| Exercise Companies of the Filhbergh Casette) | Exercise Companies of the Filhbergh Casette) | Exercise Companies C tion. A century ago New England and Delaware raised wheat as an ordinary crop; now a wheat field is a revity in these States, and they may be considered no longer wheat-producing regions. Portlons of New York that formerly produced thirty bushels to the acre now seldom average over eight bushels; and Ohio, new as she is, with her virgin soil, does not average over thisteen bushels to the acre. There are no such things as agricultural statistics in Pennsylvania; but, so far as Western Pennsylvania; but, so far as Western Pennsylvania is concerned, we venture to affirm from our own knowledge of the facts that the growth of wheat has been for years declining, and statistics and that the cause is to be found, not so much in bad and aniavorable seasons as in bad tillage and that destructive system which takes every thing possible from the soil and restores nothing to it. The case of access to so excellent a market sample and that destructive system which takes every thing possible from the soil and restores nothing to it. The case of access to so excellent a market sample should, by this time, have turned the whole of Alleghony county into the rich condition of a garden, and our farmers should be, what they are not, the well-paid producers of the many necessaries of life which we have now to draw from far-distant points in Ohio and elsewhere. Instead of laboring, as the English farmers have done, to bring the soil up to the highest point of productiveness, they have somed bent on exhausting it; and hills that were once verdant with a productive growth are now to be seen exposing their bare sides to the sun and tho storm, with the soil washed away and the storm in the case is to be seen exposing their bare sides to the sun and the storm, with the soil washed away and the s no such things as agricultural statistics in

And it seems to be little better elsewhere. Of our neighboring State of Ohio, the Ohio Farmer says:

"If we go on as we have for the past century, from bad to worse in our tillage, the lands in Ohio in half a century from this time will not produce wheat enough to supply our wants. It is less than that time since Vermont was a large wheat-exporting State; now she does not export a bushel, but-imports at least two-thirds of all the flour consumed in that State. Instead of increasing the productiveness of our wheat land, as is done in England, our wheat region is diminished more than one-half, and the productive quality of what is still used has diminished in equal proportion."

The remedy for this is to be found in that great truth which underlies all agricultural

What his Thibes of Us.—The admirers of Lamartine, the French poet-mendicant, who reside in the United States, have had a rare opportunity recently afforded them of ascertaining what that individual thinks of them and their country.
It is the old story over again, and which has been often repeated since Dickens and Trollope published their note-books on America. His views may be candid, but they are certainly not gratefol, when we remember the aid which has been

Violence and gold are ephemeral deities. Spiritualism and heroism are eternal gods. Every fillibuster is not a Cortex nor an Albuquerque, and all the shopkeepers in the world could not purchase one of your national virtues. My heart is with your countrymen; my prayers are against their incountrymen; my prayers are against their in-waders. If I was younger, I would go and fight for your independence, which is as necessary to the old world as to the new."

An act to incorporate the Pittsburgh Gymnastic P. Another Flood.—Since writing the river news we have received later advices by telegraph and by the sleamer Dians. We do not apprehend an overflow here, but the country bordering on the Lower Mississippi is certainly in danger. There were If feet water at Pittsburgh

Washington county, and nearly if not all of Issaquena.

The Memphis Bulletin of Thursday says:
The river between this and Caigo is out of its banks in many places, with a break in the levee at Bowlett's or Blackmore's place, and a few miles below Osceola through which the water is pouring into the St. Francis. It is probable that to these breaks the fall in the river here is mainly attributable. Below we hear of several cremasses, none of which are causing material damage, save a recent one at Eagle Bend, a short distance above Miliken's Bend, on the plantation of Mr. Edrington, which is threatened with utter annihilation. The plantation, as is all down on the map, is on a peninsula which the Mississippi has on previous occasions shorn of its dimensions, and now threatens to inundate altogether.
