No Paper To-Morrow. - We would state that even compositors and editors sometimes get tired; sometimes need a day's rest, and take it. This will explain why there will be no Gazette issued to morrow. To day being the 4th of July, all hands are to make the most of it, in the way of ers, and there the majter rested.

Court adjourned until Tuesday, July 5th.

Tax Directors of the new St. Clair street bridge will have a safe and convenient path for foot passengors erested within a short time over the new piers. They will be so built as to afford a passage which will not interfere with the progress of the workron the main body of the bridge which will go on as now. The work on that noble structure is progressing finely. The towers on the further piers are up, the saddles in place and the work going on finely towards completion. It will be the finest bridge in the State when completed. Mr. Roebling spares no place and the work going on finely towards completion. It will be the finest bridge in the State when completed. Mr. Roebling spares no plains in his endeavors to make the work as nearly perfect as the nature of wood and iron will permit.

Lors for Sale. - Dr. Wilson advertises in our columns this morning, the magnificent property called "Fountain Hill Farm," at Homewood Station. Our readers will remember that we gave a slight description of this property on Wednesday last. Any person who will visit that property and walk over it, as we did, will say that we have exaggerated nothing. The position of the land, the abundance of water in it, the fuel under it, and the grand groves of oak that ware above it, mark it as an economical, a convenient and a beautiful location for cottages or more pretentious and elegant mansions. New York, July 2.—The Stock Exchange being closed and a majority of the brokers absent, there is no market for stocks and the prices are for the most part nominal. A few transactions have taken place, but they are not sufficiently recognized to make them as citerion of the market value. At the closing the quotations of yasterday showed a steady but quiet market. The Stoney market is rather quiet to-day, let the greater part of the payments falling due his side of Tuesday having been provided for yasterday. No regular butiness is doing to-day, but the preparation of the bank statement and the latest matter for the it would not otherwise have. The disbursements of the sub-treasury to-day amount to $75,000, which reduces the balance to $415,000. The Kangaroo takes out $760,000, and the Ocean Queen $1,025,023, making a total of $1,735,023, which is rather larger than was anticipated.
