THE Teachers' Institute of Allegheny county commenced its session yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, in the Hall of the Third Ward School House, Rev. C. W. Quick, President, in the chair, and John J. Taggart Secretary. There was a very full attendance and considerable interest manifested.

The morning session was principally occupied by the delivery of the opening address, by Mr. Quick. It was an analytical dissertation on the subject of Teaching; the importance of the Teachers' Institute as a place where the various ideas of teaching and education may be reviewed; and the necessity of establishing the calling of a Teacher, (by a supply of intellect and a proper drilling of the mind,) among the professions.

On motion, it was resolved to open and close the meeting with devotional exercises. It was also resolved that the hours to convene be fixed at 8½ in the morning, 2 in the afternoon and 7½ o'clock in the evening.

In the afternoon, H. Williams read an essay on "Reading," showing the importance of this branch of common school education. He thought that attention was not paid to it that it deserved. Remarks were made upon the paper by Messrs. Smith and Eaton.

Mr. Lehman addressed the Institute on the subject of the importance of teaching arithmetic in the lower grades of the primary department. He considered the mind capable of this study at the earliest stage of scholarship. Mr. Quick made some remarks on the subject, agreeing with Mr. Lehman.

The Executive Committee announced the following programme of exercises for to-day:

Essays on "Reading," by M. F. Eaton; on "Arithmetic," by A. Burt, and on "Analytical Grammar," by J. R. Newell.

The evening session was occupied by a lecture by Rev. S. Findley, on "The Theory and Practice of Teaching."

POLICE ITEMS.—R. McCaw was committed by Alderman Donaldson, yesterday, on a surety of the peace, on account of a woman named Margaret O'Rourk, on Hancock street.

Alderman Long, (who is officiating for Mayor Stuckrath, during his absence in the country,) committed a woman named Sarah French, alias Mrs. Moore, charged with stealing nine pounds of butter from Mary Sork, last Friday.

Alderman Parkinson had a large batch of cases. Mary Haney, who lives on Cherry alley, was held to bail on a charge of illegal sale of liquor and keeping a disorderly house, on oath of Rose Mullen.——Andrew Raymond made oath against Winifred Farrel, charging her with disorderly conduct, in going into his mother's house, in the Fifth ward, and raising a disturbance. She was committed 48 hours.——Officer Clarke arrested Kate Gilchrist while raising a disturbance at the notorious Mrs. Swambley's, and annoying the neighbors. She was committed 5 days.——Esther McAleese was arrested on oath of her husband, Linton McAleese, charged with assault and battery, in cutting him upon the arm with a hatchet. She was held to bail.——Mary Anderson, of Penn township, brought a scandalous charge against Henry Morrow. He was held to bail.

James M'Carroll was committed for five days by Alderman Long, acting Mayor of Allegheny city, for beating his wife.

ELEGANT SILVER PLATED WARE.—A very extensive variety of Silver Plated Ware, comprising every article manufactured for family use, is to be sold this morning at 10 o'clock, by P. M. Davis, on the second floor of his auction rooms, Fifth street. The patterns are of the latest and most elegant designs, finished with exquisite workmanship. All house keepers know the beauty and durability of a silver plated set, and the infrequency of such a goods at auction should secure a large attendance to the present sale, which is to be positive. The articles are now arranged for examination.

THE ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the Second Presbyterian Church, corner of Penn and Irwin streets, were conducted yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a large congregation. The order of exercises was as follows:

Statement, from Rev. Dr. Howard

Singing and Prayer, by Rev. Dr. Campbell.

Reading, by Rev. Dr. McKinney.

The laying of the stone was then performed, after which, addresses were delivered by Rev. Drs. Jacobus and Plumer.

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Elliott; singing of a psalm, and benediction by Rev. Dr. McLaren.

SAD ACCIDENT—MAN KILLED.—Harrison Winters, of Wayne township, this county, was run over by the Express train on the Pittsburgh, Rensbenville & Indiana Railroad, this morning, near Mingo Station. He was brought to town, and died shortly afterwards. The engineer did all in his power to save him. Whistled down brakes, and gave every possible alarm, but to no purpose. It is supposed the unfortunate man was intoxicated at the time. We regret to learn that he leaves a large family in rather limited circumstances.—Steub. Herald.

