thing. A few years ago, when there were but appointed will decline the dishonor.-Bo few Free Soil Senators in that body, they were all excluded from the committees, on the ground

All secluded from the committees, on the ground all secluded from the committees, on the ground that they did not belong to any "heaffby'organ-igstion," and seen last whiler the Republican members were put off with the pality privilege of naming one or two members on each committee, the Southern majority assuming the right to name all the rest. Judge Douglas, if we mistake got, was a party to this act of meanness; and now that he has been served in the same way he will know how others felt under a tyranny of his own infliction, but of which he is now the victum. To us, who have been watching the develope-ment of this tyranny for years, the present ez-ercise of it does not bring surprise. It was to be expected as a matter of course. The South will not let the e alvery question alone, nor ent-for it to pass into the coalegory of departed issues. As long as she has the power, she will wield it not only for slavery but against all who, like not only for slavery but against all who, like prevent it. ----- not only for slavery but against all who, like Douglas, raise their hands, no matter how slight ly, in opposition to her behests. Hence, strug gle as the ultra conservative people at the North may, to get rid of what they think a "petilent" question, it will continually present itself in some use whape, and some new aggression will rouse even the cold blood of those who are so keen to cruth is that the Slavery question cannot be thrust aside. So long as elavery er-ists and has political power in its hands, so long will it act on the aggressive. It is as Mr. Seward says; there is an irrepressible condict between Slavery and Freedom, and the only way between Slavery and Freedom, and the only way importance. between Blavery and Freedom, and the only way to get rid of the offensive measures of the for-mer is to deprive it of political power. The increase of the offensive measures of the for-mer is to deprive it of political power. The is uspected and asserted by some that the free-to be opposed to Southern policy, and give him to be opposed to Southern policy, and give him a Coagress to match. Under such a loss of position and power, the men who new so insult-ingly trample Douglas under foot, would sub-nice that a lawbilt the quietness, and the country would once more breathe freely, relieved of the iso the iso new so fearfully oppressing that the defense of those States against So far from drawing the degress to the country, the iso far from drawing the dangers to the country, the sub-states of the country, the ernment. between Silver and the country is possible to station from a sub-to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy, and give him to be opposed to Southern policy, and give him to be opposed to Southern policy, and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to Southern policy and give him to be opposed to southern policy and give him to be opposed to southern policy and give him to be opposed to southern policy and give him to be opposed to be the the policy and give him to be opposed to be the the policy and give him to be composed to be the the policy and give him to be adding the policy and give him to be adding the policy and give him to b
