ANOTHER DEVELOPEMENT.

Democratic Commissioners Paying Railroad Interest.

In looking over the Auditors' Report, as filed in the Prothonotary's Office, we were struck with the singularity of this heading, under the head of Expenditures, viz: "Interest on Railroad Bonds." As the Commissioners' Office, in 1858, was under the entire control of the democratic Commissioners, M'Elhinny and Tomer, prior to October 18, of that year, and as all the items under this head were paid prior to that date, the astonished reader may well ask—"What! have these anti-tax, anti-railroad Commissioners really been paying interest on Railroad bonds?" It is even so. We have copied the record, and here it is:

"Interest on Railroad Bonds.
"Wm. L. Richardson, Int. on Allegheny Valley Railroad Bonds.....	$ 805 64
"B. H. Latrobe, Int. on Connellsville do.....	69 85
"Kramer & Rahm, " " Allegheny Valley do.....	1,655 87
"T. M. Howe, Int. on warrant previously issued for Railroad Interest.....	40 00
	"$1,523 36"

We had the curiosity to hunt up and examine the warrants issued for the payment of this interest; and sure enough, there upon their face were the familiar signatures of John M'Elhinny and Jacob Tomer. The principal warrant of the four, that for $1085 87, was signed only by M'Elhinny and Tomer, and the same names are found in juxtaposition upon all the rest but one. The name of M'Elhinny occurs upon all.

Here, then, is a nice developement. This man M'Elhinny has never had any capital outside of his anti-tax professions; and here we find him violating even them. The amount, it is true, is small; but the amount is not the question; it is the principle involved. If it was right to pay this amount of interest, how could it be wrong to pay all the rest; and if wrong to pay any, how could it be right to pay this? There can be no escape from this dilemma.

We will be told, we know, as a mitigation of the offence, that these warrants were renewals merely, of warrants previously issued. We admit the fact, but deny that it is any mitigation. Why were the warrants renewed? There was no necessity for their renewal. The old warrants were either good for their face, or worthless; if good, they did not need renewal; and if worthless, or illegal, or of doubtful validity, there was abundant reason for refusing to renew them.

But they were not simply renewed: the interest on the old warrants was added in. The county was thus compelled to pay, not only interest but, compound interest on these railroad bonds. How do the people of the county like that feature of the case?

When a man lifts an old note with a new one, and adds in the interest, his act in so doing is an acknowledgment of the genuineness and validity of the first note, and he is estopped from pleading that the original note was invalid or wrongfully issued. In like manner this renewal of the previous warrants for railroad interest, with the interest added, was equivalent, whether so intended or not, to an acknowledgment, by those who signed the renewal, of the validity and rightfulness of the original warrants.

It would be cruel, after our developements of yesterday and to-day, to push any further our comments upon these transactions. There are the facts, and we leave the public to ponder upon them. As these facts come out one by one, showing the true character of that democratic idol, McElhinny, the democratic leaders of this county will doubtless recal the familiar couplet, uttered when the veil was lifted from the ugly mug of the veiled prophet of Khorassan—

"There ye wise saints! Behold your star!
Ye would be dupes and victims, and ye are!"

We take occasion to add, with pleasure, that none of these warrants were issued after Mr. PATTERSON was sworn into office. Nothing of the kind can be laid to his charge.

THE STATE TICKET.—We receive from all parts of the State confident assurances that the united forces of the Opposition are moving forward to a certain victory. There is an intense desire on the part of the people throughout the State to rebuke and overthrow the Buchanan dynasty; and if they are not overtaken by the supineness which grows out of over-confidence, and be thereby induced to substitute the will for the deed, the rebuke will be as terrible and as scathing as it was last year. We appeal, therefore, to our friends, everywhere, to lay aside every thing like laziness or inactivity, and buckle on their armor for a decisive encounter. The enemy is organizing secretly and quietly, and expects to steal a march upon you. Forewarned is forearmed. Keep a vigilant watch, and all this secrecy of the enemy will avail nothing.

CORRECTION.—We are requested by the Collectors of the First and Sixth wards, for 1857, to say that they paid no part of the eight mill tax to the Commissioners, and of course received none back. The Collector of the First ward, anticipating some difficulty, did not pay over any of the revoked four mill tax, which had been collected, to either Commissioners or Treasurer, but refunded it in person to the tax-payers. The Collector of the Sixth ward refunded in the two instances only in which he was asked to do so, and paid over the rest to the Treasurer.