CONCIOUS OF THEIR WEAKNESS.—The or ginal call for "The People's Convention" invited "The People" to meet in their respective districts on Saturday, Aug. 21, and elect two delegates from each to meet in Convention on the 25th, to nominate a ticket. But as the call was not responded to and no meetings held on Saturday, it appeared on Monday in the True Press in the shape of a call for a Mass Convention on Wednesday. The Delegate Convention, is therefore abandoned. This is the strongest possible indication that the conspirators have awakened to a sense of their utter weakness.

BAD.—We understand that two men, by the name of Jones and Myers, while playing cards in the vicinity of the Jefferson Rolling Mill, on Monday night, had a quarrel. Myers, it is reported, struck Jones on the head with a weight, which knocked him senseless, for a time, and from the effects of which, it is reported, Jones died on Thursday. They had both been drinking, so said. Myers is missing.—Steub. Herald.

ARRESTED.—An individual was arrested at the Camp Ground near M'Keesport, on Sunday, charged with committing an outrageous assault and battery on A. J. Holler. His name is Elias Laughlin. It is alleged that some time since the defendant attacked Holler while sitting in front of a house in M'Keesport, knocked him down, and jumped on him, inflicting injuries from which he has not yet recovered. He was committed for trial.

THE MALCONTENT CONVENTION.—We could only hear of four or five new delegates elected to the Convention called to-morrow. In the Fifth ward, the primary meeting passed resolutions opposed to the payment of all debts, rents and taxes. One of the old delegates, and one of the most prominent members of the former Convention, announces his intention to stump the county for the opposition ticket. Go in.

WARRANTS have been issued by Ald. Donaldson for the arrest of all the parties charged with assaulting Mr. Thomas Smith, toll-keeper at the St. Clair street bridge, and they will all probably be brought up to-day for a hearing. Their names are James Robinson, John Smildey, Alex. M'Murry, (delegate to the late locofoco convention,) James Snodgrass, Nat. Hoeveley, and Wm. Stark.

ATTENTION is requested to the sale of a very valuable Farm in Beaver county, which fronts on the Ohio river, and Cleveland & Pitsburgh Railroad, which is to take place this evening, at the Commercial sales rooms, No. 54 Fifth street; and at the same time Mr. Davis will sell a Mortgage Construction Bond of $1,000, and Stock in the Citizens' Bank.

CRICKET MATCH.—It is stated that the Cricket Club recently formed at Washington has challenged the Olympic Club, of this city, to a friendly game, and that a match between them will be played on the 13th and 14th of next September.

DROWNED.—W. C. Call, formerly a resident of this city, and a brother-in-law of Jailor Phillips, was drowned while bathing, on the 8th of Aug., in the Wyalusing river, in Wisconsin.

FRANK LESLIE'S Gazette of Fashions for September has been received and is for sale by Hunt & Miner, Masonic Hall, Fifth street. It is an attractive number.

ALL the prisoners in the Mercer jail—five in number—convicted of various offences, will be brought down to-day and placed in the Penitentiary.

THE LOVE OF PRAISE.—

"The love of praise, howe'er concealed by art,
Reigns, more or less, and glows in every heart;
The proud, to gain it, toils on toils endure,
The modest shun it but to make it sure."

It is our province to praise the garments made at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, No. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia.

A REMEDY FOR HOT WEATHER.—The very best remedy for this hot weather is to drop in at Bown's, Federal St., Allegheny, and treat yourself to a saucer of their delicious ice Cream, or a glass of sparkling ice cold Mineral Water, flavored with the choicest of Syrups, and drawn from a fountain in excellent order. Their stock of Cakes and Confections are of the best description, manufactured from good material, and got up in the neatest style imaginable. Give them a call.

HISTORICAL POEM.

THE CREATION OF THE

"TRUE PRESS"

And its Editor and Proprietor.

BY JOHN JOLLY.

