THE DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE. ESTABLISHED IN 1786. PITTSBURGH, FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 8, 1859. VOLUME LXXII---NUMBER 102. Druggiste. Furniture. Tittsburgh Guzette. Charty.—The National Intelligencer, referring to the efforts of Mr. Everett, in aid of charitable institutions, says: JOHN P. SCOTT, WHOLESALE DEAL-ger in Drugs, Paints, Oilsi Variables and Dyestuffa, No. 2051 Liberty street, Pitchburgh. All orders will receive permpt attention. Insurance. CHARITY.—The National Intelligence, referring to the efforts of Mr. Everett, in aid of charitable institutions, says:

"It is a fact sufficiently established that in these cities or towns which do not possess organized institutions for the relief of suffering or the ref. formation of morals, benevolence flows in small and scattered rills. The want of concentration of means and co-operation of individuals engaged in a common cause is attended by a wasteful or partial distribution of private resources; and besides, the absence of association engenders languor and apathy, which united and emulative effort forever banish from society. A nucleus of force determines motions in its own elementary parts and incites neighboring molecules to activity. And so it is with a nucleus of charity in a community, if life and healthful vigor are once imparted to it, real and bustle are called into being in its surroundings. Let a public hospital apring up and be seen in successful operation, and presently the germ of charity, which lay latent in the bosom of close-fieled individuals, is developed into a more or less flourishing tree, bearing thefroit of donations. Build a house of refuge anywhere, and following its erection may be noticed an unreluctant general disposition to contribute towards its support. JAMES W. WOODWELL. THOS. LITTLE & TRIMBLE,
