COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—More Stolen Brass.—Nothing but brass; the court room is quite like an old junk shop in appearance. Hoover—who, by the way, we learn, has given bail—has been convicted; so has Nichols. Maloney was found guilty on one charge and acquitted of another. We learn there are several other indictments yet pending against him.

Yesterday morning, (Thursday,) the case of Michael Liston came up, who stood indicted for receiving stolen goods, (old brass and old iron,) knowing them to be stolen, on oath of Samuel M'Kelvy, Esq. The case was a clear one, and Liston was found guilty.

Conrad Rauner, charged with attempt to commit rape, on oath of Catharine Meyer, was yesterday admitted to bail in the sum of $1000. He has been in jail on this charge for some time.

Assault and Battery.—Squire Bahoup, of Duquesne borough, prosecuted Robt. Bell, Michael Hartmeyer and Dennis Mullen, for assault and battery, on the 14th and 15th of January last, in the Third ward, Allegheny. Mr. Bahoup appeared as attorney for a man named Kirchner, before Ald. Bell, as above, K. being charged with disorderly conduct. It appeared from the testimony adduced in the trial, as far as it has advanced, that after the exaltination and thadeposition of Mr. Alderman, Mr. Bahoup remarked in effect that the case had been prejudged, and made besides some other remarks, which did not please Mr. Bell, whereupon a rencontre ensued, in which the three defendants above named put Mr. Bahoup out of the office where the trial took place, "with force and arms," and he, falling upon his shoulder on the sidewalk, injured himself considerably. Marshall for prosecution; Hampton & Pollock for defence. On trial.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The open space between the Journal and Press offices is to be filled up by a fine brick block, with iron front. Workmen have nearly completed the excavations necessary for the foundations of the building.

The substructure for the new iron front which Wm. M. Lyon, Esq., is about erecting, whose site and dimensions we described in an article several days ago, will soon be completed. A large number of men are at work upon it.

The fine story of the iron front of N. Holmes' new Banking House, on Market street, is already in place. It will be very neat and substantial, and is building under the direction of Mr. Barthberger, architect.

Messrs Reyher & Anderson, the celebrated dealers in fruit, etc., etc., (whose card may be found in our paper,) have not sufficient room for their increasing business in their present spacious store on Wood street. They are about enlarging it, very materially, and otherwise improving it, so as to bring it up with the times and afford them sufficient room.

The new block on the corner of Market and Water is not yet commenced. The demolition of the old buildings is not yet finished, and the same may be said of the block on Fifth street, near Market, and of the one on St. Clair.

THE Atlantic Monthly, for May, is already on our table. We have only as yet glanced over its beautifully printed pages. Its contents are varied. Among the articles we note are—The Gymnasium: Why did the Governess Faint; A Bundle of Old Letters; In the Pines; The Utah Expedition; Bulls and Bears; A Trip to Cuba; The Professor at the Breakfast Table; The Minister's Wooing, etc. The Bundle of Old Letters contains some valuable sketches of the Revolutionary struggles by Dr. Foster, who passed through "labors, dangers and sufferings" in the cause of freedom. For a copy of the Atlantic before us, we are indebted to the publishers, Messrs. Phillips & Sampson.

—Since writing the above, we have also received a copy of the Atlantic Monthly from Mr. W. A. Gildenfenny, whose store is opposite the old Theatre. Give him a call.

DELEGATES.—At the late meeting of Allegheny Presbytery, Rev. J. F. McClaren, D. D., and Mr. T. H. Nevin were appointed delegates to the General Assembly, and Rev. Dr. Elliott and M. L. Hawkins, Esq., alternate. Mr. Launitz was appointed missionary for our German citizens in Manchester and vicinity, and Drs. Swift and Plumer and Rev. Conrad a committee to superintend the mission.

In reference to the endowment of the Fourth Professorship in the Western Theological Seminary, the following action was taken:

Resolved, That the Presbytery has heard with satisfaction that quite a number of its churches have already moved in this, and that others are now proposing immediate action.

Rev Dr. McLaren was appointed stated supply to the churches of Pine Creek and Beaver for the ensuing year.

WELL ESTABLISHED.—We do not know how it happened that at the time we did not observe in our Washington (Pa.) exchanges the fact that at the meeting of the Board of Trustees, of Washington College, Pa., on March 15th, the degree of LL. D was conferred upon Neville B. Craig, Esq., of this city. The honor was never more worthily bestowed. The college conferred as great honor upon itself in giving, as Mr. Craig acquires in receiving it.

