The Frost.

The Mansfield (Richland Co.) Herald says: As far as we can learn immense damage has been done to the fruit crops. Corn has been very much injured; and the wheat in all the low grounds is said to be entirely destroyed.

The Columbus Statesman of Thursday, 9th says:

We have seen gentlemen from Madison Co., this city, as to the general opinion, that the wheat in their neighborhood is but slightly injured. We saw a gentleman who has eighty acres of wheat in this neighborhood, thirty acres of which he believes to be so badly injured that it means to plow it under and plant corn. He says that he will have corn in by the end of the week.

A very intelligent farmer of our acquaintance made a tour through the north-western portion of this (Franklin) county, on Tuesday, and made it his business to inspect the wheat fields carefully, as far as he travelled. His opinion is that wheat on the uplands is not damaged to any appreciable extent—and that on bottom and level lands, wheat that can be classed as early, has suffered only comparative injury. Late crops of this grain, he thinks, are seriously affected."

THE FROST OF SATURDAY NIGHT.—Upon inquiry among farmers who were in attendance at the District Court on Monday, we ascertained that the opinion prevails very generally over the county that the wheat remains uninjured from the frost of Saturday night. On the contrary, a good deal of the corn is probably cut down past recovery. Some fields are not as much injured as others, the frost having selected, apparently, its victims.—Lewis Torchlight.

MUCH difference of opinion exists in reference to the extent of the injury done the wheat crop in this county. Some seem to think that there will not be less than one-fourth of average crop, while others maintain that the farmers will not get, on an average more than their seed wheat.

The fine warm rains of yesterday did much to revive vegetation, and the corn and potatoes have commenced to grow again. A number of farmers in this vicinity are busily engaged in putting out more corn and potatoes—the very best way to partially repair the severe loss sustained.—Massillon Times.

In regard to wheat, there appears to be a difference of opinion as to the extent of the damage, though all agree that in this vicinity, it is seriously damaged. We have heard experienced farmers from different sections, express their opinions, and after making reasonable reduction for panic, are convinced that it is badly injured. The best informed among them, however, say that the effect of frost on wheat cannot be discerned for several days.—Wellsburg (Va.) Herald.

SINCE yesterday morning, there is a general improvement in the complexion of opinion regarding the frost, as expressed by those who have been trying to inform themselves. The amount of injury to the wheat is the great question; and that question is as undecided as it was on Sunday—yet to-day more hopeful entertained.—Ohio State Journ. 9th

It is thought that the severe frost of Saturday night, which was so destructive generally, has been less destructive to the wheat fly, which had begun to make its appearance and like the wheat in a very tender stage. If the frost has exterminated this miserable pest, it may yet turn out to be a blessing in disguise.—Wellsburg Herald.

This section of the State was visited with a severe frost on Saturday night last, and tender plants in some localities suffered severely from its effects. Frost on the 5th of June is a most unusual thing in this latitude, and indeed the recollection of the "oldest inhabitant" is at fault in bringing to mind a similar instance of the effects of cold so late in the season.—Lex. Obs.

A gentleman from Plymouth, on the S. M. & N. Railroad, who was in the city yesterday, expressed the belief that in that vicinity no more than one wheat stalk in twenty was destroyed by frost. Another gentleman from Richland county thought that fully three-fourths of the wheat crop of that county was cut off. A similar opinion was expressed in regard to Knox county.

South of the range of Columbus, the frost appears to have been very light.—Sandusky Register.

We are in receipt of a letter from Cyrus Howard, Esq., of Henry County, dated at Monroeville, giving the result of his observations, as to the effects of the recent frost in the region traversed from Jefferson Co. to Monroeville.

He says that throughout the route of the Steubenville and Indiana Railroad, and the greater portion of the line of the Sandusky and Newark Road, the wheat, corn, potatoes, and garden vegetables were literally destroyed. It was the general opinion that nine-tenths of the wheat crop of the country named is lost.

