how the free-lit[illegible] benefited by the operat[illegible]ill, and on this point remarks:

"At Pittsburgh, the cotton of Alabama and Mississippi, the pig iron of Ohio, Virginia, Kentucky and Pennsylvania, the lumber and sandstone of the Allegheny, the copper ore of the Michigan region and wheat of the Far West, meet to be converted into a thousand shapes—into cotton cloth; bar, sheet and cast iron; nails, sash, boards and plank; glass and copper and flour; engines and machinery of every description; steamboats; munitions of war; implements of husbandry; the most of the flour consumed by the operatives; all this carried upon your railroads and rivers and seas, swelling the tonnage upon them all, and greatly contributing to swell the foreign as well as domestic commerce of the country. But, sir, this is not all. The raw material which is concentrated at this point, in addition to the immense amount of machinery required, employs thousands of operatives, male and female, to convert it into the articles enumerated; and to this is mainly to be attributed the great population of the single county of Allegheny, which, by the census of 1850, numbered one hundred and thirty-eight thousand souls—within a fraction of half the white population of South Carolina, which had only two hundred and eighty-three thousand at that time."

It was through no unkind feeling to Mr. Foster that we copied the paragraph from the Harrisburg Telegraph, on Monday. There seems to be a very bitter feeling between the Telegraph and Mr. Foster, but while we regret that such feelings should exist, we cannot—take part in the quarrel. The dispatches from Harrisburg to our city press are, it is well known, made up by Mr. Foster, who has kindly volunteered to perform that service; and in one of these dispatches it was stated that Mr. Bergner, the editor of the Telegraph had been detected in an act of forgery—consisting of altering a contract in which he was interested, in the sight of the House while it was in session. As "forgery" is a hard word, and Mr. Bergner denied the allegation, we thought it but right to give the denial of the latter. In doing so, we were trying to perform an act of justice, but must not be understood as endorsing or approving the hard language used. We do not think Mr. Foster is open to the harsh language applied to him by the Telegraph, nor do we believe that Mr. Bergner was in any way open to the charge of forgery. Having said this much in justice to both parties, we are not inclined to take further part in the discussion.

The first Passenger Railway bill, applying to this city, was presented to the House by Mr. McDowell; and inasmuch as its provisions have been generally condemned, it is due to Mr. McDowell to say that he introduced the bill to oblige a friend, and disclaims any thing like approval of it or committal to its support. He unites with our citizens generally in desiring a bill, if any should pass at all, much modified from the original. The introduction of bills by members, at the request of their constituents, has never been held to indicate that the member himself is favorable to it. The introduction is simply an act of accommodation to the original framers of the bill, who have not, otherwise, the opportunity of getting their measures before the House. It is only when a member presents a bill of his own that he is to be held responsible for what it may contain.

A Car Rolling Down Hill with Passengers and a Red-Hot Stove.—An accident occurred on the Williamsport and Elmira (N. Y.,) railroad on Friday week. Some fifteen miles below the former place the train passed over a broken rail while running on a curve dug into the side of a mountain. On the left was a precipitous declivity of seventy-five feet to the river. The engine and baggage car went over the gap and kept the track, but the first passenger car, in which were Col. Paine, the postmaster at Rochester, and seven other gentlemen, uncoupled both in front and rear, left the track and started down the precipice. It turned over once and a half in going twice its length, and then brought up against some rocks, where it lay at an angle of about forty-five degrees, with the passengers and all the fixtures in it, including the stove, in a promiscuous pile at the lower end.

Col. Paine writes that he clung to his seat, and in all the leaping and rolling of the car, never let go his hold. Seeing the hot stove coming down the aisle towards him, he checked it with his foot and prevented it from striking those below with as much violence as it otherwise would have done. The car took fire before any of the passengers could extricate themselves, but they finally broke through the windows and made their escape. Judge Lyman, of Corning, was severely bruised, and Colonel Paine feare fatally injured. A Mr. Beebe, of Bath, was also hurt severely, and a young man from Baltimore, who went into fits afterwards, owing probably to the fright. A Catholic priest, whose name is not given, was slightly injured. In fact, nobody in the car save Col. Paine escaped. He did not get a scratch, but writes that he is little sore and lame.

