TONES & COOLEY, WHOLELALE GRO-The Germanio Confederation is a combination purely and exclusively defensive. It is on that condition (a ce titre) that she participates in the international law of Europe, on the basis of treaties to which Russis's signature is affixed. Now, no hostile act has been committed by France against the Capfederation, and there does not exist any obligatory treaty for the latter to attack that Power.

Should consequently, the Confederation take hostile measures towards France on conjectural data, and against which it has obtained more than one guarantee, it would have falsified the DR. GEO. II. We confidently entertain the hope that the wisdom of the Federal Governments will sot aside determinations which would turn to their prejudice, and would not contribute to strengthen their own position.

If, which God forbid, it should happen otherwise, we shall at all events have fulfilled a duty of frank and sincere friendship. Whatever may be the issue of the present complications, the Emperor, our august master, perfectly free in his action, will only be inspired by the Interests of his country and the dignity of his crown in the determinations which His Majesty will be called upon to take.

On its part the Cabinet of the Tuilerice has solemely declared that it does not entertain towards Germany any sentiment of a nature to cause its anxiety or give it unbrage, and that it is only animated by the most sincer desire of living on good terms with the German Confederation, whose rights and interests it is resolved to respect everywhere.

Finally, the Prussian Government while ordering its army to be put on a war footing, declares that the sole object of that purely defensive uncasure was to ehield the integrity of Germany, to place its interests safe from all aventualities, and to watch over the maintenance of the balance of power in Europe.

The American Staff Fulleder, That hope has been deceived. At the last moment, and when all difficulties of detail appeared to be romoved, the Cabinet of Vienna suddenly broke off the negotiations, alleging as the sole reason that its dignity did not allow it to sit in a Congress to which the Italian Courts, consequently Sardinia, should be admitted.

I need not here point out that in a Congress called upon to discuss the affairs of Italy the absence of the Italian Courts would have been at the same time a logical fault and an act of injustice, that their participation emanated from the principles laid down at Air-la-Chapelle, confirmed by the Congresses of Layhach and of Verona, convoked by Austria herself.

We have sincerely and deeply regretted a de-That hope has been deceived. At the last me Philadelphia.