The corn may, to a great extent, recover; but even this is deemed questionable, as in most fields but little evidence of life is left. In many cases in Licking, Knox and Richland counties, the farmers are replanting. The frost appears to have been heaviest in these counties. In Licking, even the clover and grass, together with garden vegetables, were destroyed.

As Mr. Howard came North, he perceived a change for the better, which continued until at Monroeville but slight signs of frost were noticed.

There seems but little doubt that the region of country described by Mr. H. has suffered more severely than other portion of Ohio.—Toledo Blade.

MR. JAMES D. LADD, Richmond, this county, and recent Chairman of the State Board of Agriculture called at our office this morning.

Mr. Ladd, since Saturday night last, has traversed portions of Jefferson, Harrison and Belmont counties. He has seen and conversed with farmers, and others upon the extent of the injury by the frost, from almost every subdivision of the district named, and he arrives at the conclusion, that there is not more than one-third of the wheat crop, which this season was unusually large and more than ordinarily promising, actually destroyed by frost.

Mr. Ladd met with a number of persons on railroad trains, from whom he learned that the frost has not injured the wheat materially, westwardly, beyond Dayton. Through Indiana and Illinois, railroad passengers say, the wheat fields exhibited no signs of injury, but vegetables, were here and there, nipped. So, that the extent of country damaged by the frost may be bounded geographically, about as follows: North by Lake Erie and Ontario, East, to Rochester and the Allegheny Mountains, embracing Western New York, Western Pennsylvania and the "Pan Handle," Virginia—South as far as Xenia, Ohio, and West, to a line running about parallel, North and South with Tiffin and Dayton.

In Mr. Ladd's examination of wheat fields through the district of country above mentioned he finds that the most of the wheat injured lies in bottom lands. The fields upon the hills, are not so seriously frosted.

Mr. Ladd moreover is of opinion, that, admitting the frost has destroyed the one-third of the crop throughout the region of country designated, still the wheat crop within said limits for this year, will exceed that of any other year, in quantity and quality, since the year 1852.—Steub. Herald.

HISTORY OF JACK FROST.—The Ravenna Democrat says:

On the night of the 4th of June, 1817, a frost occurred which destroyed the fruit and seriously damaged every description of growing crops.

On the 16th of May, 1832, there was a similar frost, which destroyed the fruit, cut down the wheat crop, &c. In that year, the wheat growers of Stark County mowed their wheat fields, and cured the straw for fodder—after which the wheat started up again and produced a fair crop.

On the 26th of May, 1845, there was a heavy frost in this region, which made a similar havoc with crops and fruits, since which there has been nothing like it till now.

It would seem from the above record that this frost blight occurs at regular intervals, on an average, once in fifteen years.

THE Wheeling Times attributes the defeat of Mr. Goggin to the apathy of opposition of what it calls the Republican sentiment of Northwestern Virginia, and we have no doubt but that the Times is measurably correct. The indication is, that this sentiment is now the balance of power, and that it will go on to increase, until it becomes a power in the State. We observe that our friend of the Fairmont Virginian attributes his defeat in Marion, partly to mistrust, occasioned by the fact of his being an Eastern Virginian: and to the report, which he denies, that he was in favor of exempting negroes, under 12 years of age, from taxation.—Wellsburg Herald.

THE GREAT UPPER MISSISSIPPI FLOOD.—The North West is literally under water, and the damage along the Mississippi at and above St. Paul is immense. A succession of rain and hailstone commenced on the 1st, accompanied by gales of wind, which were truly terrific. At St. Cloud the windows were generally demolished, and small buildings and forest trees were prostrated. The hail and rain poured down in billowy torrents. The St. Anthony News learns sad results of the storm from all parts of the State. At St. Anthony and vicinity houses were removed from their foundations, roofs taken off, and fences and trees prostrated. At St. Augustus, a large Catholic Church was blown down, and a large storehouse, three stories high, filled with grain and goods, was leveled to the ground. The Mississippi r
