world spit on them if he were not a candidate. Again. Gen. Moorhead has always been actives by promoting the interests of Pittburgs. The to his energy we are indebted for the been fits of the Mononghale Stackwater navigation; and as a manufacture he has employed his means so as to develope and increase the resources and baniness of the city. But what good has Mr. Burke ever done the city? What home enterprise did he ever aid? What effort to procome the business of Pittburgh ever had his amistance? Not one. Colled in his shell of exclusiveness, he has been among us, but not of exclusiveness, he has been among us, but not of exclusiveness, he has been among us, but not of exclusiveness, and the recipient of many important participant in every work of charity and be navolence, and the recipient of many important public trusts. For many years he has been entracted by the State with a share in the management of the Western Penitentiary; he is also a manager in the Western House of Refuge and in heweful the has not given his aid. We do not cite these facts for the sake of parading his good deeds before the world; but as Mr. Burke and his collaborers have been industriously working to make it appear that he is a bad and an untrustworthy man, we cite them to show that he has for many years possessed the confidence of those who have given their services to the work of ameliorating the life of human kind. No man who has thus earned the confidence of the complete of the co ameliorating the ills of human kind. No man advocate that policy; and that we therefore, cordially recommend him to the support of all who desire a revision of the tariff. munity can be properly subject to the attacks made upon him by Mr. Burke and his friends. But, in addition to these facts, Mr. Moorhead is the fast friend of protection to American is. bor, while Mr. Burke is the candidate of an administration that is wielding its whole power to grash the life out of our national industry. This one fact ought to be sufficient to ensure to Gen.

to the echool of Free Trade politicians of which them, who is identified guitathem in interest, and who has labored to promote the prosperity of the district, who has not a cent at stake in it, in the district, who has not a cent at stake in it, in he are lifted a hand or nitered a word in its who never lifted a hand or uttered a word in its term of national policy: behalf, and who walks among them with exalted

He attended several meetings of the Republicans in the city and adjacent country, and at every one of these assemblages his appearance was greeted with assemblages his appearance was greeted with a several meeting of the results of your manual clashers and open accountry. The difference between us is that Free sentiment of the North, by the large numance that his sentiments on all leading questions, which new agitate the country were their own sentiments, and that they are willing to Join with him heart and hand in maintaining them notice the lies of that dirty Post Office and Cusin defiance of all opposition. His reception by his constiluents in this section of Western Pennsylvanie stands in striking contrast with the position new held by the "son of Pennsylvania" who coouples the Presidential chair. While the latter the public thoroughfares of his own State, lest at township meetings, and in large gatherings here he was honored with the approval which the people cheerfully bestow on public servants stand by the Rights against the most farlous who have been excited by the inordinate boasts of Williams and his olique that they are carrytag everything before them in Allegheny city, the meeting in that place on Thursday night forpished an assurance which no scepticism could doubt. That meeling was one of the best ever held in the city. At least 2000 sterling Republicans were on the ground, and the spirit manifested there was not to be mistaken. It was warm and enthusiastic in the highest degree; and although the meeting lasted from half-past seven to half-past ten, the people were reluctant to depart. Alleghany is all right.

Wn marvel that Mr. Williams, in seeking for great men to compare himself with, has never self to Senator Hammond, of yet compared him Bouth Carolina. There is a clear resemblance between the two. Hammond stigmatises laborers and mechanics as "smed-sills," and Williams characterizes them as "the soraplags of the streets. His farcest investives have been pured out upon us because we are poor, and his theory is that no poor man has a right to a value in the government. He is a Hammond on a value in the government. He is a Hammond on the duty of Congress to printer had because a small scale. South Carolina. There is a clear resemblance the Stuarts.
