TRUBBOAT MORNING, MARCH 31, 1860.

TRUBBOAT MORNING

The Washington Thion is very much opposed to the movement in favor of an independent Democratio organization in this State. It has no confidence in the men who are at the head of it, and says "there is no sense in holding a separate convention." If - its advice were to prevail, we are certain there would be no convention held at Harrisburg on the 13th of April next. As there are some bolters in this city we copy a portion of the Union's article in order to let them see, how they look when rivewd from a certain stand point at the Federal Capital:

"We may with propriety, we trust, suggest to the movement of the Pennsylvania meating that it would asset time and expanse and be far more honorable to act at once and in all things, with the Bepublicans. There is no sense in holding a separate State convention university in the size of policy. If the green beads expect to make favorable terms will the abolticansian, and believe that they can do so only by getting up a general meeting, their present movement is timely and expressive. It is to be called a Democratio meeting, when the colland in the old adaloned plan of putting down rebellion in Aheranks of the party. Whenever member, of a number of members, within its or ganization venture to differ with the recognized leaders, they at once cense to be Democrated when the recognized leaders, they at once cense to be Democrated was a leading spirit among the Democrated with the opposition. It 1856, Ferney was a leading spirit among the Democrated with the opposition.
