Just on the outskirts of the town is a large building, once a chatcau, and lately used by the Austrians as a House of Correction: it stands in the midst of a square, and is surrounded by a large off y ditch. To this square a large mass of Austrians were pressed back. There is a double galeway, the outer a square tower, having evidently once been con-nected by a drawbridge with the inner one; now a causeway leads over it, and through this the Austrians had to make their way. They were caught by the Zouwres, and a number of them bayonetted. These who got through in the rank to the garden which leads off the courtyard into the fields.