Kansas.—We have already published an account of the capture of several runaway negroes in Kansas, by armed men from Platte county, Mo., and the arrest, without warrant, of Dr. Doy and his son, citizens of Kansas, on the charge of having kidnapped the former. The Leavenworth Times of the 20th ult. contains an account of the treatment of the prisoners after their arrival at Weston. The two Doys were thrust into a dirty cell, refused the common necessaries of life, and threatened with lynching by a mob of excited men who surrounded the jail. An examination was held, at which the defendants vainly pleaded their right to be tried in Kansas. The result of the mock trial was their commitment to the county jail at Platte City, whither they were conveyed hand-cuffed, and mounted behind negroes. The throng of desperadoes who followed and insulted them during their journey, as they drew near to the jail with the prisoners, took a vote as to what should be their fate. It was at first decided that they should be burned at the stake, but it was afterwards concluded to put them to death by hanging, and a time was fixed for the execution of the sentence. These outrages had excited intense indignation throughout the Territory, and preparations were at last accounts being actively made to deliver the prisoners and retaliate upon their captors.

The remains of the late Jacob Perkins, President of the Cleveland and Mahoning railroad, arrived at Warren, from Havana, on the 1st, and the funeral took place on the 3d inst. Mr. Perkins left an estate of about $600,000. His father, Gen. Perkins, an extensive land holder, and the richest man in Northern Ohio, bequeathed to each of his children $250,000, a sum which in the hands of Jacob was largely increased.

Company [illegible] ...ger than in 1857.
...ds coal delivered in Pittsburgh amounted to 99,640 tons in 1858.

The rolling stock of the road is full. There are 209 locomotives, with about 2300 passenger, freight, lumber and coal cars.

The transportation of coal and lumber from the Broad Top and Allegheny regions, may make the lower Juniata division of the Canal pay.

The Upper Juniata and Lower Western division of the Canal must be kept in order, by the conditions of the purchase, but in reference to the Upper Western Division no such requirement exists, and as no local interest would be seriously affected it is not proposed to incur any considerable expense to keep it open. From Columbia to the south branch of the Juniata the Canal is to be deepened, to accommodate the Susquehanna coal and lumber trade. There is a prospect of the coal trade from Huntingdon to tide water returning to the Canal.

With regard to the terminus on the Delaware, resolutions were adopted directing the Board to advertise for suitable sites, and giving the board the power to select, by a vote of two-thirds, the route, and the site of the depot at the terminus.

Four Persons Suffocated.—A shocking affair occurred at a house corner of Fulton avenue and Elm place, Brooklyn, yesterday morning, by which Mrs. Edward Gill, her two children, aged respectively 15 months and 6 years, and a servant girl named Ann Keegan, were suffocated by smoke while the house was on fire. The fire was first discovered soon after 3 o'clock yesterday morning, by some person passing in the street. Mr. Thomas Gill was the first one in the house who discovered the fire. He immediately aroused his companion and gave the alarm. The inmates all rushed to the stairway, but found their retreat cut off by the fire in this direction; they could not descend even to the second story. In the excitement of the moment all entered Mrs. Gill's room. Mr. Gill took several blankets and tied them together, and, fastening one end, threw the other out of the window, and lowered himself part way down, when he missed his hold and fell on the stone ground below. In his fall, his head came in contact with an iron fence, and he received a severe scalp wound. He was followed by Mr. Graves, who also fell on a portion of the distance and sprained his ancles. One of the sisters (Keegan,) went to the back room about this time, and with some kind of a string lowered herself out of the back window. The cord was not long enough to reach the ground, and she hung suspended in a position until the night cap on her head caught fire, when she let go her hold and fell into the yard. One thigh and both legs were broken by the fall, and she received other injuries. What we have related thus far transpired within a few minutes. Mrs. Gill, about this time, was seen at the window imploring for help. The blanket we still hung out of the window, but she could not be induced to take hold of it. A fireman at this time seized hold of it, and giving a slight jerk, it broke loose. Mrs. Gill was then urged to throw out a bed and jump upon it, but she soon disappeared. By this time Hose Company No 3 and Engine Company No. 16 had streams of water upon the fire, and it was soon extinguished. As soon as it was possible to reach the third story Mrs. Gill's body was found in a sitting posture, near the window of her room, with her arms clasping her two children. Near them was the girl Keegan. They were but little burned, and a coroner's jury has rendered a verdict that all died from suffocation. The origin of this fire is wrapped in mystery.—N. Y. Times.

