"'Retrenohment' and 'reform,' as understood by the opponents of the Democratic party, are mere catch-words to be played off appen public credulity during a political canvass. By the Democratic party, however, these words are lit-erally construed and their true meaning inter-preted and practically carried out. In this reted and practically carried out. In this respect the wishes of the party and the expecta-tions of the country have not been disappointed in the Administration of President Buchanan.— He has corrected abuses and perfected reforms in all branches of the public service, the benefical effects of which are being daily experienced at the National Treasury, and for which he is re-ceiving commendation from all parts of the Union."

It would be impossible to improve upon the asministration of James Buchanan has run up the expenses of the government from $50,000,00 to the neighborhood of $100,000,000, and that in a time of peace; it has lavished money upon favorites, and squandered it in corrupting legis ation; it has maintained hundreds of drones in in office, and kept up offices for which there was no public use; it has thrown away public property for a mere song, and bought other property for public use at exorbitant prices; and cortion has grown so prevalent in every department of government, involving even the President himself, that the whole party looks forward with dread to the assembling of an opposition Congress, which will be sure to lay that corruption bare to the light. And yet, in the face of all these facts, the President's organ has the effrontery to claim that it is retrenching and reforming the expenses of government, correcting abuses and perfecting reforms in all branches of the public service. A declaration of innocence on the part of a felon caught in the very set of crime would be modest by the side of this.

The folly of bringing from from Europe to a State whose soil is teeming with the precious ore is too evident to require further comment. How long will our people submit to a policy so ruinous to the best interest of the nation? How long will they allow the vital resources of trade and commerces to be bartered for an imaginary advantage to a comparatively small number of cotton planters? It is time our eyes should be opened to the ruin which new threatens us, and that we should adopt a system more in accordance with the requirements of common sense, or it will be too late ements of common sense, or it will be too late

"That owing to the delicate nature of the seed, after undergoing so long a voyage, it would not be advisable to place them at present, for experiment, in the hands of those unacquainted with their culture. Besides it has been proved that this product can be successfully cultivated in various parks of the Bouth, so far as the soil and climate are concerned; but this has been done one of the determined, nor the oulture cutended, from the determined, nor the oulture cutended, from the difficulty of obtaining a larger supply of the plants. Hence it would seem to be advisable that the procured, and the culture indefinitely increased. Still, it would be proper that the experiments abfould be made on a limited ascale in all parts of the Union where there would be a probability of success. No disposs will be made of the plants now growing at the propagating ghrdens before the convening of the next Congress.

Should the experiment attending the tea culture, prove successful in this country, it would cause a great revolution in our domestic trade. We know not what time and labor may develope.
