Are necessary to render the department self-sustain-ing. Several messages, the contents of which are un-known, were reseived from the President, whereupon the Senate went into executive assion for several hours, and afterwards adjourned. The House passed the soldiers' pension bill—yeas 130, nays 73. On motions of Phelps, of Missouri, the House re-solved itself into a Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union, on bill payment, inralid and other pensions, appropriating $525,000. The Military Academy bill appropriates nearly $180,000; its support was also considered in com-mittee. Castles K Kt tks Q Kt B tks p K tks B K to Kts su B tks K R p ch R to K B 4

Mitce. Mr. Giddings said that while some gendlemen wore scrupulous about voing for the soldier's ponsion bill paying those who had fought, the bill before them proposed paying men to learn to fight. He com-plained of appropriations for purposes of war, our mission being peace: and a standing army hot hav-ing been contemplated by the founders of our gov-berneat they would soon be called on to vote large sums for fordifications, which, in a quarter of a cen-tury, would be useless as the old castles on the Khuba.

tury, would be useless as the old castles on the Rhink. Mr. Lovejoy asked him whether he believed the soldiar's pension bill right. Mr. Giddings was glad his reverend friend had asked him that question. As the pension system had been adopted, he would deal deit its benefits with vere-handed justice. Congress had squandered money on General Scott while there were men in his district not worth a hundred dollars who had fought as gallantly. Mr. Lovejoy said the thology was that two wrongs don't make a right. Generals short and Cass were pensioners by the bill just passed, as well as the venerable genleman from Ohlo. It was like Oliver Twiat presenting his bowl, asking for more soup. (Langatter.) A new pension system, was inaugerated to.day, opening a suite-sway to the bottomless occan of corruption. If the vote had been taken by bal-lot, there had not been 50 votes in its favor. (Langh-ter.) But the old soldiers afforded occasion for high-fautin and humbug, and a hobby like boys riding on broomsticks. (Laughter.) He would vote against the Millary Academy Bill was then laid not been be reported to the House. Mr. Morris explained his bill, giving the people of the organised territories authority to elect their Judges, Governors and all other officers, and pro-riding for the formation of State Constitutions when they bars sufficient population to isleet constitutions when the Jaes and all been revived by the Presi-dent in his Message. The Demorary of Illiosis f have always been barve and faithful, yet a hostill ymisersble scoundreis and rip places auplied is boildy asserted, and could prove. Mr. Morris replained against them by the Adino. Istration. The guillotine has been at work, and good men have been displaced and their places supplied i by misersble scoundreis and sycophasts. This he boiddy asserted, and could prove. Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, asked, 'Do I under. Franchat such persons have been appointed by the present Administration ?' Mr. Morri replied the the did not assert that the character of these i