I have heretofore refrained from noticing any of the rumors afloat in regard to the Treasury defalcation. I can now state that the result of the late visit of Mr. Edgerton to Mr. Breslin's home in Canada, are perfectly satisfactory. He succeeded in obtaining from Mr. Breslin a statement covering some forty pages of manuscript, in which most of the missing funds are accounted for. Two hundred thousand dollars are, for personal and private reasons, I understand, as yet left unexplained as to their whereabouts, but will be accounted for in due season and probably saved. The disclosures made by Mr. Breslin, I am assured, are very full, and are strongly confirmed by testimony previously in possession of the Investigating Committee, and discloses the names of parties who were instrumental in getting Mr. B. into his financial embarrassments and since his flight have been very averse to his return to the State, and consequently exonerate Mr. Gibson from any complicity in the defalcation. The report of the Committee will soon be made to the General Assembly, the only difficulty, I am told, is to determine what shall be done with the mass of testimony rendered useless by Mr. Breslin's disclosures.—Columbus Cor. Cleve. Herald.

The Olean (N. Y.) Advertiser has the following: "The amount of lumber annually run down the Allegheny river and its tributaries, is estimated at from 150,000,000 to 175,000,000 feet. This amount is to be greatly reduced the coming Spring. We doubt if it will exceed 100,000,000 feet, including the amount manufactured and to be manufactured from the logs now on hand. The amount of logs now on hand cannot be greatly increased unless we get snow. Up to this time we have not had more than four or five days sleighing, and though there is time enough for it, the prospect for snow is not very flattering. Eastern dealers have been among our manufacturers very recently making purchases, and, we hear, have agents now among them to purchase to almost any amount for export via Genesseee Valley Canal the coming season. Good lots of lumber on the dock at Olean, are now worth from $12 to $13 per thousand feet, while in Pittsburgh it is worth from $11 to $12,50. This fact should and doubtless will attract the attention of our lumbermen and dealers, who have always heretofore sought a southern market for their lumber."

The Cuban egg is to be hatched in 1860, and in this wise, according to the Washington correspondent of the Journal of Commerce:

"The State Rights men of the South will, it is said, generally oppose the Thirty Millions Cuban bill, and go for Mr. Taylor's project of a bill authorizing the President to buy Cuba, if he can do so at the sum of $150,000,000, and consummate the purchase by the annexation of Cuba, and allowing it four Representatives in Congress. The scheme may, perhaps, be adopted by the President in preference to his own, if it can be carried through Congress. Whether Congress will go so far with the matter, is not certain; but it is understood that, if they do, they will give the Democracy a fresh impulse, and perhaps cement it together by a new and strong bond. The Democracy will rally for a President at the next election who will be most likely to act on the power thus invested in him and buy Cuba. No one supposes that he can buy it, but the man who will promise to buy it, will carry with him the majority of numbers."

It is a fact that Mr. Spurgeon has recently received a very liberal offer from persons in this country to come here and preach. "We have seen a private letter from him, however," says the New York Post, "which authorizes us to say that though it is likely he will soon visit America he will do so without any pecuniary engagement or inducement of the kind mentioned in the above letter, or of any other sort whatever. He will visit America, if he visit it at all, as an independent preacher, and whatever means he may take to raise money for the building of his new chapel will be taken after he shall have reached this city."