We make these corrections with pleasure, as we will make any others pointed out to us. They do not affect the general tenor of the developement, except as to the amount. We stated the case, with regard to these Collectors, from hearsay; but with regard to the main charge against the Commissioners, the evidence is of record, and is not effected by this correction.

Goodman Y. Coulter.

We take occasion to admonish our friends, throughout the county, that there is a determined and persevering effort making to elect the democratic candidate for County Treasurer. He is indefatigably laboring to that end, himself, devoting all his time to the work, and he has co-laborers equally industrious.

We have no fault to find with him for being industrious, nor for electioneering actively. That is his privilege, and he is not to blame for using it. We cite the fact only to warn and warm up the friends of our candidate. To Mr. Blackmore personally, we have no objection to urge; he is a worthy gentleman, of pleasing address, and in every way competent for the office. But in all these respects he is in no wise the superior of GOODMAN Y. COULTER, and he is, besides, a democrat—the candidate of the democratic party and the representative of its principles. In 1856, we remember, he diligently canvassed the ward in which he lives, took down the name and residence of every democratic voter, stood at the polls all day, and sent after every dilatory voter, until he had every vote in. All this was done to promote the election of Buchanan; and it shows that although he is a very worthy gentleman in all the relations of life, he is a bitter partizan, and thoroughly devoted to the interests of his party. As such, he has no claim upon a single Republican vote, especially at this time, when the Republicans of the county are anxious to testify, by their votes, their condemnation of the Buchanan administration. We accord to Mr. Blackmore all that can be claimed for him on the score of personal merit; but we cannot forget, nor should the Republicans of the county forget, that he is running as one of the representatives of the Buchanan administration, and that every vote given to him is a vote in favor of the party which nominated him.

As to our own candidate, Mr. Coulter, he is in every way worthy of the support of every Republican in the county. He is not only worthy of it, but entitled to it. We have known him for years, and we know him to be a deserving, upright, honest man, of unbending firmness and integrity of purpose, and a gentleman in every sense of that word. His capacity to discharge the duties of the office is unquestioned and unquestionable, and we know that he will, if elected, make an officer of whom the people may well be proud. He enjoys, among his neighbors and acquaintances, a most exalted reputation. We can think of no man who stands higher among those who know him than GOODMAN Y. COULTER. He deserves, as we believe he will receive, the vote of the united Republican party throughout the county; and we trust that every Republican will feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to support a candidate so worthy of their suffrages.

THE Post, when the democratic ticket was first nominated, repudiated the ticket openly and expectorated freely on the platform. On Tuesday, however, it came out as openly for the ticket (and the platform, as a matter of course). It has thus been on both sides of the question, within a short space of time, just as it has been on the Buchanan question; and it is to be presumed that the candidates on that ticket will now all decline, as Buchanan did. Whatever may have been their chances, hitherto, (and sooth to say they never were,) any of the best,) they must give up all hope now that the Post has come into their support. The poor fellows look very much down in the mouth since this unexpected and unwelcome demonstration.—There is some thing terribly ominous in it.

THE POSTAL APPROPRIATION BILL.—In his Augusta speech, in speaking of the Postal Appropriation bill, Senator Toombs of Georgia said: "I stood with its fate in my hand, and I stamped it under my feet." This is a voluntary assumption of all responsibility for the defeat of that bill. We have pointed out the fact that it was so, on several occasions; but the democratic press, in this region, has vomited forth column after column to show that the act was not attributable to Senator Toombs but was the act of the Republicans of the House. What will they say now, when the Senator himself shoulders the responsibility and crams the falsehood down their throats?

REDUCTION OF THE STATE DEBT.—The Commissioners of the Sinking Fund have issued a proclamation setting forth that within the past two years, that is from Nov. 30th, 1857 to Sept. 5th, 1859, they have paid off $1,137,155 of the public debt, made up as follows:

Certificates of stock loan of 11th April, 1848, 6 per cent.....	$ 44,550 00
Certificates of stock loans of various dates, 5 per cent.....	1,047,328 26
Relief issues cancelled.....	41,071 00
Interest certificates of various dates redeemed.....	4,296 10
	$1,137,155 26

[Correspondence of the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Pa., Sept. 20.