A captain, a lawyer and a fox that was gray,
Happened to meet together one day.
Good morning! said fox, to Captain John Bull,
(For such was the name of the Captain in full,)
Ah! Mister fox, said the captain so bland,
I'm delighted to see you, give us your hand;
Captain Bull, said the fox, looking up in his face,
Allow me to introduce to your grace,
Sir Thomas Wisdom, a man of renown,
Well known, in his way, all over the town.
Ah! Mister Wisdom, said the Captain, said he,
Your name seems very familiar to me.
I've no doubt of that, Sir Thomas replied;
For my fame as a lawyer is known far and wide;
I've been politician and senator, too,
Which is also, no doubt, well known to you;
But for twelve years or more, I safely may say,
I've taken no part in events of the day,
But now there's a crisis! and I am the man
To meet it and thwart the infamous plan
Of a tyrant so big with destruction and death,
Who rides o'er our land with his pestilent breath,
Blighting our freeholders and rentals at will,
Making widows and orphans more desolate still!
The laboring mechanic his story can tell;
The farmer gets nothing for what he's to sell!
Nay, houses that stood twenty-five years ago
Have gone down in rent to a figure so low
That I will be forced to pull them all down,
And build like others going up through the town.
Our county gave bonds, which she'd no right to do,
Placing a mortgage on me and on you;
The bondholders now are after their pay,
But I, for one, to them plainly will say,
I'll resist to the last! any tax that is laid
Whereby these bonds will ever be paid;
I care not for courts, they, too, can be bought;
If bonds are about, why justice is not.
These things I predicted a long time ago,
But none save myself ever thought they'd be so.
Like old Cincinnatus I was called from his plough,
The people call me to rescue them now;
I'm ready to march with my stone and my sling,
To conquer and slay this great Rail Road King.
Stop, stop, said the fox, Sir Thomas, said he,
You know the King is first cousin to me.
For all kings are cousins, and king once myself,
Of course I'm his cousin though I am on the shelf.
Excuse me, my friend, said Captain John Bull,
(For such was the name of the captain in full,)
Your figures of speech do me greatly confound,
Though we speak the same tongue and with the same sound;
In England, we speak of Kings and of Queens,
And bow to their majesties though in their teens;
For one thus accustomed, as I am myself,
I must ask what is meant by a king on a shelf.
Sir Thomas said fox, you're able to teach,
So explain to the captain our figures of speech.
Well then, Captain Bull, Sir Thomas began,
You no doubt perceive I'm a very great man;
The American custom very strongly affirms,
That tyrant and king are synonymous terms;
The king I have threatened to slay with my sling,
Is worse than a tyrant and worse than a king.
A railroad king, a system, a plan,
To rob and plunder wherever it can;
I know mister fox can speak for himself,
He'll tell you no doubt, as well as myself,
Captain Bull, said the fox, a few years ago,
A railroad was built, leading westward the;
That I built the road there's no one denies;
I bought all the rails; fish-plates and the ties,
My shop for the road made many a car,
I took stock for pay when stock was at par.
'Twas then I was king and chief financier,
I issued the bonds, and sold without fear.
That they would be paid, without any doubt;
But before they were paid I was turned out.
Another small matter I wish to explain, (pain;
This railroad runs through my farm and has given a show.
As I was the king I did not object,
But thought it my right myself to protect;
The road wanted ground; I had it to sell,
I being the king, was the buyer as well.
I fixed the price, forty thousand, or more;
Took stock for my pay, like others before.
Now I being king, and chief financier,
To run up the stock was honest and clear;
Loans I effected, at two and a half,
To pay dividends, making stockholders laugh.
The road it went up, and buyers were free,
And I sold all my shares save only three;
But such financiering soon run the stock down,
And with it I went, both me and my crown;
That is, Captain Bull, I was laid on the shelf.
For nothing remains to me now myself.
Well, my good friends, said Captain John Bull,
(For such was the name of the Captain in full,)
Your figures of speech I now comprehend,
And as I'm in town a few hours to spend,
I'll join you now in adopting a plan,
Wherewith we'll defeat these kings to a man,
You know I'm a subject under the crown,
But have a large property here in the town,
Bringing me thousands and thousands a year,
On which I can live, in England and here,
On a style that's due my position and name.
For I rank with lords and dukes, just the same
By the way I'm now making ready to go
To England to spend a few years or so;
With my equals in rank not here to be found,
Where plebeian blood does not abound;
And it's all important that coming events,
Should not in the least curtail my large rents.
You tell me that railroads are room to increase
The taxes, and otherwise do as they please;
All taxes I hate, I'll do what I can
To stop them, Sir Thomas what is your plan? (farm.
Captain Bull, said Sir Thomas, I bought a small
Away from the railroad, where they'd do no harm.
A plank road instead I soon had begun,
It's stock I predicted would be a number one;
