A FALSEHOOD EXPOSED. Mr. Thos. Williams had an unfortunate propensity to disregard the truth. He fixes his conclusions first, and then makes the premises to suit, without ever stopping to inquire about their correctness. In his speech before Ed. Campbell's pocket convention he made the Gazette the burden of his song .-Speaking of his argument before the Supreme Court on the Mandamus case, in July, he said: "When he, Thomas Williams, went to Harris burg to plead the cause of the people, why was he not allowed to do it quietly? Why was he not let alone? Who was his measure to Harnot let alone? Who was his massenger to Harrisburg? The Gazette, which, on the day previous to his going, had charged him with according the Suprame Court of being bribed, &c. Who was on the cars and went with him to the Capitol? The editor of the Gazette, with his peckets stuffed full of the very papers containing the charge, copies of which doubtless were placed in the hands of every Judge upon the beach."

In order to show what article in the Gazette ha alluded to, he specifies it as an article which he alluded to, he specifies it as an article which thad charged him with accusing the Supreme Court of being bribed." Now, no such article appeared in the Gazette on the day before he went to Harrisburg, nor on any previous day.

Mr. Williams went to Harrisburg to argue the Mandamus case, on Tuesday, July 13. We went to Harrisburg on the same train to attend the Republican State Convention. Some days ofter the argument before the Supreme Court, an article appeared in the Prees, (Mr. Williams' organ,) charging the Judges of the Supreme Court with being bribed and with having their pockets full of railroad bonds. On Tuesday morning, Aug. 17, more than a month ofter Mr. Williams' argument before the Supreme Court, we charged him, in an editorial article, with being the supplementation of the court, we charged him, in an editorial article, with being the supplementation of the court, we charged him, in an editorial article, with being Williams: argument before the Supreme Court, we charged him, in an editorial article, with being the author or rather the inspirer of this article in the Fress. This was the only article of the life we aver published, and Mr. Williams gravely charges us with publishing it on the 13th of July! It cannot be possible that Mr. Williams add not know the facts; and it is plain that he resorted to a wilful and deliberate falsehood in order to make a point against the Gazette. We say it was impossible for him to be mistaken: for as we have published but one article of the kind, and that based on an article in the But the most astonishing work is among the

to the mandamus suit before the Supreme Court, which was argued July 14, said:

"Mr. Perkins refused to appear; and as a consequence of the refusal, a writ of peremptory mandamus was to be argued before the Supreme Court in this city after the election. The rail-road press sanctioned his course, or were at least silent as to it, and it was endorsed by a resolution of the late Republican Convention."

THE BAILBOAD CANDIDATE. - Dr. Alexander

Hask has been nominated for Prothonotary by the locofoco, anti-tax and "Peoples" conventions, as an anti-railroad man; and it is therefore fair to enquire into his past history.

It is well known that Dr. Black was a member of the Select Council of this city during the time that municipal subscriptions to railroads were first made. We shall take occasion, hereafter, to refer more minutely to his record in that body; but this much we will now undertake to say; that during his memberahip therein he woold for every railroad subscription that was then authorized by Councils. The Dispatch of years and were the most fastisting and fashionable circles is this new prima donns, Man.
