The few democrate who voted with the Republicans in its favor were constrained to do so by an overwhelming public opinion at home, and being thus compelled to act against their party, their deed is not to be set down to the credit of the party whose lead they resisted.

The Homestead Bill is a measure of the utmost importance to the free laboring masses of the North. It is a measure calculated to relieve the wide-spread calamities of our working population, a beneficent appropriation, which coats the Government almost nothing, and is of incalculation for the swinding schemes of lobby adventurers, and fill the hungry maws of political speculators with the hungry maws of political speculators with the corrupt treasures of the Government. If the people desire its success, as we feel and the people desire its success, as we feel and the corrupt treasures of the Government. A MOLEHILL GROWNG INTO A MOUNTAIN.—An evidence of the tendency to magnify and over, rate local movements is furnished in the history of an "American" meeting lately held in Cincinnati. A few disappointed politiclans, numbering in all about 150, met in that city last week, and after listenings to speeches from L. D. Camp. bell and J. Scott Harrison, resolved that they would not support the Republican State tisked of 'Ohio. It was an intignificant galaring of no local or political weight; and yet we find in magnified by the Eastern press into a most important movement, involving tremendom political consequences. The National Intelligence appeals of its as "a meeting of the Americans we held in Clincianti on Thursday svening last," and that "we may, look out for a break in the lately solid column of the Oppesition in Ohio." This is the way in which paltry local movements men of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to be come man of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to become man of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to become man of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to become man of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to become man of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to become man of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to become man of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to become man of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to become man of extraordinary called for their insignificance at home, to be come in the call and the ca

Homestead bill securing to actual settlers a homestead of 100 acres of the public lands. The Republican party of the State and nation are warmly in favor of this measure; and the fact that it is a popular measure is already leading floorfoco editors into claiming, hypocritically, that it embraces one of the cherished principles of the democratic party!

In the last Congress, under the spirited lead of Mr. Grow, of this State, a Homestead bill passed the House. A few democrats voted for it; but the bulk of the democratic strength was given for it and secured its passage.

On reaching the Senate, the bill was discussed a short time, when one of the democratic leaders moved to lay it on the table. The vote on this measure was a tie; every Republican Senator voted no, while all the ayes were democrats; and short time, when one of the democratic leaders moved to lay it on the table. The vote on this measure was a tie; every Republican Senator voted no, while all the ayes were democrats; and short time, when one of the democratic leaders would not allow the vote of the country, that the wheat crop of the cered in the senator voted no, while all the ayes were democrats; and stronged in the product of the country.