But soon came along a gang with their chain,
And staked out a railroad through my domain;
My stock in the plank road, from that very day,
Was not worth a rent, not a cent did it pay.
And now while I see it, as in ruin it lies,
I see in it a monument of my enterprise.
These railroads and bonds, they torture me so,
I fancy I see them wherever I go;
They haunt me by day, and nightly I dream—
Of the "Devil in harness" blowing his steam.
Dimming my senses to such a degree,
That I almost forget the commissioner's fee!
The first thing then, towards having redress,
Is to establish an anti-tax press!
An organ our own, independent and free,
With six columns always open to me.
Will surely be read, for I know that my pen,
Is more than a match for an army of men,
Than the Journal, Gazette and Dispatch,
The Chronicle, Post, aye, Old Times to each,
Will soon feel my power, and sorry they'll be;
That they e'er refused communications from me.
We must now look round for a practical man,
To manage our paper, cheap plan,
One, that is willing, with nothing to start,
But to do as he's told, and promptly obey.
Sir Thomas, said fox, I have in my mind,
A man who'll suit you, you'll find,
Johnny B. Kicked is the man that I mean,
For he is your friend and always has been.
A practical printer, a Johnny B. Kicked,
A more suitable man cannot be selected.
The dirtiest work 'bout a press he can do,
Which is a talent I know will suit you.
Yonder he's coming, I'll stop him and see,
Whether he's likely with us to agree.
Mr. Johnny B. Kicked, we've something to say,
Of importance to you, if a moment you'll stay.
We're about to establish an anti-tax press,
And we want a man of your fine address,
To be Editor and Proprietor too;
That is to do, what we tell you to do.
I'm very much flattered said Johnny B. Kicked,
My feelings I cannot really depict!
But then you've not mentioned the matter to me,
I feel it my duty to be candid and free.
To say, that the project will surely succeed,
Provided we get what money we need.
There's one thing my friends, I beg to suggest
A plan of all others I think the best.
You know that the Chronicle, partly I own,
It's a popular paper, and very well known.
It pleases the people, yet confess
Money might make it an anti-tax press!
Ah! Johnny, said fox, your paper wont do,
While the partner you have, owns it with you.
His brother Robert to Congress would go,
He's running 'gainst me, but he has no show.
But if he should beat me, I still have no fear,
That he'll be elected, for I see very clear
That Sir Thomas then, will enter the ring,
Independent of party, he'll have a new thing.
The people will rally, and every sore head,
Will vote for Sir Thomas, and by him be led.
Johnny B. Kicked, said Sir Thomas, said he,
You have always paid great homage to me.
But before your paper our organ can be,
You must from your present partner be free.
Johnny B. Kicked said Capt. John Bull,
(For such was the name of the captain in full)
I take Sir Thomas and the fox for my guide,
And in this matter with them coincide.
If money is wanted, I've only to say,
You can draw on me, three times a day.
Well, said Johnny, your objections are strong.
And in them I don't see anything wrong.
I'll go to my partner and kick up a row,
Insisting to dissolve our ownership now,
And offer to buy, or sell out to-day,
And I know exactly what he will say
"Johnny, I'll sell," and thus you will see
The Chronicle and its organ will be.
I'll be back very soon, said Johnny B. Kicked,
But mind, our work is in confidence strict.
Sir Thomas, said fox, if Johnny succeeds
We'll advance him at once, what money he needs.
We'll go right to work, and if I am beat,
Then you must come in, and win the last heat.
He's coming already as fast as he can,
We'll hear very soon what he's made of his plan.
You see I am back, said Johnny B. Kicked,
And I tell you I've been most devilishly tricked,
When I announced to my partner that I
Was ready to sell, or ready to buy,
He asked me the price, and when it was told,
"I'll buy" said he, and he planked down the gold;
No you see what I've made, by being so bold,
Both me and my paper completely are sold.
Never mind said fox, since you have been caught,
And sold, as you say, we'll see that you're bought
And supplied with a press, both open and free
To Captain Bull and Sir Thomas and me;
Well then, said Johnny, as you're to intent,
On standing my back, I'll risk the last cent!
I'll go to the "Union," and offer to buy,
Just wait a few moments, till I go and try,
That Johnny B. Kicked, said Captain John Bull,
(For such was the name of the Captain in full,)
Is a wonderful fellow, I judge from his cut,
He's the sort of a man! a sort of a——but
Here he is back, ye Gods! what a grin,
His mouth's so wide open, his head 'll fall in.
It's all right now, the "Union" is mine,
I'll take possession to-morrow at nine,
You'll be there, it's very important you should,
To see that my name on paper is good.
We'll be sure to be there, Sir Thomas replied,
To make your name pass, we'll promptly provide.
There's no time to be lost; a leader I'll write,
And show the old fogies they've got to fight,
The name of our organ, shall be the "True Press,"
We'll soon bring it out in a bran new dress.
At a penny a piece, our paper we'll sell,
To beat the Dispatch, and others as well.
That just suits me, said Johnny B. Kicked,
If I don't head them all, may I be licked.

