A FRIEND on his travels, writes as follows be altered, and that they are no longer to be altered, and that they are no longer to be altered, and that they are no longer to be called Swiss.

The Duke of Serracapriola, formerly Prime Minister, goes on an extraordinary mission to Rome.

The correspondence of the Times, at Naples, states that circulars have been sent to the bishops and ovid suthorities, directing them to nee all their influence to induce the people to sign petitions against the Italian Confederation, as proposed by the two Emperors. The writer adds:

"The Neapolitan Government was creating to do something it does nothing."

Tanna, August f, 1859.—Count Reliset pat off his intended journey, and will only leave this afternoon at 3 o'clook. He received yesterday a telegraphic deepatch in cypher, enjoining him to endeavor to prevail on Count Pallieri, the Sartidiois Governor, to issue a public announcement that "all hope of annexation of the Duchy of Parma to Piedmont must be given up, and that whenever his government to that offect, and that whenever his government to that offect, and that whenever his government to that offect, and that whenever his government to the people of Parma, hey would have to reek for another person to do their bidding. You know, moreover, the reply made by Dabormida, the Minister of Foreign Affairs at Turio, to a similar proposition of the Parma to distinct the french Government. Piedmont will have no hand in the restoration of the sovereigns of Central Italy: and if the Emperor Napoleon thinks the cloquence of his Eavoy the best means of eliciting the "spontaneous" vote of the lial take, he need-have resource to no other contrivance.

The lose of this Kingdom of Central Italy: as an intended from the spontaneous" vote of the lial take, he need-have resource to no other contrivance.

The lose of this Kingdom of Central Italy: as an intended from the spontaneous of the contract of the contemplated resource to no other contril vance.

The lose of this Kingdom of Central Italy

The idea of this Kingdom of Central Italy is Oakum, Tar, Pitch, Rodn and Olin. All these schemes and devices, however, may ing, car Tarpaniin, Duck, Light and Heavy Drillings, &c. almost at any moment be, at short by the occupation of these Central Italian towns by the pation of these Central Italian towns by the Prench, or by popular commotions, so soon as its ultimatum of Zurich as to their fate is made public. Here the Government rests on popular afferance and for bearance only. It has, no other force than 700 raw Piedmontese conscripts of the Seventeenth Regiment and the National Guard, by far the largest number of which belong to the Government of Which belongs to the Bulling, opposite the Court Indiana. This Gallery has just been fitted up with suprier and saliding, apposite the Court Bouss. This Gallery has just been fitted up with suprier and saliding the specific of the Government of the Matter and Seventeenth Regiment and the National Guard, by far the largest number of which belongs to those classes among whom disorder in all countries looks for the most active workers of mischief.

News from Florence, of August 1, announces the demolition of the Belvedere citated, from twisted the suprement to bombard styles on the sarpeware.

GREMAN.—The Liverpool Fost of the 13th has the following:

"The military riots at Mayence have been followed by others of a more serious nature in the neighboring city of Frankfort, the seat of the German Federal Diet, where fighting in the streets with side arms take place daily; the combatants are the Prussian soldiers on the one side, and the Austrian, Bayarian and Frankfort treens on the ciber: this news is not very combatants are the Prinsian solutiers on the one side, and the Austrian, Bavarian and Frankfort troops on the other; this news is not very reassuring for the continuance of peace on the Continent. There is discontent in Italy, and disunton in Germany, and the opinion is gaining strength that there is a serious obstacle to the establishment of the proposed Italian Confederation. The St. Petersburg Gazette on this last point asks, "How can Abulutist Austria, Theoresic Rome, Constitutional Piedmont, and the two Sicilies, Parma, Toscany and Modena be amalgamated? What measures can be adopted for the uniform development of the moral and productive forces of the nation." How can unity be established and discord provented. Must Piedmont make the sacrifice of her liberal institutions to Rome or Vienna, or must the contrary take place? These grave questions, it adds, can only be decided by a Congress."

A Frankfort letter of the 6th says: "At the sitting of the Dist, yesterday, the committee

A Frankfort letter of the 6th says: "At the sitting of the Diet, yesterday, the committee presented its report of the complaint of the Government of the fortress of Mentz against the attitude assumed by the Press of that town. The report, which was drawn up by the Saxon Ensoy, remarked on the conduct of the Prussian Press, which has dared to attack the Federal Constitution and its organs. The conclusion come to by the committee was, that the Diet was incompetent to interfere in the question which had been submitted to it. A resolution was consequently come to by the Diet, recommending the complainant to invoke the protection of the laws of Grand Ducal Hesse. Whilst the Governor of the federal fortress is in dread of conflicts between the troops of the different nations, we find them coming to blows under the very eyes of the Diet." Another letter from the same place says:
"The Governor of the Federal Fortres

Another letter from the same place says:

"The Governor of the Federal Fortress of Mentz is apprehensive of quarrels and riots between the Federal troops. We have had an example of such a conflict here last evening, almost under the eyes of the Germanio Diet. The parties contending were the Prussian soldiers on one side, and the Austrian and Bavarians on the one of the mounds inflicted on either side were but triffing. The people assembled encouraged the combatants by cries and even by pleasantries of all kinds."

The London Rear's Frankfort-on-Maine correspondent, writing on the 6th, describes a series of fights between the Austrian; Prussian, Bavarian and Frankfort soldiers forming the garrison.
The provocation originated in the Southern Germans charging the Prussians with cowardles, in refusing to assist Austriain Italy. The Northern Germans, however, had become the most riotous. The writer states that on the 8th the traffic on the bridge over the Maine was stopped, owing to the fighting. An officer and others are talked of as killed, and many wounded.

Within fitteen rods of where the Levisthan will land, is the track of the Grand Trunk railway, connecting this city with Mentreal. With switches and the necessary turn-outs, the care can be loaded from the nilp without drayage. The effect of the contemplated visit is said to be manifest in the city aiready in the sort of semi-angitused tone of the people, and the burden of all the talk is of the Great Eastern. It is thought that an excursion will be arranged from our aboves to those of the Old World, and that probably a thousand people may be found who will take the first trip in the sexamer to England, where they will be able to spend a portion of the month of October, the pleasantest in the year. From the descriptions of her, which every body has read, I suppose one thousand people would be almost test in her. must be sold to make room for Spring Goods.

News from Florence, of August 1, announces the demolition of the Belvedere citadel, from which the late Grand Duke meant to bombard the city. This set is decisive as to his chance of return. Garibaldi is daily expected, according to L.s. Patric. It is added by La Presse, that though in ill-health, the Italian General will appear in Tuscany at the bead of 13,000; mostly the regiments of Alpine bunters. He has got leave of absence from the service of King Victor Emanuel.

Turnis, Thursday, August d1.—Sadvices rocolved from Bologua state that a decree of the Government has convoked an assembly, to be elected by the inhabiliants, in order to express the wishes of the population. Several agents of Marxinni had been arrested and expelled. It is asserted that the Conference of Zurioh has prolonged the armistice indefinitely. The French troops have an spended their departure from Italy.