THE BANNER AND ADVOCATE says of the Sixth Church (Pres.) in this city, that the heavy debt upon it has been half liquidated by the congregation and the friends of the church, by a subscription of $2,500. Since the settlement of Rev. Mr. Finley, present pastor, two years ago, one hundred persons have been added to the communion. An appeal is made by the Banner to our citizens for money to discharge the remaining debt against the society.

WE have been much interested in an article in the last number of the North American Review, on Prince Gallitzin, the Russian nobleman, who abandoned wealth and honors at home, to labor as a Roman Catholic Priest among the mountains of Pennsylvania. It describes the character, life and labors of this Priest, who did so much to establish the Romish institutions in Cambria county.

DEATH OF A MINISTER.—The Mercer papers announce the death of the Rev Mr. Banks, of that place. The deceased was a Minister of the Associate Presbyterian Church, and after being admitted to preach, was settled in a Pastoral charge in North Carolina. He resigned his charge because he hated slavery, was afterwards, as we learn, Chaplain at the Allegheny Penitentiary, subsequently a Missionary in Trinidad.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—A young man, residing in the neighborhood of Rochester, fell on the track, while attempting to jump on a freight train, near Sewickley, on Tuesday evening, and one of the cars passing over him, his leg was mangled in a shocking manner. He was taken to the house of Mr. J. W. F. White, and, at last accounts, was so low, that his death was momentarily expected.

THE Washington (Pa.) Examiner notes the death, at his residence in Buffalo tp., on Monday the 14th inst., of David Allison, in the 80th year of his age. He was one of that noble band of patriots who served in the defence of the western frontier during the Indian wars. He also served under Gen. Harrison during the war of 1812, and voted for Washington for President.

The Morning Post learns that the Directors of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company have contracted to extend their road from Kittanning to the mouth of the Mahoning, a distance of ten miles. The contractors, Messrs. Fenlon and McCullough, are experienced, and possessed with sufficient facilities to push the work to an early completion.

THE New Brighton Times, of yesterday, says that G. W. Evans' fat cattle, for Easter, were bought from Mr. Robert Douthett, near that place. Bright and Reds (Brighton Reds,) weighed 4,650 pounds, and were, perhaps, as fine cattle as have been seen for some time in the Pittsburgh market.

SOME sacrilegious heathen entered the M. E. Church, at New Castle, last week, and stole the Missionary box, containing twenty-five or thirty dollars. This box belonged to the Sabbath School, and contained the contribution for Missionary purposes of the scholars for the past year.

WE are happy to learn that a large proportion of the money necessary to enlarge, beautify and improve the Liberty Street M. E. Church, has already been subscribed and the work will be likely to proceed, when once entered upon, without delay.

ONE of the pieces on exhibition at the National Academy of Design, at New York, and one most favorably noticed, is that by Mr. Geo. C. Lambdin, a name very familiar to the residents of Pittsburgh some 20 years ago.

SMELTING FURNACE.—We learn that James Wood, Esq., has already in operation a furnace for the smelting of ores from Missouri and Lake Superior, on the Beaver River, a few miles from its mouth.

A RAFT.—The Marietta Bucket Factory received a few days ago, a raft of timber from the Allegheny and its tributaries, containing seventy-seven thousand cubic feet. What a raft of tubs and buckets this timber will make.

We are indebted to Hon. David Ritchie for the 9th volume of the report of surveys for a railroad to the Pacific. It is a large volume, printed without regard to expense.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN ALLEGHENY CITY.—On Thursday afternoon, at 2½ o'clock, a fire broke out in the liquor store of L. W. Stewart, just above the N. E. corner of Federal street and the Diamond, in Allegheny City. All the buildings were of wood, two stories; and had it not been for the heroic efforts of the firemen, and the timely descent of a heavy shower, we would probably have to record a much more destructive conflagration than we have now to detail. As it is, the loss was large, and distributed as follows:

The first building on the corner was occupied by Henry Rabenau, boot and shoe dealer. His loss we are not able to state explicitly, but it was quite large, both from fire and water. The building was owned by S. S. Shields, formerly of Allegheny but now living in Columbiana, Ohio. We are unable to state anything as to the insurance.

Going on up Federal street, the next building was that of Stewart's, where the fire originated. [How it originated we are unable to state.] The house is owned by John Hobson, Esq., now living in Monongahela City. The roof was burned off, and the building much damaged. Loss of stock estimated at $1,500; insured for $1,000.