HOUSE testimony in favor of Dr. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS

PITTSBURGH, August 5, 1858.

MESSRS. FLEMING BRO—Gents:—Allow me to add mine to the list of thousands who have been cured by your M'LANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS. For the last long year I was troubled with a Chronic Diarrhœa, during which time I have had the most distinguished physicians in this and other cities—Allopathists, Homœopathists and their prescriptions, I herewith enclose you—without receiving any benefit. About one year ago, I took a very bad cold, which brought a good rathartic would help me. I purchased a box of your M'Lane's Liver Pills, after the very first dose of which I perceived a change for the better, not only relieved my cold, but very sensibly checked my Diarrhœa. I continued taking them until I had taken a little more than one box, when I felt that I was entirely relieved of my complaint, but entirely cured of my chronic diarrhœa, and have enjoyed most perfect good health ever since. Hoping all who may be similarly affected, may be induced to give your M'Lane's celebrated Liver Pills a trial. I remain, yours, truly, DAVID EDGAR, 70 Front st., Pittsburgh.

P. S.—Being personally acquainted with the physicians above referred to, and knowing them to be really among the most talented of our profession, I feel certain their qualifications will endorse the above.

HELMBOLD—Dear Sir:—I have been troubled with an affliction of the Bladder and Kidneys for over twenty years. I have tried Physicians in vain, and at last concluded to give your genuine Preparation a trial, as I had heard it highly spoken of. It afforded me immediate relief. I have used three bottles, and I have obtained more relief from its effects and feel much better than I have for twenty years previous. I have the greatest faith in its virtues and curative powers, and shall do all in my power to make it known to the afflicted. Hoping this may prove advantageous to you in assisting you to introduce the medicine I am truly yours, M. MCCORMICK.

Telegraphic.

QUEBEC, Aug. 22.—The steamship Anglo-Saxon, from Liverpool on the 11th inst., has arrived at this point, with four days' later advices.

Great anxiety existed throughout Europe in regard to the Atlantic cable, in consequence of the delay in transmitting messages. The first regular message from Trinity Bay reached Valentia on the night of Monday, the 9th inst. The speed of its transmission is said to have been greater than that attained during the experiments made at Plymouth, and the currents apparently as strong. The shares of Atlantic Telegraph stock were quoted at about £900.

It was resolved by the Directors of the Company owning the steamship Great Eastern to receive orders for her purchase or charter, and also to advertise her for sale at auction, and in the meantime to raise money on mortgage.

