PITTSBURGH:

MR. BUCHARAN's own office-holders, in turning gainst him, have opened upon him like a pack of famished hounds. There is retribution in all this, and he is now reaping the bitter fruits of corruption with which he signalized the commencement of his administration by sowing broadcast throughout the land. Men who have been one boldly telling him bitter truths which have been from the contract of the contract section. There is trouble everywhere for the President—no section or locality is exempt from Payments, 55,546 55 the course of the President, in his editorial representation or locality is exempt from the ranks of his followers. The last case on hand is the insubordinate conduct of Forsythe, late minister to Mexico, who is now venting his indignation at the course of the President, in his editorial

In replied that so far as he recollected there had been three applications for California; two had been appointed; the other was deferred for a time for want of funds in the treasury; in a few weeks, however, the young man withdrew his application provisionally upon receiving a call from a congregation. The young man withdrew his application provisionally upon receiving a call from a congregation. The young man was not eminent for his prudence; in a certain contest he had in reference to a particular subject, be had pursued such a course as to cause great difficulty. It was not the nature of his views, but the ovidence that he was imprudent and indiscrete that cansed his application to be rejected. It was afterwards made apparent that he was not sentimentally a fixed Preshyterian.

Mr. Van Dyko made a few remarks, softening, down his trenchant assaults upon the librard, presenting nothing, however, in addition to his remarks of yesterday. Adjourned till nine o'clock Saturlay morning.