NEW EVIDENCE.

Being afflicted with a grievous Tetter on the arms and face—after trying many remedies which utterly failed to cure—I was persuaded to try Lindsey's Improved Blood Searcher, and now, six weeks after finishing the second bottle, pronounce myself cured.

The Tetter broke out, something over a year ago, on the inside of my arms, extending from the elbows down to the wrists; also, on my face, immediately round the mouth and chin, and continued to be a perfect torment to me until cured by the Blood Searcher. My arms, at times, were almost continuous sores, owing to the cracks and sores on them, liable to bleed at any time on the least exertion to lift or work, and sometimes so itchy that I could scarcely prevent tearing off my flesh. I have now been cured six weeks, and feel it due to Mr. Lindsey, and to the public generally, to make this statement, and hope that others like myself may be benefited by using his valuable medicine.

RICHARDSON'S
IRISH LINENS,
Damasks, Diapers, &c.
CONSUMERS OF RICHARDSON'S LINENS, and those desirous of obtaining the GENUINE GOODS, should see that the articles they purchase are sealed with the full name of the firm,
RICHARDSON, SONS & OWDEN,
as a guarantee of the soundness and durability of the Goods
This caution is rendered essentially necessary as large quantities of inferior and defective Linens are prepared, season after season and sealed with the name of RICHARDSON, by Irish Houses, who, regardless of the injury thus inflicted alike on the American consumer and the manufacturers of the genuine Goods, will not readily abandon a business so profitable, while purchasers can be imposed on with goods of a worthless character.

to stand well in [illegible] most pure and brilliant quality, approaching as possible to the unrivalled Grand Piano of distinguished makers.

The torch is elastic and easy, and the compass full seven octaves of the same scale of the Grand Piano.

The price of the new Upright Pianos will be from $260 to $500—according to the style of finish.

The above instrument is the only one that the Messrs. Chickering have been able to furnish since the one sent to our State Fair, owing to the pressing demand for them from all parts of the country. The public are respectfully invited to call and examine this new and delightful instrument.

A new supply of Chickering & Sons' new scale seven octaves square Pianos will be received this and the coming week.

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION!
DR. CHURCHILL'S DISCOVERY!
Winchester's Genuine Preparation of Dr. J. F. Churchill's Compound of
THE HYPOPHOSPHITES
of LIME, SODA and POTASH,
A SPECIFIC REMEDY FOR THE TREATMENT OF CONSUMPTION.

THE great Chemico-Medical Discovery of the celebrated Dr. J. F. Churchill, of Paris, that has been known by him to the French Academy of Medicine about 2 years ago, marks a new and important era in the annals of Medical Science.

Now, for the first time in the history of the world, has a REMEDY been found that surely strikes at the very foundations of Pulmonary Disease, and by restoring the deficient chemical elements of the blood, turns the principle which constitutes nervous or vital force, invigorating the nutritive functions, and thus not only CURES, but also PREVENTS, the development of this hitherto most fatal scourge of the human race.

☞ Caution to the Public. ☜
Various preparations are already in the market, purporting to be based on Dr. Churchill's discovery, against which we solemnly caution both the profession and the public.

Let no one be deceived, but ask for and use only the preparation sold from the sole General Depot in the United States, No. 49 John street, and bearing fac simile signature of J. F. Winchester, by whom also the genuine prescription is put up in a reliable and correct manner.

In all Nervous or Scrofulous Complaints, Debility, Loss of Vital Power, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Bad Blood, Scrofula, Consumption, it is a sovereign and unfailing remedy.

☞ READ THE TESTIMONY. ☜
From the American Medical Monthly, for May, 1858.
"Whatever may be our conclusions with reference to the claims of Dr. Churchill,