The next building was that of I. H. Clouse, grocer. The roof was burned off, and the whole interior much injured. The loss is heavy. Insured for $3,000 in the Pittsburgh Insurance Co.

Next came the tavern of J. Campbell, house called the "Farmer's Friend." The damage here was not so serious, as by this time the firemen were getting control of the flames. The roof was burned full of holes and the furniture was much damaged by fire and water. The house was owned by S. Wallace, grocer.

The next building was that owned and occupied by Mr. Wallace himself, grocer and wool dealer. Damage comparatively light. Insured for $1,200 in the Western Insurance Co., of this city. All these buildings were destroyed or injured, as above recounted, on Federal st.

Returning to the corner, the first building eastward, on the Diamond, was that of Legate & Brown, auctioneers. Building owned by S. S. Shields, Esq. They were unable to state how great their loss would be. They were insured in the Quaker City Co. for $1,000.

A. W. Fausnaught, confectioner, occupied the next building. The house was owned by Mrs. Noble's heirs. The damage was slight.

Here, substantially, the fire was stopped in this direction. A man named Frederic Owens, who lived in the next building was a good deal frightened, and moved his goods in a great hurry, thereby materially damaging them, but he sustained no direct injury from the flames. It has been some time, since so threatening and so damaging a fire occurred in either of these cities, and had the day been dry and windy, there is no telling where the flames would have been stopped.

The alarm last evening, was from the taking fire of some portion of the decorations of the altar at the chapel of the Religious House of the Sisters of Mercy, on Webster street. There was small damage.

THE OPERA, last night, the final one of the season, drew the most splendid house of the whole. The dress circle looked like some vast flower garden, from the variety of colors and flowers there displayed. The opera of Lucrezia Borgia was placed upon the stage in a manner to do justice to the many persons of taste, and to excite the enthusiasm of all. The little enchantress, Piccolomini, fairly outdid all her former efforts. She has the fire and energy of true genius; no one can doubt it. The concluding scene between her and Genaro, was magnificently acted and sung. We have heard it from other celebrated singers, but never really heard it before. She was encored again and again, and called before the curtain twice during the evening.

All that were present will also bear witness to the powerful effect produced by Mrs. Strakosch in the drinking song. She was most cordially encored again and again.

The season closed, and this morning the troupe leave for Cleveland. With the tragedy of last night we had between the acts a touch of comedy. A boy in a blue shirt and trowsers made the house ring by displaying from the gallery a couple of pop bottles, wired together into the form of an opera glass, and through it surveying a high priced box and the ring below. He "kept doing it" till the police closed him.

A FRIEND has furnished the following, which, in connection with the facts stated by us yesterday, in regard to the manufacture of Pig metal here, will prove of interest:

Canada Magnetic Iron Ore.—This mine is located in Leeds county, Canada West, and is found to occupy a nick of about thirty acres in the Granite Rock. It is of primitive formation, and has been forced up from the bowels of the earth, and is exposed upon the surface of the ground. The depth cannot be determined, but there is certainly sufficient ore for the demands of this generation. The ore is hoisted from the mine into the vessel and is taken to Kingston, and from thence via the Welland Canal to Erie and Cleveland. It contains as much, if not more iron than their life has been a bubble, because they have little worth, but the "Finkle" Machine has built its reputation on its admitted superiority, and that too in the face of a powerful competition. For families and manufacturers it will be found a good article. J. L. Carnaghan & Co., Federal street, Allegheny city, are the agents.

Telegraphic.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Before proceeding to business, the Judge said there was a letter on his desk, directed to one of the jurors, Mr. Wilson, in care of the Judge. It bore the New York post mark. Assent being given by counsel on both sides, it was handed to the juror; after a few minutes it was returned to the Judge, who said to counsel: The juror knows nothing about the letter or the writer. It proceeds from the very worst of motives. It is an impertinent, improper and unwonted interference with courts of justice.

Mr. Brady said the proposition made yesterday by the Government to Sickles' counsel, to admit the confession of Mrs. S. as evidence, is rejected by the defence.

The District Attorney proposed to examine Francis Doyle, so as to explain how and under what circumstances certain papers, testified to by Dr. Miller and Mr. Pendleton, were found.

Mr. Brady objected, urging that this was not rebutting evidence. He remarked that Pendleton, yesterday, repudiated the idea that he had lent himself to the concealment of any kind of testimony. The fact was, Pendleton received matters taken from the person of Key, and held them in custody, to be used when required, and communicated to Carlisle the fact that these papers existed, and yet the defense know nothing of them.

After further argument, the evidence was admitted.

