THE PERUVIAN SYRUP.—WHAT IS IT?—Most persons have an idea that the Peruvian Syrup is a preparation of Peruvian Barks. This is not the case. It is a soluble preparation of Protoxide of Iron, which is readily received into the constitution, and will act as a tonic in a way that that metal does not usually act, when given in the form of carbonate, or even in the iron by hydrogen preparation, so popular with physicians. Whoever desires to give iron in a form that will be acceptable to the human stomach, and that will be readily taken into the blood, will give this Peruvian Syrup, which is attested by men of high character throughout the country. Dr. Hayes, the State Assayer of Massachusetts, testifies to its extraordinary virtues, and we have every confidence in the ability of the agent here to convince any one of the same. The Peruvian Syrup is made in Boston, and has performed most wonderful cures in all diseases requiring a tonic and alterative preparation. See long advertisement in another part of to-days GAZETTE.

RIOT AMONG COAL MINERS.—James B. Corey, proprietor of the coal works at Saltsburg, in Versailles township, made an information on Tuesday morning before Mayor Weaver, charging Conrad Spidle, Frederick Martin, Casper Raymond, Nicholas Hartman, Wm. Semendinger, George Newton and George Deitrich, with "creating an unprovoked and aggravated riot, by making an unlawful assault with stones and other missiles upon sundry hands in the employment of the said." Mr. Corey says that the crew of men he has in his employ at work in his coal mines are not members of the Union which has been formed by the operatives now, generally, on a strike

On Monday, a large company of union men assembled at the coal works in question and demanded a discontinuance of labor on the part of the workmen This was refused. The crowd increased, and when the laborers came out of the pit they were set upon by the men against whom the complaint is laid, and by many others A fierce fight ensued. Mr. Corey, on learning that one of his men was down and several were upon him, beating him, rushed into the melee with a pistol and knocked a man down with the butt of the same. From Jones' works, help came down for Corey's men, and at last the riot was quelled

Such was the report of matters as laid before the Mayor when the affidavit was made Warrants were issued, and officers Wray, Reed and Cook, the latter from McKeesport, went to arrest the offenders at 11 o'clock

When we left the Mayor's office last evening, at a late hour, the rioters had not been brought into the city, though the officers were in hot pursuit of them If arrested, they will be examined this morning at 10 o'clock, at the Mayor's office

PAVING.—The new pavement just laid down in Carroll street by the foundry of Wm Smith & Co., in the South Ward, is the best job, judging from its appearance, that we have seen in the city. It is just laid, and looks much to the comfort of dwellers on that street While paving of streets is that part of the city, we feel inclined to allude to the condition of the road between the Penn street Passenger and the toll house at Two Mile Run The traveling on that stretch of road is terrible We believe a portion of it is called the Pittsburgh & Greensburg Turnpike The track of the Passenger Rail road runs along the middle of it, and the sides slant away at a dreadful angle from the track These sides are cut and ploughed by a thousand wheels into ruts, sloughs and quagmires which now render the road nearly impassable There being but a single railway track along there, vehicles cannot travel that, as it is occupied every two and a half minutes by the cars The public have a right to complain of such a satire upon a road If left much longer in its present state, exposed to the fierce heats that must go over it, it will become entirely impassable, and somebody will have a bill to pay for broken carriages or crippled horses

RASCALITY.—A strange case of forgery occurred in this city, a week or two ago, the names of the victims to which we suppress, as it will do no good to publish them Nor would we allude to it at all were it not that it may serve to put others upon their guard against swindlers, who are much too numerous, for safety to the public

An adventurer, whom it only knows, came to East Liberty, and professed to be much in love with a piece of real estate there and to be anxious to buy it He gained the consent of the owner to allow him to examine the title deeds Having obtained a mortgage in this property he absconded made a mortgage, himself, and assigning the mortgage, and inserting the real owner's name in the body of the mortgage and forging the same through all the necessary steps to a title, raised a mortgage in this city for $700 in cash and as a "chaser" of $700 more that he left for parts unknown, taking with him as the fruits of his sublime scoundrelism, the handsome little sum of $900 If this was not barefaced and bold rascality, we know not where it could be found

EXAMINATION.—The examination of witnesses to ascertain the whereabouts of a certain bill in equity which it is supposed was taken surreptitiously from the Prothonotary's office, came off yesterday at the office of Alderman Steel number were examined, but no great light was thrown upon the matter Edward Campbell, Jr., was the last man he remembered that he was in the office of the Prothonotary just before noon, and that he saw there John Barton, Esq., with a certain paper in his hand but he had no knowledge of what was on it, or what it purported to be, could not say as to the character of the writing. He soon went up to the Sheriff's office and returned again Mr. Barton was gone. Soon afterwards he heard that a bill in equity in the case of Mr. Craft vs Barton was missing

Mr. Barton alleges, as we are informed, that he can prove by Mr. Lewis, a clerk in the Prothonotary's office, that he left in the office all the papers in this case We were not present at the examination, but learn from good authority that the above is the substance of the facts as far as ascertained

