WAGONS FOR APRICA .- Mr. S. M. Griffin, a ingenious mechanic and carriage-builder, of thi city, has received an order, from a very distant market, for the construction of some carriage city, has received an order, from a very distant market, for the construction of some carringes of a novel description. The order comes, through agents, from parties on the coast of Africa, and is for twelve or fitteen wagons, to be precisely like a model shipped, and now in the shop of Mr Griffin. This model vehicle is made from a variety of wood, which persons having seen it do not agree in classifying—its bark, which in one or two places remain on, resembling beech, but differing in other respects from that wood. It seems to yield easily to decay, and, indeed, the order is understood to have come hither, because of the superiority of New Hampshire wood. line passing perpendicularly through the bub. The edges of the spokes are carred, and the whole running part is painted a dingy red. The axies are very heavy, and the draft-shaft is much like a nlow hearm.

Sties are very heavy, and the draft-shaft is much like a plow-beam.
On this running part is fastened a frame work, resembling somewhat that of the plantation wagons, which are built in this city to be used in the Southern States for drawing cotton, but the whole is of a clumsy, Dutch-like style and finish. sh.
Such carriages are used for long caravap jour-

Such carriages are used for long caravan journeys towards the interior of Africs, and thirty bullooks are often employed in the draught of one of them. They are usually built for the great trading companies on the coast, and are irequeutly disposed of to the more wealthy of the natives, who are said to pay extremely exorbitant prices for them.—Concord (N. II) Statesman, April 2.

among our country friends, to all of whom it must be important to ascertain what weight of pork may be calculated upon in good feading to a bushel of corn. Here is a solution of the problem. Mr. J. B. Cross, of East Highgate, VL., paid $1,50 for a pig. one-fourth Suffolk to three-fourths native, of 7 pounds weight, April 10th, 1856; fed on milk and stop and 13½ bushels of corn meal, made into pudding, until Dec. 8th, and then killed, and weighed 325 pounds of pork. He says:

crops very fair. The wheat looks better than we remember to have seen it look in years past, so early in the scason. There is an evenness and richness of color that indicates great health and vigor in the young plants and the promises at present are of an abundant harrest. The grass is coming on finely, and everywhere the farmers are busy plowing for oats and corn, and the work of the farm, as a general thing is well davanced. The prospects of fruit still hold good notwithstanding many severe frests, and snow storms during the latter and of the last, and thus far in the present month. Buds of all kinds are well forward but uninjured as yet, and if no late freets come to "blest our hopes, in the buds," we shall revel in peaches and cream during later THE Evansville Journal, says of the when THE Evansville Journal, eays of the wheat crop:

"From every part of the country we hear the most cheering accounts of the coming wheat crop. It is supposed that the crop has so far advanced, and the rains throughout the country have been so abundant, that we can have little reason to fear that either a general drought or insects can henceforth destroy the present general prospects of a harvest greatly exceeding that of last year. This is grantifying beyond expression. Many of the farmers of the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys have been laboring under embarraesments, growing out of the unusually poor crops of the past two years, who will now have an opportunity, through the success of this year's crop, to get themselves out of debt, and to breathe much free:

year's crop, to got incumerves out or usus, now to breathe much freer.

Judge Douglas, on account of previous engagements, declines the invitation of the Pitts burgh Democracy; to be with them on the coming 4th of July.—Wash. Cor. Phil. Press..

The fact is, Judge Douglas is declining to be anybody. It may safely be asserted that he is in a decline. We hear nothing of him but "the declines." He declined to take part in the Connectiout campaign-but wrote a stupid letter, from which extracts were published, which will rise up in judgment sgainst him. The Popular Sovereignty Democracy must look about them, and pick out a new leader.—Cin. Com.

The New York Journal of Commerce, with an oracular dignity that Jack Bunsby himself never sittained, says "if parties would always select their best men for candidates, we should have much better Legislatures and much better laws to be much better Legislatures and much better laws.

B. Gratz Brown, Esq.—Republicans through out the Northwest, and in fact, all over the Union, will hear with regret that B. Gratz Brown, Esq., the able and accomplished editor of the Missouri Democrat, has withdrawn from his connection with that paper. Mr. Brown has made the Democrat a highly honorable name in American journalism, and has won for himself a reputed that the penderat will not fall into less capable hands, and that Mr. Brown may have in whatever he may engage, that rich success which is his due.

The Next Cars Crop.—The Baton Rouge.

THE NEXT CAME CROP.-The Baton Rouge Advertuer hears complaints among the planters, of great damage to their seed cane by the wet weather during the winter. The eyes have rot-changed to the Vashington Union has been changed to the Constitution. The editor says that hereafter it will be a "Newspaper," and in executibn of his plan writes a leader in favor of the war with Mexico—not the next war, but the last one. His second effort will probably be in support of the American Revolution. Fast men, those Government editors.—N. Y. Trib. The consumption of gold leaf and plate in the United States for the preservation and renovation of teeth—amounts to about two and a quarter millions of dellars per annum. Laterly the use of gold for the plating of artificial teeth has been superseded in some quarters by vulcanized rubber, which is found to combine lightness and a pleasant degree of elasticity with cleanliness and durability.

The New York Day Book, a leading Democratic paper, accounts for the recent election in Connecticut on the hypothesis that the "Democrator of a general concession that stavery is an crit."

It also declares that the Democratic party of Connecticut is a humbug," because it admits slavery to be an evil.

Ture President has ordered Mr. Bull, of l'ennsylvania, one of the special agents dismissed by Mr. Holt as useless, to be restored.

So says a telegraphic despatch, not the most reliable authority by any means. If it he true, the question will arise as to who is responsible for the management of the Post Office Department, the Post Master General or President Buchanan.

A VOTE CHALLENGED -In Durbam, Ct., a the election last week, Dr. Smith, an old citizen aged 34 years, offered his vote and was challenged. His reply to the challenge was "t have voted in Durham 59 years and that was before you were born." The vote passed without further interruption. The plagues of Cuba are mosquitoes, ants and