Messrs. Editors: A very pleasant episode came off to-day at the Union School, in this borough, in the presentation, on the part of the five different divisions of the School, to their late Superintendent, David P. Lowary, Esq., of tokens of their kind regard for the manly and high appreciation of his worth and efficiency, while sustaining the important and responsible relation of Superintendent. The presentations were different in their characters, all very beautiful, valuable and appropriate, and were received with emotions of lively gratitude by the excellent Superintendent, as affectionate tokens of the esteem of his late charge. The school consists of five divisions, and the mementoes were diversified according to the several tastes of the youthful donors. The delicacy and excellent good taste which characterized this spontaneous mark of affectionate regard for an honored friend and tutor, were not among the least pleasing incidents of the occasion. Mr. Lowary won upon the hearts of his multitudinous charge marvelously during the months he presided over the school, and the failure of health which induced his resignation, was matter of deep regret to the community, whose best interests he has most assiduously endeavored to subserve. May his future pursuits be attended with health and blessed with prosperity. B.

Wednesday Morning, Sept. 21.—This morning opens up beautifully, with every indication of a fair day, which is much to be desired, as, had the rain continued, the out-door exercises in the Cemetery would have been exceedingly unpleasant, and many would have been deprived of the pleasure of witnessing the proceedings, which will be highly interesting and expressive, to take place to-day. The town is full of strangers. Col. Curtin and W. A. C. Lawrence, Esq., of Harrisburg, and B. H. Irish, Esq., of your city, arrived last evening, and are stopping with Gen. Hall. The audience at the College assembled at 6 o'clock to listen to valedictory addresses and responses from the graduating members of the Literary Societies. The performances were admirable—well written and happily delivered. The young gentlemen were rapturously applauded. At half past seven one of the most brilliant performances came off that we have ever listened to in these College Halls—the address to the two Societies by Professor Wilson, a synopsis of which I send you, the densely packed audience being spell-bound throughout its delivery. All pronounced it able and eloquent. I will send you a detailed account of the Commencement and Monument exercises to-morrow.

[We are reluctantly compelled to postpone the publication of this synopsis until to-morrow.]

A DESPATCH dated at Vienna on the 2d, says: "No measures announced in the ministerial programme have yet been carried out. It is asserted that the privileges to be granted to the Jews will not be the same throughout the whole empire but will be influenced by local circumstances. The principal privilege granted to them will be the right of acquisition of house property in larger towns. It is also reported that Austria intends to discount that portion of the Austrian debt which will be transferred to Lombardy, and to sell the public domains."

A deputation, consisting, of the Rev. Dr. Edgar of Belfast, the Rev. Samuel Dill, of Ballymena, and the Rev. Mr. Wilson of Limerick has arrived here by the Kangaroo, to appeal to the Christians in the United States for aid in behalf of domestic missions in Ireland. The Rev. Henry Cooke, D. D., of Belfast is expected to join the deputation in about three weeks. We have no doubt it will be cordially received by all evangelical Protestants in the United States.

LORD HENRY SEYMOUR, who was lately buried at Paris, has bequeathed to the hospitals of that city a rent-roll equal to £36,000 sterling per annum. As all this property came through his mother, the late Marchioness, England had no claim on it; indeed, the testator, born in Paris, never set foot on British soil in his life. Four favorite horses enjoy an annuity and exemption from saddle work.

THE last St. Johnsbury Caledonian contains returns of the Vermont election from 204 towns. These raise Gov. Hall's majority to 12,958. The Republican gain since last year is 857; Democratic gain, 441. The house, so far, stands—Republicans, 176; Democrats, 24; independent, 1; no choice, 3—which is a Democratic loss of one.

SINGULAR SUICIDE.—A slave girl drowned herself at Nashville, on Thursday, by sticking her head in a puddle of water. The deed is supposed to have been done in a fit of resentment; because she had been chastised.

RETURN OF THE CAMPBELLS!—
MASONIC HALL.
One week only, commencing MONDAY, Sept. 19.
RUMSEY & NEWCOMB'S
ORIGINAL CAMPBELL MINSTRELS,

Brass Band and Double Troupe, and the only Campbells now in existence; all others assuming the name are nothing more than counterfeits and impostors, not to be trusted. We caution the public against such.

The advantages the Campbells enjoy above any other Minstrel Organizations, arise from their wintering the last twelve years in the Southern country. Their delineations of Negro Character are taken from natural scenes and incidents in African life, and aim at presenting Musical and Comical peculiarities of the Southern Negro, and elevating him to his proper standard of Natural Wit and Musical Talent, presenting the phases of Negro Life on the Plantation, and representing the musical capabilities of the more refined Negroes of cities and villages. In presenting truthfully the Shades and Peculiarities of Negro Life, the universal accord has stamped the Campbell artists unapproachable and defying.

☞ Free Balcony Serenade by the CAMPBELL BRASS BAND, led by the Wizard Bugle, AUGUST ACHI.

Doors open at 7 o'clock; commence at ½ to 8.
ADMITTANCE TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.
