Anerican State Convention.—The Philadel phias politicians of the intense American school are about to make a last desperate attempt to get up a straight American State Convention. The call was insued by a corporal's guard of the faithful, at a meeting held in this city on the faithful, at a meeting held in this city on the faithful, at a meeting held in the colorent to convene at Philadel phias on the 25th inst. The reason the call emanated from this city was, eridently, to conceal the cloven foot of the Philadelphians, as the convention is called for the latter city, instead of the interior of the State, as heretofore. They could not raise a baker's dozen outside of Philadelphians, as the convention is called for the latter city, instead of the interior of the State, as heretofore. A Naw Idra.—A Club has been organized in New York which has some peculiarities. It is called the "Hearthstone Club," and is under the comirol of females—its objects being to discuss domestic matters. At its last meeting papers were read on "carpet sweeping machines," weating machines," "cookery," "washing machines," a college of domestic economy," &c., and a discussion ensued upon household servants in which the difficulties of obtaining competent female help were set forth by various ladies in a very piquate and foroible style.
