and felt himself called upon to defeat it? Not he. In that event there would have been no outcry from him against Railroads and railroad influences. The ticket would have seemed a marvelously proper one, and he would have been as fierce against the disorganizers as he is now against our ticket. It is needless to say that Mr. MCKNIGHT, if he had been beaten, would have submitted, like an honest and honorable man, and would have supported the nominee. It was his misfortune to have two competitors in that Convention (Williams and Robinson) who have not a spark of either his honor or honesty.

Let us also suppose that instead of MCKNIGHT or ROBINSON the Convention had nominated THOMAS WILLIAMS for Congress. Would there, in that event, have been any talk about People's Conventions, coalitions with the Democrats, and the necessity of an anti-tax party in this county? Not from him. The Republican party would have been good enough for him, in that event, and sufficiently anti-tax, as he could have demonstrated, for the most ultra. The ticket, too, would have seemed a good one, and without making a wry face he would have swallowed even J. HERON FOSTER and ZACHEUS PATTERSON, the present objects of his bitterest malignity. With the name of THOMAS WILLIAMS floating at our mast head for Congress, he would have thought the Gazette a very decent and ably edited paper. The simple reason for his thinking otherwise, now, is that his name is not there; and all his zeal for the dear people is stimulated to cover up his purpose of revenge for not being preferred to another.

We might go one step further, and suppose that if the Convention had nominated Mr. Loomis for Congress in this district in place of Gen. Moorhead, and that if the latter had, in consequence of his defeat, endeavored to get a nomination on another ticket, Mr. Loomis would have been excessively indignant at such a breach of good faith. Circumstances alter cases.

On Saturday next the democrats hold their primary meetings. Messrs. Williams, Robinson and their coadjutors are daily seen in close confab with Rody Patterson, Farley & Co., arranging for the election of delegates next Saturday who are in favor of coalescing with the "Soreheads." The game is to play into each other's hands—to give the "soreheads" the Congressional nominations and the locofocos the County officers. The bitterest Lecomptonites and Free Traders are cheek by jowl—hale fellows well met—with the honest and immaculate Williams, Robinson & Co.

On the Saturday following, the 21st, the "soreheads" are to hold their primary meetings, and extraordinary efforts are making to entrap the Republicans of the county into attending the soreheads' meetings; and it is to warn them against that purpose that this article is written. Let the Republicans of the county avoid them as they would a pestilence. The whole object is to entice them into a coalition with locofocism, and build up with their aid a British party, that will subserve the purposes of Capt. Sobensky, Her Gracious Majesty's representative in our midst.

The Republican party is the only party that can be relied upon to resist and put down locofocism. Let not its ranks be weakened by divisions or distracted by the schemes of disappointed office-hunters. We have lost one member of Congress, already, in the St. Louis district, by a useless division, and the fact warns us to beware of like divisions here.—Turn a deaf ear, therefore, to the syren songs of the deceivers; close up the Republican ranks; and with the inspiration of a good cause to cheer us, we can drive our enemies, before us, whether they be open or disguised in their enmity.

A DEMOCRATIC OFFICIAL IN TROUBLE.—Our readers will remember the announcement made a few days since that Mr. Buchanan had appointed a California editor, and an Irishman, too, named JOHN NUGENT, as special agent and bearer of dispatches to Frazer river. The embassador had made all arrangements for a speedy departure, even to esconcing himself snugly on board the steamer Moses Taylor, bound for Aspinwall; but just as the boat was about leaving the wharf on Friday last, the Sheriff of New York appeared on board, with warrant in hand, and arrested the departing diplomat, on the suit of Mr. Little, a tailor of Newark, for a debt of $165, which had been contracted some years ago. The little bill had entirely escaped Mr. Nugent's memory, and but for this gentle reminder he, in all probability, would have gone to his grave with this unsettled account on the tailor's books. The Newark Mercury says:

"Learning that the Plenipotentiary would sail in the Moses Taylor, under circumstances which would probably enable him to liquidate the debt without severe disadvantage to his exchequer, Mr. Little made the necessary affidavit, and with his attorneys, John W. Taylor, Esq., of this city, and J. W. Howe, Esq., of New York, proceeded to the chambers of Judge Thomas W. Clarke, of the N. Y. Supreme Court, who granted, upon the affidavit presented before him, an order to hold the defendant to bail in the sum of $200. Having thus far succeeded, they accompanied Deputy Sheriff Stearn and officer Smith, to the steamer, and commenced search for the defendant, and a few moments before sailing, discovered him in his state-room, served the process and took him ashore at once.

