 The participant of the second seco man of the people and whom the people can trust, they will do themselves gross injustice if; they pass Mr. Patterson by for such abroken down political hack as Farley. Let us occupy a little space in drawing the contrast between the two. In the matter of subscriptions by the county to railroads Mr. Patterson has not been mixed up. He has not ravyred them nor given them the contrary, his intelligence and elear judgement have led him to look upon them with disfavor advantage of his isbors and ibnuonce.