Charles Howard, of Baltimore, brother-in-law of Key, was called, who identified the paper in cypher produced yesterday, as the one that had been handed to him by Mr. Pendleton. He said: The letter appears to be written in cypher. I have discovered the key to it and have made a translation. Do not know who wrote it.

Mr. Brady was willing that the original should go to the jury, but objected to the translation being given to them.

The letter is written in a sort of cypher which consists in the substitution of one letter for another—y for a, for instance. It is supposed to be a letter from Mrs. Sickles to Mr. Key. The defence do not wish to have it made public, in order to prevent any further chance to Mrs. S.

The Court finally ruled that the letter was not admissible.

Policeman Dow testified: I took Mr. S from Atty Gen. Black's to his own house the day K. was killed. Shields, Esq. They were unable to state how great their loss would be. They were insured in the Quaker City Co. for $1,000.

A. W. Fausnaught, confectioner, occupied the next building. The house was owned by Mrs. Noble's heirs. The damage was slight.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

The stock market is heavy and lower again for railway shares, with but two or three exceptions, and the tone seemed to grow weaker as business progressed during the day, falling off at the close with a very heavy feeling. The exceptions to the decline in the morning were Pacific Mail, Reading and Rock Island, but the latter gave way to the afternoon, and finally became heavy with the rest. The fluctuations for the day was on New York Central, which, opening at 76, was sold down to 75¾, and at the Second Board closed rather dull at 75½. The largest sales, however, were after the adjournment, when several leading operators suddenly supplied the market with very large lots, and the consequence of these heavy operations was a further decline to 74—[N. Y. Trib.

The market for money exhibits no new feature. Temporary loans are, if anything, more freely offered at from 6@6 per cent, private lenders being numerous. Exchange for the Boston mail closed steady, 109¾@110 on London, and 110¾ at sight. Since two of the standing banking houses report a fair trade demand, but most of the bill brokers are of a contrary opinion. Specie is in good demand at 1@¼ premium.—N. Y. Times.

The Boot and Shoe manufacturers of Massachusetts have taken to the custom of "boarding" their employees. It appears that the operatives, in addition to coffee, sugar, coffee, tobacco, &c., are supplied with potatoes, beans, meat, &c., at cost, and their wages are paid in part in cash, and in part in orders, their remainder being paid by checks, payable in goods at the store. New York appears to be the head quarters of the trade, and from the latest reports, and a meeting of manufacturers held in Boston on Friday, we infer that no well established line has yet regarded as a success, and upon the ground, the store seems to be the worst so far as to defeat it. A letter from the firm of Isaac Bassy & Co., leather dealers, of New York, stated as one cause of the evils, the existence of Mrs. Tuckey in the trade, who were always looking out for price instead of quality," and there were several dealers of the same breed it allowable to practice their light weights and "water tricks" upon their cause. The meeting, however, denounced the system and recommended its abandonment. Subsequently a committee was appointed to confer with New York dealers, with a view of having a uniform and reliable inspectors, who should stand between buyers and sellers.—[Cin Price Cur.

The Northern Indiana road to St. Louis to St. Paul, promises to be a fast route during the season this year. They only wait the breaking up of the Lake Pepin ice, to run the steamers. The Canada which left on Saturday, was hoping to land Pepin last night.

We think that some of our boats here, which are almost unable to make out a cargo, would do well to steam away from the shipyards to Lake Pepin and up with one, and bring it here. It would be cash in our boats pockets that they would make as a venture of that sort. It is said but little, even yet.

The Cincinnati Gazette of Wednesday, says that in the Henry Grant and Commerce passed up for here on Tuesday, also the Jas. Guthrie yesterday, the Ida May, J. C. Fremont, Marmora, and Harmonia were all up for this port at Cincinnati on Wednesday. The Kinsman, Empire City, and Jos Conn were at Louisville on Wednesday, bound up.

The Prima Donna was at Cincinnati loading for the Mississippi, and will leave on Saturday.

The report of the sinking of the Kate Sarchet, was false.

The Louisville Courier, of Wednesday, says:

"Hiram Gem Dies for the Nashville Rose.—The feeds at the Gaiety yesterday brought in from Pittsburgh four barges of railroad iron for the Nashville road. There are seven barges, all of which are to be redipped up Green and Barren rivers by Bowling Green.

STEAMBOAT ARRIVAL.—The great boat-builder, the Jas Guthrie arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday containing 6 barges of coal, some 15,000 bus all for Lamb Hall & Co., of the Louisville Coal Co."