The Calcutta mail of July 4th had arrived at Alexandria. The rebels had returned in force to the jungles of Jaldeepore. Gen. Layard has resigned, in consequence of ill health.

The Gwalior rebels, it was believed, were making for Bhurtipore. Maam Singh was besieged at Shahgurh by the Begums army. Gen. Whitlock had captured Fierozan in Bandu.

Dates from Hong Kong to the 23d of June had been received. The allies had advanced in Gun Boats to Tien Sin without opposition, followed by the Americans and Russians. The allies are thus enabled to command both the river and the great canal. The French and English ambassadors had located ashore on the high Mandarin. The second officer of the Empire had been sent to negotiate.—Reinforcements were continued to be dispatched from Hong Kong.

The Chorbourg fetes were concluded on the 8th.—At the banquet on board the line-of-battle ship La Bretagne, the emperor Napoleon, in proposing the health of the Queen of England, made an admirable speech. He said that facts proved that hostile passions aided by a few unfortunate incidents, did not succeed in altering the friendship of the two crowns, on the desire of both nations for peace. He entertained the sincere hope that if attempts were made to stir up the old resentments and passions of another epoch, they would break to pieces upon common sense.

Prince Albert responded that the Queen was happy of the opportunity of endeavoring to strengthen the bonds of friendship based on the mutual prosperity and blessing of Heaven not to be denied. He concluded with a toast to the Emperor and Empress of France.

It was rumored that Napoleon would visit Victoria privately at Osborn during the autumn.

The Emperor had ordered a pyramid of granite to be erected at the head of the new dock, to commemorate the Queen's visit on the 5th.

At the inauguration of the statute of Napoleon I., the Emperor made a pacific speech. He said the Government would not wage war except in defence of the honor and even the great interest of Europe. Considerable indignation was manifested at the error in consequence of prisoners being conveyed gratuitously to the places of punishment, and the Government prosecuting their advocates.

The reported abdication of the King of Holland was contradicted.

An American ship, the Eliza Gibbs, was captured off the coast of Africa, being filled with slaves.

LIVERPOOL Cotton was quiet and steady, August 10.—The Cotton market opened buoyant to-day, but closed quiet and steady. The sales of the past three days are estimated at 40,000 bales, including 3,000 to speculators and 4,500 bales to exporters. The advices from Manchester are favorable, the trade being generally in a firm condition.

The markets for Breadstuffs closed with a declining tendency. The weather has been favorable for the crops. Flour suffered a decline in all qualities. The inferior qualities of Corn are firm, but there is no demand.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—A meeting for a final cable celebration on the 1st of September was held this evening at the Board of Trade Rooms. Col. Snowden, of the Mint, acted as Chairman. Chief Justice Lewis read a series of congratulatory resolutions providing for a grand civic and military parade on the 1st, but some of the members of the meeting opposed a parade on account of the expense and the day, because it was only proposed by New York and Boston, and upon by London, and these matters were referred to a Committee. The proceedings were flat.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Aug. 23.—The steamship Persia from New York for Liverpool, touched here, and having taken on board the Liverpool passengers and mails proceeded on her voyage this morning. The damage of the Europa, caused by the collision with the Canada, will not yet been completely repaired.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—Official returns from all the counties in the State, show the complexion of the Legislature as follows: Senate—Democrats, eighteen; opposition, 7. House—Democrats, twenty-four; opposition, nine. The counties to hear from will probably give the opposition six and the Democrats one.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The bank statement for the past week fixed up as follows:—Increase in loans, $2,293,000; decrease in specie, $2,302,000; decrease in circulation, $108,000; decrease in deposits, $425,000.

WASHINGTON CITY, Aug. 23.—The war department has received despatches from Gen. Johnston to July 22d, but they contain nothing of general interest. The troops were erecting temporary warehouses and preparing to go into winter quarters.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23.—The deaths from the fever on Saturday were 75. The deaths last week were 310.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 23.—The river is stationary, with 3 feet in the canal. Weather clear: Thermometer 75°.
