Miscellaneous.

GAS FROM ROSIN OIL OR OTHER FATTY FLUID MATERIAL.

THE HIGH ILLUMINATING PROPERTIES of Gas from Rosin and oleaginous substances have always rendered them a favorite material for the manufacture of Illuminating Gas. Many Gas Companies have been in with cost, in order to supply their customers with a Fuel for quality of Gas.

ROSIN OIL is entirely free from all dross and refuse substances, and yields at once, its Brilliant Illuminating Gas.

The greater originality of the apparatus for the manufacture of coal gas together with the attention and expense heretofore required, and the difficulty, if not impossibility, of entirely separating Naphtha, Benzoline, Anthracene, and offensive gases, generated in coal, render the ROSIN OIL the most economical and more desirable in every way.

S. COATES, of 276 Broadway, New York, has devoted his entire attention to the manufacture and sale of Portable Gas Apparatus, and he respectfully calls the attention of the public to his present complete and efficient machine.

Perfect satisfaction to the purchaser guaranteed in every case. For further information address

Butler's Mercantile Record & Copying

EXCELSIOR FLUID INKS,

Manufactured by James J. Butler, Agent, CINCINNATI, O.

RECORD—For Ledgers and Records only.

MERCANTILE—For Books, Letters and general purposes.

COPYING—For Letter-Press only.

THESE FLUIDS change from a GREENISH blue to a deep and permanent BLACK COLOR, which no length of time will fade or destroy. These FLUID INKS were first offered to the Public in 1854—from which time there has been them awarded EIGHTEEN DIPLOMAS, THREE BRONZE AND ONE SILVER MEDAL.

Attention is invited to the following certificates from Prof. Chilton, New York:—

"I have, at the request of Cook, Merritt & Brown, of New York, analyzed two samples of FLUID INK, one marked 'Arctic Record Writing Fluid, R. J. & J. Arnold, London,'—the other 'Butler's Mercantile Record Fluid, Cincinnati.'

"I find both of these Inks to contain the same ingredients, and in the same state of combination.

"From the result of the various tests to which I have subjected them, I find they are equal in quality as well as durability. JAMES B. CHILTON, M.D., Chemist.

THE COAL TRADE OF THE UNITED STATES.—The tables which record the coal trade in the United States, begin with the year 1820—which was in the infancy of men now in the prime of life. For that year 365 tons present the total. What a text is in this initial fact and point of observation! How gradual, how progressive, since that time, have been the discoveries of coal by science and advenature, over the United States! Pennsylvania, however, which was the first to unfold the treasures of her mines, is the scene of the largest operations in this great trade, though in her sister States south to the tributaries of the gulf and west to the ocean, coal beds are found and made to yield up their valuable fuel.

To ascertain the exact actual coal trade of the United States, there are no means in existence; for, outside of Pennsylvania and Maryland, registers of coal tonnage are not accessible; and even in the bituminous region of Pennsylvania, which covers more than ten thousand square miles of her surface, it is not easy to acquire correct information of the whole number of tons mined.

However, with all these drawbacks to a perfectly satisfactory exhibit of the coal crop of the United States for 1858, we venture, nevertheless, with the data in our possession, and with estimates where we have no returns, to submit the following as the approximate yield of the coal mines in the United States in the year 1858:

	TONS.
The three Anthracite Fields of Pennsylvania	6,759,787
Broad Top, Blossburg and Barclay Coals	164,933
Allegheny & Pittsburgh Coals, carried on Penna., R. R.	825,037
Monongahela Navigation Co.'s Coal Tonnage	917,738
Est'd River Coal Trade of Pittsburgh exc. of Monongahela Navigation	125,000
Est'd product in other parts of the State	500,000
Total for Pennsylvania	8,793,095
Cumberland Region	642,725

For Ohio, in 1857, the coal product, partly from returns and partly by estimate, was put down at 2,394,000, so that for 1858 it will be safe to put it downat 2,250,000