"Mr. Nugent was petrified with astonishment, and so treacherous had been his memory that he at first denied the debt in toto; but after consultation with friends in the immediate neighborhood, yielded his denial, and like an honest man paid the debt, and was forthwith relinquished from arrest. Being a free man again, he at once resumed his diplomatic dignity, and returned to the vessel in time to sail for his destination, and render the important services to his country which Mr. Buchanan entrusted to his keeping—sacrificing that dignity only in so far as a prudent haste prompted him to measure the ground intervening between the interesting group and the wharf, rather more expeditiously than usual."

After contracting the debt in 1854, Nugent left New Jersey for the west and eventually for California—and this was the tailor's first chance to collect it.

RATS.—Some people believe that rats take a tenth of the farmer's produce. They are certainly very destructive pests, both in town and country; the person who would invent a certain mode of destroying them would confer a vast benefit on his species. The only approved methods are to employ tar around their holes and runs, and if possible to catch one of the enemy, tar him well and let him go, or so to balance the top of a barrel that it will turn easily, and deposit the vermin in water. Among the volumes on our table, is the new London book of Francis T. Buckland, son of the geologist, entitled "Curiosities of Natural History," in which we find two capital chapters; the first, "A Hunt in a Horse Pond," describing the wonders of insect life; and the second an "Essay on Rats." On the subject of traps he says:

"The iron wire cage traps, and the common hutch traps, are sometimes useful in houses; but they soon lose their efficacy, because after one or two rats are caught, the others find out that it is a dangerous machine, and do not go into it. The traps there do the most harm and good, because the rats smell the bait, come to it from all parts, and, as we have seen, news flies quickly among them, you get your neighbors rats as well as your own into your premises. They play round the bait, but do not go in the trap; then, being hungry, both the strangers and the original rats of the place begin foraging about, and make holes in the corn bins cupboards &c. The same thing holds good with the fly-papers; it is true you catch some of the flies, but you get double your share of flies, in the room, as they are attracted by the poison placed for them."

PAINFUL ROMANCE.—The Court Circular states that the eldest son of a reverend prelate, high in the Church, became attached to a young lady of very small fortune. His father objected to the match, and sent him to India with Sir Colin Campbell. The lover got safe to his destination, but his heart beat with unaccustomed activity. He could not write to the young lady in question, and wrote to his beloved, assuring her that no threats or anger of his unfeeling parent should ever banish the tender recollection of their reciprocal passion. Having occasion at the same time to write to his father for additional supplies, he denounced them on the ground that he had renounced his mistress' forever. By the most unfortunate accident, the two letters came to England misdirected—the one intended for the parent falling into the hands of the young lady, and that intended for the young lady into the hands of the parent. The latter on receipt of his epistle, sent back such an indignant answer as fully awakened the son to the consequences of the fatal mistake he had made in the direction of the letters. Folly active to the finest sensibilities, and not able to combat a feeling of shame for the unintentional error committed, he shot himself. Intelligence of the sad event was only received at H——— House on Monday.

CONSECRATION OF BISHOP BOWMAN.—We learn from the Lancaster Express, that the President Bishop of the Episcopal House of Bishops, (Bishop Brownwell, of Connecticut,) having received the concurrence of a majority of the Standing Committees and of the Bishops of various dioceses, the preliminary arrangements for the consecration of Assistant Bishop Bowman have been nearly concluded. The consecration will take place in Christ's Church, Philadelphia, on Wednesday, the 25th of August. It is understood that Bishop Kemper, of Wisconsin, will preside; assisted by Bishop Potter, of New York Bishop Lee, of Delaware, and Asst. Bishop Williams, of Connecticut, with probably another Bishop, not yet nominated. The canons of the church require but three to be present, but it is usual to nominate and invite five, in case any of them should be unexpectedly prevented from attending. It was at one time believed that the consecration would take place in Lancaster, the scene of Dr. Bowman's labors for over thirty years, but for want of sufficient accommodation in the Episcopal Churches of that place, and in order to gratify the large number of members of the Church, in Philadelphia, it has been determined to make the change as above stated.

A RUMORED SLAVER.—Several days since a telegraphic dispatch reached us from Augusta, Georgia, announcing that the barque E. A. Rawlins had landed four hundred and fifty Africans somewhere on the coast. The Savannah Republican, of the 2d instant, notices the dispatch, and says "that it heard a number of rumors on the street—one that the Rawlins had landed seven hundred and fifty slaves on the coast of Texas—but have no information as to the correctness of any of them. The Rawlins is below, in ballast, and we hear, without papers; but we have seen no evidence of her having landed slaves here, in Texas, or at any other point. The rumor, probably, has no better foundation than her arrival in ballast, and without papers, on her first appearance since she was held up by our collector, under suspicion of fitting out as a slaver. We heard an additional rumor yesterday, to wit: that the barque intended to surrender to the collector, pay the fine of five hundred dollars for being without papers, and then take out new ones."

