GEN. CAMERON AND THE TARIFS.—Gen. CAN REON'S position on the Tariff question is as familiar to Pennsylvanians as a household word. Ever since he thas entered public life he has been justly regarded as the faithful, undeviating and reliable friend of Protection to American In dustry. While other statesmen have faitered and some have even changed their views on this subject, he has been ever constant—always "true as the needle to the pole." The recent election—in the recult of which he bore a con-spication part, as all what friend the torp dome the section of the State of t