And for the States of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, etc., and the Territories, say 3,000,000

Total coal product of the United States, 1858 14,685,820

THE NATIVE MERCHANTS OF INDIA AND CHINA.—The statements of intelligent voyagers and travelers all concur in the opinion that the greatly increased commerce between the Eastern nations and England and the United States, with the high prices which have been paid for the productions of those densely populated regions of the Asiatic continent, have given enormous wealth to the shrewdest of the native merchants, and that the profits realized by them are vast and beyond calculation. So strong have they become, that they make their own prices and have altogether the upper hand of the European traders, except the Greek merchants, who, from long experience and assimilating to a great extent with the natives, have become in reality merchant princes. The immense commerce of Calcutta is to a great extent controlled by two or three Greek houses.

In China, many of the native merchants are exceedingly wealthy and transact extensive business. It was stated a short time since, that in the English island of Hong Kong, on the coast of China, near Canton, of one hundred square rigged vessels in the harbor, eighty were either owned or chartered by the Chinese merchants. The great proportion of house servants, storekeepers, clerks, mechanics, and laborers in Hong Kong are Chinese; while the petty shop-keepers of Singapore, Manilla, &c., are mostly Malays. Many of the Asiatic nations are largely represented at Hong Kong. There are also many Greek and some Arabs. Of the Chinese population, estimated at 70,000, only about 500 are women.—Boston Traveller.

THE grossest frauds, in connection with the Oregon and Washington War Debt, have been brought to light by the house committe on Military Affairs through the efforts of Mr. Faulkner of Virginia, the Chairman. The whole debt, as reported by the Government agents, is about $6,000,000, of which the Committee assert that not more than about one million is justly due. Some of the charges by which this difference is made are most outrageous. Pistols are charged at $25 each; muskets at $125; oats at $5 a bushel; hay at $120 a ton, and other things in proportion. At the last session of Congress, when the debt was first brought to the notice of the Committee, the War Department recommended, its payment, but Mr. Faulkner caused action on the matter to be deferred, in order that it might be fully investigated.—By this delay an investigation, the somewhat considerable sum of from four to five millions will be saved to the Treasury.

AN Englishman named Robert Speering has been arrested in Philadelphia for endeavoring to raise the wind in a very ingenious manner—by selling counterfeit autographs of Washington. The plan adopted by the person in question was to enclose the autographs to persons whom he thought would prove customers, offering them for sale at five or ten dollars each, with the suggestion that, if thereabouts did not desire to purchase they might know some one who did. He was quite successful in the business, but when arrested confessed all, seemed very penitent, said he was driven to do what he had done by want, and that he had not looked upon his action as a crime, as in England there are persons constantly employed in producing spurious paintings as productions of the old-masters.

COST OF THE INDIAN WAR.—The year of mutiny, 1857-58, cost the British empire in round numbers nine and a half millions sterling. That at least is the official statement, but no extraordinary are some of the items of the account that we are tempted to disbelieve even a blue book. It will be perceived that the decrease in the land revenue is just £2,000,000, being £200,000 more than the actual loss on the land revenues of the North West, which amounted to £1,000,000. This and the loss on the salt in the same presidency formed the only serious revenue losses of the year, and 50 per cent. even of these are made up from the increased profit on opium.

A Scottish writer complains that none of his countrymen ever attained the British accent.—He says that he once prided himself on his success, but he was undeceived before he had been in London a day. A man was lying on his back overpowered by liquor. "Come, my fellow," said the Scotchman, "I will help you up." "Bless you," he exclaimed, "you're a good 'un. I always liked the Scotch." This detection by a drunken man lying on his back, took the conceit out of our friend.

A German clergyman, by way of giving point to the eulogy of a dead man, at a funeral, declared that his own experience would prove that the defunct was the most generous of men, as he had long ago borrowed forty d