JUSTIFIABLE ROBBERY.—At one of the gaming establishments in Germany, Baron de K——— had lost large sums at play, when one morning, on opening his secretary, he found that a sum of 40,000 florins had been abstracted from it, and what made the matter worse, was that the thief was an old servant, named Fritz, who, from his long services, was treated as one of the family. The man had disappeared. Some time had elapsed after the discovery, and the young Baron had begun to be somewhat reconciled to the loss, when he one day met the servant walking along composedly in the street. "You rascal!" exclaimed the Baron, going up to the offender; but a knowing smile from Fritz somewhat surprised him. Questions and explanations followed, and the result was the delivery to the Baron of a receipt for the 40,000 florins from his own father, who, Fritz thought, would be a safer banker for his son than the proprietor of the gambling house.—Galignani.

THE USES OF PHOTOGRAPHY.—A murderer at Antwerp, having left his boots on the scene of his crime, a photograph and description of these articles were sent round to all the neighboring shoemakers, At length one of them came forward and recognized the boots as made by him for an individual whom he described, and who was already in custody on suspicion. This led to other proof, which incontestably fixed the crime on the prisoner and an associate.

A writer in the National Intelligencer says that in 1805 Col. John Billings received his commission of postmaster of the village of Oldenbarneville, now Trenton, in the county of Oneida, in the State of New York. The record of his commission was destroyed at the burning of the Post Office Department at Washington, but his official bond is still in existence.

A PARDONED HOMICIDE IN OFFICE.—New Orleans papers state that Dr. Graham, convicted some years ago of the killing of Major Loring, at the St. Nicholas Hotel, in New York, sentenced to seven year's imprisonment, and subsequently pardoned by Gov. Clark, has just been elected a city physician by the city council of New Orleans.

IMPORTANT TO LANDLORDS.—We see by a notice in the Erie Republican that Mr. Walter Johnson, of that city, has invented a "ball-dog, which, being wound up by an ingenious mechanism, will bowl all night."

ABUNDANCE OF WEEDS.—Prof. Buckman, an Englishman, who has interested himself in this matter discovered, by careful examination, 7,000 weed seeds in a pint of cloverseed; in a pint of Congress seed, 12,000; in broad clover, 20,450, and two pints of Dutch clover seed yielded severally 25,560 and 70,400.

THE LEBANON (Tenn.) Whig says that John J. Crittenden, who is on a visit to that town, disavowed all aspirations for the presidency, and said he would not accept a nomination if tendered to him.

MARRIED.—On the 7th inst., by the Rev. Dr. M'KINNEY, at the residence of John A. Bloomer, Yonkers, N. Y., CORNELIA R. CRAFT to I. GREEN SPROUT.

On Saturday the 7th inst., by the Rev. Dr. M'KINNEY, THOS. M. MARSHALL, Esq., to Miss MARY M. PATTERSON.

DIED—At Mr. Robert Smith's, near Elizabethville, on Sunday, evening, 8th inst., at 6 o'clock, of Scarlet Fever, CHARLES HOWARD, son of Walter and Ellen A. Bryant, aged seventeen months.

The friends of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral, on TUESDAY morning, 10th inst., at 9 o'clock, from the family residence on North Canal street, Allegheny.

Headache—FROM AN EMINENT CHEMIST.—Pittsburgh, July 9, 1855.—Messrs. BENJ. PAGE, Jr., & Co.—Gentlemen: I take great pleasure in saying to you that I made use of Boerhave's Holland Bitters, and found apparent relief of a severe head-ache, from which I had long suffered, and I believe they were of service to me in relieving my stomach and head. Very respectfully, &c., SAMUEL E. BABCOCK.

HEADACHE AND DEBILITY.—Mr. Silas J. Liscomb, of Binghamton, says: "I have found in Boerhave's Holland Bitters a remedy for Headache and Debility. My wife has also used it with the greatest benefit.

Mr. A. S. Nicholson, of Pittsburgh, also remarks that he has experienced much relief from its use for headache.

STRENGTH AND HEALTH RESTORED.—Mr. John Davidson, living ten miles above Pittsburgh, on the Pennsylvania Canal, says: "Since I commenced taking Boerhave's Holland Bitters, I could hardly walk. Now I enjoy excellent health."

CAUTION!—Be careful to ask for Boerhave's Holland Bitters. The great popularity of this medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing.
