POLYTRIBUE COLLEGE.—The next term of this College, under the direction of Alfred L. Kennedy, Philadelphia, will commence next Monday, Sept. 19th. To all young men in this great manufacturing community, who may desire to be come thoroughly acquainted with the science of mining, this school holds forth great inducements. Instruction is given by competent teachers in Mathematics, Mechanics, Mineralogy, Geology, Natural History, Analytic and Agriculting all Chemistry, Civil Engiacering, Drawing, Modern Languages, and Industrial Jurisprudence. For particulars see advertisement in the Gazette.

Mm. A B. Smith, of Clinton, Allegheny Co., Pa., had on exhibition a patent Raker and Binder, the product of his own mechanical genius, which is unquestionably one of the best invented of the day. We saw it in operation and were delighted with the novelty and perfection of its performance. It can be attached to any reaper, and performs to admiration. Mr. S. has achieved a good thing, and we doubt not will be well rewarded for the time, pains-taked with the well rewarded for the time, pains-taked and most expenditure of money bestowed upon this ingenious and valuable machine. It has been pronounced a complete success by the heat and most experienced practical machineists in the country.
