What Great Heart Did.—I saw Great Heart one day in a railway train. He was well dressed, and appeared to be reading, through his spectacles, the morning paper. A poor woman sat opposite with six little children, the eldest scarcely a dozon years old. The husband was as stupid, hard-hearted wretch, and administered blows unsparingly to a wearied little thing who showed his discomfort by crying and fresing as the hotdesty air awept over his face. The mother's countenance wore a look of patient despair and continual anxiety, as the little restless company sat crowded together in the loaded car. Not one of them looked shabby or untidy, though were plainly dressed. When the engine stopped for fuel the poor woman took out from a basset some bread, and cheese, which she distributed sparingly among the little group Great Heart had watched their movements all the morning, and as a boy approached the carrings with a basket full of berries, he bought up boxes enough to go round, and gave them to the hungry children, whose eyes glistened as they saw such a rare desert spread before them. One little gring perhaps five years old, was nearly slok, and tried to rest in her scotler's lap; but the tiral was obliged to viscourse has been entiter gentlemanly perhaps five years old, was nearly slok, and the day of the same that the tasks the recoverable that made here, and Hope gravely considering the company, and the same the same time and the treather with his paper until she same time and the Every description of WRAPPING, PRINTING AND WRITING PAPER, Rent' Insurance Company, 94 Water street.

A correspondent of the Rochester Union writes from New York that:

"Mrs. Cunningham, of Burdell murder notoriety, and her two daughters, are living in an elegant mansion in Twenty-third street, and apparently in oircumstances. They give parties occasionally, and the head of the family, it is said, was visible at the opera the other evening. Augusta was married recently to a young Southern planter, and Helen, it is understood, is in a fair way to follow the example."

music the Annual Report was read by Mr. L. Parsons. The report stated the Society whose an aniversary they celebrated, had no little indusence in the great spiritual uprising of the people last Winter. Looking at New-York as a field of labor, the report held that it was important, and pre-eminently so, when the fact was known that we thinked of our inhabitants never entered the house of God, and that theatres and places of business were opened and thronged on the Sabbath, and that, being a great commercial port, many new avenues were opened for Bible distribution. The distribution in the city had been accomplished mainly through the efforts of the Rev. Alexander Watson. During the year he had visited 10,121 families, and had distributed 2,098 volumes. A few were given, at their request, to Engine and Hose Companier; 77 Bibles and 27 Testaments had been distributed at the stations of the Metropolitan Police. Tenement houses had been visited an explored, and these possessed a peculiar interest. In one of these, in the epstern part of the oity, 1,500 persons resided. Among the Romanists, there was an awakened spirit of inquiry. The position of the Roman priesthood was clearly one of marked antagonism. Fifty humane and criminal institutions had been visited, having inmates in the year to the number of 50,000.—The Committee on Naval Stations had distributed 21 Bibles and 529 Testaments, and in nine different languages. Among the reserving ship North Carolina, and the revenue cutter Harriet Lane. Fifty shilors had been converted during the past Winter on the North Carolina, some of whom had been auphlied, were the United States frigates Sabine and Wabash, the receiving ship North Carolina, and the revenue cutter Harriet Lane. Fifty shilors had been on converted during the past Winter on the North Carolina, some of whom had been auphlied, server the Carolina, some of whom had been auphlied, shad been organized by sailors themselves, abxious to secure to their companions the joys lof shivation. The Committee on Military Posts had distributed 610 Bibles and 2,94 Parsons. The report stated the Society whose anniversary they celebrated, had no little influ-

Stephen Smythe and Conrat Ruelling, and though the emigration had fallen of 60 per cent, yet 147 Bibles and 7,403 Testaments had been distributed, and many homeward returning emigrants had carried back with them the word of God. The distribution among emigrants had carried back with them the Scandinavian population and seamen had been facilitated by the Rev. O. G. Hedstro. The distribution among seamen and shipping had equal ed 1,970 Bibles and 49,564 Testaments, and had been made under the charge of the Rev. Mr.

Pierson. Fourteen hundred vessels had been visited and supplied with the Word of Life, and visited and supplied with the Wo Scandinavian population and seamen, and been facilitated by the Rev. O. G. Hedstro. The distribution among seamen and shipping had equaled 1,970 Bibles and 49,564 Testaments, and had been made under the charge of the Rev. Mr. Pierson. Fourteen hundred vessels had been visited and supplied with the Word of Life, and hence Bibles were sent abroad to the distant islands of the earth. Captains and officers of vessels had manifested a willingness, and in some cases an anxiety, to receive books and distribute them among their men, and from these distribute them among their men, and from these distributions they had hoard, in numerous instances, the most gratifying results. The total number of votames distributed during they car by the Society was 47,406. The receipts of the Society were $16,781 13, and though its history had been one of continued and increasing prosperity, yet no time had been when they had so much reason to rejoice at their increased usefulness as during the past year.

player who taken rank next to, if not equal with in Laroche, and who, in his various contests with Morphy, has occasionally beaten him.—

If This M. De ikiviere is a brother of your Capt. De Riviere, of Blount notoriety. He is a gentlemanly, handsome man, a reporter for the Press, a brilliant chress player, as we have seen; and, like the Captain, speaks English, their mother having been a Scotch woman. I ought to mention that Morphy has also beaten, with ease, and with great mortification to his adversary, a Prenchman by the name of Erkel, who came and challenged him, backed by a numerous array of friends, with something of the air of mockery with which Gollah defied David:
