PITTSBURGH:

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 29, 1859.

BISHOP O'CONNOR, while in New York, lately, soliciting funds for the completion of the Catholic Cathedral in this city, is reported to have said that the old Cathedral was fired by an incendiary during the prevalence of political excitement.

The Washington Union, we notice, copies the allegation as a true one, and proceeds to comment upon it as a lamentable instance of the persecuting spirit which prevails in this country.

We can hardly bring ourselves to believe that Bishop O'Connor uttered a statement so utterly unfounded. We are certain that it has no warrant in fact.

The old Cathedral was burned down in the day time, on the 6th of May, 1851. The fire broke out in the roof, and was generally believed to have caught from a spark from a chimney of the Bishop's residence adjoining. There was no political excitement prevailing at the time, and no one, then, had the hardihood to attribute it to the enemies of the church. It was the result purely of accident.

Bishop O'Connor was absent at the time. The accident excited general commiseration, and the citizens did all they could, during the progress of the fire, to arrest the flames, and when that proved impossible, to save what they could from the destructive element. The following card from Father McMahan, issued on the day following the catastrophe, shows that the people of this city behaved in a manner, upon that occasion, totally irreconcilable with the idea now attributed to Bishop O'Connor:

A CARD.—The undersigned, in the absence of Bishop O'Connor, and on behalf of the Trustees and members of St. Paul's congregation, of Pittsburgh, returns his gratitude and thanks to the intrepid and indefatigable and intrepid firemen of this city, for their energetic and determined efforts made to subdue the flames which, yesterday, consumed the Cathedral. Although sorely afflicted by this conflagration, which in a few short hours reduced our beloved Temple to a pile of smouldering ruins, the anguish occasioned by the sudden, sorrowful calamity is partly relieved, by the recollection of the undaunted efforts made to subdue the devouring element. Firemen and citizens, who participated in the struggle, deserve the highest commendation. To each and all of you the Catholic community of Pittsburgh is greatly indebted. Your kindly exertions, made sometimes in the face of imminent personal danger, entitle you to admiration and lasting thanks; and I take great pleasure in thus publicly acknowledging your worth, and subscribing myself, on behalf of the congregation, whose servant I am, your fasting debtor,

May 6, 1851.

We had intended, at the first, to notice the false report, on which we have commented, but supposed that the Bishop would contradict it. As he has not done so, and the unfounded story is traveling the rounds on his authority, we deem it proper to give it an emphatic contradiction.

—Since the above was written we have noticed, in the Pittsburgh Catholic, a disclaimer of the reported language of Bishop O'Connor. The Catholic, it will be seen by the extract given in our local column, takes the same view of the facts that we do.

PIONEER.—The Washington correspondent of Forney's Press thinks that Attorney General Black would cheerfully accept Judge Irwin's place on the Bench if tendered to him. According to "Pioneer," the Attorney General as Chief Inquisitor has a very hard time of it under Mr. Buchanan, owing to the number of refractory democrats sent to the rack in consequence of their course on the Kansas question. He continues:

"Judge Black is tired of his position. It is really hard to bear. He has innumerable difficulties to meet. The President is a hard taskmaster. He really allows Judge Black no patronage. Every little office in our State, which of right ought to go to Black, the President monopolizes and disposes of. If Mr. Buchanan were a young man, and had ten thousand hopes for re-election to the Presidency, he could not be more exacting in regard to the dispensation of these little places. Judge Black has had no power to bestow, though many promises to fulfil. His friends come here expecting much, but getting nothing from him. Weary of this official drudgery, and now really tired of politics, (for which he never was fitted,) he pines for a snuggery in the western part of our State, in which with little to do, he may contemplate the ingratitude of Republics." I am not surprised to hear that he is anxious to take Judge Irwin's place."

We know not where the President could find a successor to Judge Black, who would serve his purposes as well as that individual. Few men possessing talent necessary to qualify them for the position of legal counsellor to the government would consent to become the mere tools of the Executive—persecuting his enemies and serving his friends—as the present Attorney General has done. On reflection, we think the President would do well to keep Attorney Black where he is; for, in the search for a competent successor, he might fare much worse.

THE CUBA FOBD.—The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune thus "speculates" on the prospects for passing the $30,000,000 fund for the purchase of Cuba—or something else—which Mr. Slidell and his democratic friends have in charge. Chances seem to be against the success of the abominable measure—although it is hard to tell what the future may bring forth:

"There is an incurable division among the Democracy over the $30,000,000 bill. The President informs the House by special message that he will not move without the money to be provided by this loan, and the South therefore makes it a party test. It will probably pass the Senate, but its fate is doubtful in the House. The Democracy have there, with the Locofoco South Americans, 41 majority. Orr had 43 majority for the Speakership, but there are 44 Northern Democrats whose constituents have no fancy for more loans and taxes in behalf of slavery extension and that alone. Still, as one-half of these men were brought up to favor Lecompton, it is not improbable that the same thing will be attempted again."

OUTLET TO THE DELAWARE.—The Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad have reported in favor of a depôt on the Delaware, and will submit the following resolution to the next meeting of stockholders:

Resolved, That the Board of Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company be and they are hereby authorized to select the most eligible location on the Delaware river for a terminal depôt, to be reached by locomotive steam power, and to cause the extension of the road to the said river, to be completed at the earliest practicable period.

This is a proper movement; and if the stockholders adopt the resolution, the completion of the plan it indicates will be of immense advantage to western coal interests, as it will afford opportunities, not now existing, for shipping bituminous coal to ports east of Philadelphia.

THE Western Methodist Protestant copies with approval the following from the Broad Axe of Freedom, a political paper published at Richmond, Va.:

"We never have, and never will if we know it, be a party to giving publicity to any amusement or business calculated to injure the morals of the community. So far as we are concerned, we wish the public to know that we recommend no one to public favor whose business would draw our own family or that of our neighbors from the path of virtue, honor and rectitude. We will never sacrifice principle for gain. Never! And all the tickets that could be piled up would not induce us to puff circuses, strolling theatre companies, or any of their class, who leave the marks of the pestilence wherever they go."

MILLIONS FOR CUBA BUT NOT ONE CENT FOR INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT.—Early in the present session Mr. Chandler, of Michigan, procured the passage of a bill in the Senate appropriating $50,000 for the completion of the St. Clair Flats improvement. The bill still hangs in the House, and letter writers state that the Democratic majority in that body had arragged to strangle it even before the bill was suffered to pass the Senate. It is the policy of the Administration not to permit a dollar to be spent for improvement purposes the present term. We can give thirty millions for Cuba, but not a dollar for the improvement of the great country we already possess.

THEY have in Cincinnati an establishment employing 200 men, for making malleable cast iron. It turned out, last year, $150,000 worth of castings.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE IN SPAIN.—The Madrid journals of the first contain a brief report of the debate in the Chamber of Deputies on the preceding day relative to the Message of Mr. Buchanan about Cuba, of which proceedings telegraphic mention has already been made.

Mr. Ulloa said, I ask the Government if it intends to reply to the Message of Mr. Buchanan, inasmuch as in that Message is a paragraph on the subject of annexing Cuba to the United States, which contains a new and really grave insult to the Spanish nation.

Marshal O'Donnell declared that the Government was disposed to demand due satisfaction for such an insult: and then said: I can assure the Chamber that during the six months we have been in office, our relations with the Government of the United States have not ceased to be marked with the greatest cordiality.

Accordingly I was surprised to read in the Message of the President of the United States that those relations were in an unsatisfactory state. In the few conferences I have had with the worthy representative in this city of the Anglo-American republic, such a cordial spirit was manifested that I felt convinced the relations between the two governments were perfectly amicable, and that they could run no risk of being troubled.

This confidence of the Queen's government still subsists. In its relations with the United States, as in those with all other countries, it has always endeavored to be circumspect, moderate, reserved, but always dignified, and firm, as the government of a great people ought to be.

The period of discouragement caused by war and disunion has ceased in Spain. Our country is now positively in an era of developement and veritable restoration. If the power of Spain be not great enough to menace, it is strong enough to defend the integrity of the territory of the monarchy, and to preserve the dignity of the Spanish name without stain.

In whatever circumstances the Spanish nation may find itself, it will in the future, as in the past, never be insensible to its honor, never will it abandon the smallest portion of its territory; and a proposition having that tendency, will always be considered by the Government as an insult to the Spanish people. (Approbation.)

The sentiment of nationality, which was supposed to be weakened, and which, unhappily, was slightly weakened by our intestine discords —this sentiment, the source of high deeds and of generous and heroic inspirations, displays now new vigor, and is increasing in such a way that, whilst we will never be aggressive and never aspire to dominate, we will never allow any encroachment to be made on the inheritance left us by our fathers. (Approbation.)

M. Olazaga, in his own name and that of several other eminent members representing the different political parties, then proposed this resolution.

"The Congress declares that it has received with satisfaction the declaration of the Minister of Foreign Affairs, and that it is disposed to give to this government its constant support in order to maintain the integrity of the Spanish dominions."

The resolution was unanimously adopted and ordered to be inscribed in the archives. The Espana, though a violent adversary of the Cabinet, expresses its approbation of the patriotic declaration of the Minister, and states that in a question, which like that of Cuba, affects the national honor, Spaniards, whatever their differences on other points, will always be united. The other journals employ similar language.

"It is stated authoritatively that the Southern and Western Democrats will resist, by every Constitutional expedient, any effort to change the tariff. So far from the Republicans desiring to force such action on this question, they will insist that the revenues shall be improved ere the enormous expenditures demanded by the Administration are voted. They will oppose new loans, insisting that Government shall pay as it goes.

Douglas's organ in this city, The States, whose editor Mr. Pryor, was Douglas's confidential adviser in the recent difficulty with Mr. Fitch, declares this evening that there is no longer a Democratic party, and cites, in proof of its assertion, the dissension between President Buchanan and Secretary Cass on the question of Squatter Sovereignty, between Buchanan and Floyd on the question of the Pacific Railroad, and between Buchanan and Cobb on the Tariff question. It says that on no single issue is there concord in the party, and asserts that the confusion of Babel was not equal to the present discords of the Democracy. The States being understood to express the views of Judge Douglas, the article attracts great attention.

The internal discords of the Democracy burst forth with great fury in a debate to-day which sprung up in the House on the slave-trade. It was the hottest debate of the session, being a real debate, and not the mere reading of essays, and raged almost entirely in the ranks of the Administration, the Republicans, with one or two exceptions, looking on and laughing.

Hon. Mr. Branch, Democrat, Mr. Branch of North Carolina, tried to stop it, saying that, if it went on, it would lead to something worse than the slave trade. He meant that it would smash up the party.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. Trib.

THE BUTTER TRADE.—The following estimate of the amount of butter packed during the season of 1858, by James Patrick, shows that Wooster is ahead of all other towns in the list. The figures below give the number of firkins, containing one hundred pounds each, shipped from the different points named.

Wooster,	1,608	Firkins.
Salem,	1,362	"
Seville,	726	"
Mansfield,	1,116	"
Fredericktown,	534	"
Ashland,	672	"
Total,	6,108	"

The amount shipped by Mr. Patrick, forms but one item in the whole amount shipped from Wooster. We hope some one may furnish us with the amount shipped from this place.—Wooster Repub.

COUNTING LOCUSTS BEFORE THEY ARE HATCHED.—A writer in the Akron Beacon, dating from Coventry, in Summit county, predicts the appearance of locusts this coming year, because he has found them in the earth, this winter, 15 or 20 inches from its surface.

Another writer in the same paper, dating from Tallmadge, says the locusts will not appear until 1863, and in proof of his prophesy says that in the spring of 1843 he plowed his orchard and found thousands of locusts within 8 inches of the surface, but they did not come out until '46, three years after.

HIGH WATER.—It is believed that the water of Lake Erie was never higher than at present. Many acres of land near our harbor which have borne large crops and upon which grew heavy timber, are now daily and perhaps irrecoverably submerged. And by the action of the waves upon the banks, the water is wearing away the land at a fearful rate. Mr. Jonauhan Gilbert informs us that the water has encroached upon and thus destroyed more than thirty acres of his land within the past thirty years.—Conneaut Paper.

UNCLAIMED DIVIDENDS.—A proposition is before the New York Legislature, to escheat to the State all unclaimed dividends lying in banks and saving institutions. The amount is supposed to be from two to six millions of dollars, lying in the banks without a lawful owner; and therefore it is contended that the amount should escheat to the State. The opponents of the measure predict trouble and cost, and question the propriety of such a wholesale confiscation.

THE Washington Star has a private dispatch, stating that on Monday that Buchanan-Whig, Mr. Benjamin was nominated by the Democratic caucus for reelection to the United States Senate. On the ballot before that consummation, the Hon. Mr. Sandidge received thirty five votes—just half the caucus. Whereupon, it is presumed that those who had voted up to that time occasionally for others united with the friends of Mr. Benjamin, and thus nominated him.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Jan. 26.—The Committee of Ways and Means are again hopelessly divided on the Tariff question. They are brought to a dead look, and are unable to secure a majority for any proposition whatever. The Chairman, Mr. Phelps, was closeted at the Treasury Department to-night with Secretary Cobb and the principle revenue clerks, for another effort to arrange a scheme to captivate the Committee. —N. Y. Times.

E. MERIAN'S record shows that the use of camphene burning fluid and kindred preparations, for the purpose of illumination last year, caused the death of 54 persons, and resulted in serious injury to 93 others, 11 of whom were not expected to recover, beside which fires involving a loss of $58,044 arose from the same cause.

THE second instalment of the Fort Snelling purchase, which was due in July, was not paid but arrangements have been made, with the consent of Floyd, for an extension of time, by which a forfeiture is prevented. Steele and his associates give assurance that no delay will occur as to the third instalment.—Cin. Gaz.

STATE OF PENNA., AT 12 O'CLOCK, M.,

Expose to sale by Public Outcry, and sell for cash to the highest and best bidder, all the following described property in said indenture mentioned and described, to wit:

All that certain Railroad, with a single track, in the county of Beaver, in the State of Pennsylvania, known as "THE DARLINGTON CANNEL COAL RAILROAD," beginning at or near the Darlington Station on the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad (now Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad), and extending through the Borough of Darlington, and down along the valley of Little Beaver Creek to the Coal Mines of the said "The Darlington Cannel Coal Railroad Company" a distance of about six miles, and the switches and branches thereof, including all rights of way and the land occupied thereby, together with the superstructure and tracks thereon, and all bridges, viaducts, culverts, water tanks and tank houses, water pipes, and all water rights, turn tables, scales, fences, depots and depot grounds and building locomotive, tender, cars, trucks, tools, implements and mining implements, and also all franchises and corporate privileges of said company, with the appurtenances, including specifically the following described land, and tenements:

All that certain tract or parcel of land situate in Darlington township, in the county of Beaver, and State aforesaid, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a black oak adjoining lands of William Sterling, and running thence south eighty-three and three-fourths degrees west fifty-five perches and seven-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by lands of Patrick Doran south eighty-eight and three-fourths degrees west fifteen perches and seven-tenths of a perch to a post; thence by lands of Thomas Dennis south two degrees east one hundred and eighty-four perches and two-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by land of William Sterling south eighty-nine and three-fourths degrees east forty-nine perches and five-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by land of William Sterling north one hundred and thirteen perches and two-tenths of a perch to a post; thence by lands of Campbell and Bernar north two degrees west one hundred and twenty-nine perches and five-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by lands of James Burns north eighty-three degrees east six perches and two-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by land of William Carson north two degrees west forty-one perches to a stone; thence by lands of David Andrew and William Duff north eighty-nine degrees west one hundred and seventy-eight perches to the place of beginning; containing four hundred and twelve acres, fifty perches and thirty hundredths of a perch more or less. It being the same tract of land which John M'Cowen and wife and Atkinson Martin and wife granted and conveyed to the said The Darlington Cannel Coal Railroad Company, by their deed dated the eighth day of February, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and recorded in the Recorder's office in and for the county of Beaver and State aforesaid, in deed book No. 31, page 359, as by reference being thereunto had may more fully and at large appear; of which 210 acres are cleared and on which are erected two two story frame dwelling houses, two log cabins, one large frame barn, one log barn and a log stable, and being thrown an apple and peach orchard of 150 bearing trees.

Also, all the undivided half of a piece or parcel of cannel and bituminous coal land lying in Darlington Township, County of Beaver and State aforesaid, and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the north-west corner, adjoining lands of W. R. Sterling and lands of the said The Darlington Cannel Coal Railroad Company, at a stone, and running thence south eighty-three and three-fourths degrees east fifty-five perches and seven-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by land of Elder & White north two degrees east one hundred and seventy-three and four-tenths perches to a stone; thence by land of R. NEW

UPRIGHT PIANOS.

THE SUBSCRIBER has just received another of those beautiful

NEW UPRIGHT PIANOS,

Late brought out by Messrs. Chickering & Sons, of Boston This instrument is of the same style and quality as the one that attracted so much attention at our State Fair last October, and which was immediately sold to go out of the city, thereby preventing the subscriber from having the pleasure of showing it to many who were desirous of seeing the same. The new upright is similar in shape to the Boudoir or Cottage Piano, now so popular in London and Paris, but in order to secure a more powerful and more even scale, fifty perches and a half more of wire are used, and on which are erected two three-story frame dwelling houses.

Also, all that piece or parcel of land situate in Darlington township, in the county of Beaver and State aforesaid, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a stone and running thence by lands of William Duff north one hundred degrees west thirty-two perches and five-tenths of a perch to a post; thence by lands of William Duff north one and a half degrees east sixty-seven perches and three-tenths of a perch to a post; thence by land of Patrick Doran north eighty-eight and three-fourths degrees west sixty-seven perches and seven-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by lands of Benjamin Leonard south six degrees east one hundred and thirty-two perches and one-tenth of a perch to a stone; thence by land of Benjamin Leonard south eighty-nine degrees east fifteen perches and seven-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by land of William Sterling south two degrees east one hundred and eighty-four perches and two-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by land of William Sterling south eighty-nine and three-fourths degrees east forty-nine perches and five-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by lands of Campbell and Bernar north two degrees west one hundred and twenty-nine perches and five-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by lands of James Burns north eighty-three degrees east six perches and two-tenths of a perch to a stone; thence by land of William Carson north two degrees west forty-one perches to a stone; thence by lands of David Andrew and William Duff north eighty-nine degrees west one hundred and seventy-eight perches to the place of beginning; containing four hundred and twelve acres, fifty perches and thirty hundredths of a perch more or less. It being the same tract of land which John M'Cowen and wife and Atkinson Martin and wife granted and conveyed to the said The Darlington Cannel Coal Railroad Company, by their deed dated the eighth day of February, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, and recorded in the Recorder's office in and for the county of Beaver and State aforesaid, in deed book No. 31, page 359, as by reference being thereunto had may more fully and at large appear; of which 210 acres are cleared and on which are erected two two story frame dwelling houses, two log cabins, one large frame barn, one log barn and a log stable, and being thrown an apple and peach orchard of 150 bearing trees.

Also, all the undivided half of a piece or parcel of cannel and bituminous coal land lying in Darlington Township, County of Beaver and State aforesaid, and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the north-west corner, adjoining lands of W. R.