THE STATE FAIR.—The Philadelphia papers have the programme of the opening of the State Fair, in full, and if it comes up to the high-sounding phrase of the manifesto, it will be a great enterprise. Ample preparation has been made for the occasion in the way of new halls and spacious tents, for all kinds of exhibitions, for the convenience of officers and the accommodation of visitors. The number of entries is very large, and the multitude of visitors flocking in from all parts of the State, tremendous A fine display of horses is certain. The Inquirer speaks of the expected arrival of the members of the Firemen's Association from this city, and also of the great preparation on the part of the Philadelphia Fire Department to give them a grand reception. The prospect for a good time to all who may visit Philadelphia this week is promising. A large number of our citizens have gone on already, and more are going

A NEW BOOK.—J. G. Backofen & Son, No. 93 Smithfield street, have just issued a neat little book, by J. P. Dake, M. D., entitled, "Acute Diseases, and their Homœopathic Treatment; also, directions for the treatment of injuries received by accidents and from poisons." It appears to be a sort of hand book of practical directions to all those who feel disposed to be their own Dake, who is one of our fellow-citizens, speaks from long experience and an observation enriched by a large practice. Of course we are not expected to pass judgment upon his work, but are willing to commend it to such as have confidence in the homœopathic system.

SUNDAY TRAVEL.—The argument in the case of Wm. H. Jeandelle, arrested by the Mayor of Philadelphia on the 17th of July last, for driving a passenger car on Sunday, in the streets of that city, was argued before Judge Ludlow, in that city, on Saturday, by Messrs. Olmstead and Wm A. Porter for the prosecution and Messrs. David Webster and Hirst for the defence. The decision of the Judge was reserved. He intimated in the course of the case that he considered the driving of any carriage violently through the streets, on any day of the week, a breach of the peace.

CAPT. HAZLEY, of the elegant new steamer "Andy Fulton," gave an entertainment to his friends, on board the neat craft, yesterday at two o'clock. The Captain extended to us a cordial invitation to be present, which we exceedingly regretted we were obliged, by duties which at that hour called us elsewhere, to decline. We trust the "Andy" may be as successful as the man she is named for, and that she may prove as substantial and as well built as the man that commands her—that is Capt. Hazlep

REPUBLICAN MEETING, FIFTH WARD.—There was a glorious, rousing meeting last night, in the Fifth Ward, at Freeman's Hall. The Hall was full, and the best of feeling prevailed. Stirring addresses were made by D. L. Eaton, Thomas Howard, George Stewart and Gen J. K. Moorhead. A great deal of enthusiasm prevailed, showing that the fires are still burning brightly in the good old Fifth Ward. The Republicans of that ward are wide awake and will give a good account of themselves.

GRAND RALLY.—The Republicans of Monongahela borough will hold a meeting at Clinton mills, on Monday, Oct 3. The place is excellent for a meeting of Republicans, owing to the great number of hard-working men who live there, all of whose best interests are bound up with the success of the great cause we labor to advance. Let there be a grand turn out. Several speakers will be in attendance.

THE elegant furniture at the residence of Rev. C. P. Krauth, No. 122 Centre avenue, will be sold this morning, at 10 o'clock, by P. M. Davis, auctioneer.

To the Public.

MR. EDITOR:—A few days since I stated that a more full explanation would appear, in answer to charges made against me by the Pittsburgh Gazette. The Gazette wishes to know who got the money, if I did not.

I do most solemnly deny ever receiving any money, as charged by the Gazette, from any of the collectors; and if the following statement and certificates will throw any light on the subject, it is at the service of the Gazette, and those concerned in swindling the county out of money which, according to my instructions to the collectors, should have been paid into the treasury.

In regard to the exonerations of Manchester, East Birmingham, and Third and Fifth Wards, Mr Wm Perkins made them out, and stated to me that he having protested against the reduction of the eight mill tax, it would not be consistent on his part to sign an exoneration which reduced it to four mills, but that according to Pittsburgh and Eastern Ohio. He is our only agent for the purposes named. R. FRUETT & Co.

EXAMINATION.—The examination of witnesses to ascertain the whereabouts of a certain bill in equity which it is supposed was taken surreptitiously from the Prothonotary's office, came off yesterday at the office of Alderman Steel number were examined, but no great light was thrown upon the matter Edward Campbell, Jr., was the last man he remembered that he was in the office of the Prothonotary just before noon, and that he saw there John Barton, Esq., with a certain paper in his hand but he had no knowledge of what was on it, or what it purported to be, could not say as to the character of the writing. He soon went up to the Sheriff's office and returned again Mr. Barton was gone. Soon afterwards he heard that a bill in equity in the case of Mr. Craft vs Barton was missing

Mr. Barton alleges, as we are informed, that he can prove by Mr. Lewis, a clerk in the Prothonotary's office, that he left in the office all the papers in this case We were not present at the examination, but learn from good authority that the above is the substance of the facts as far as ascertained

THE STATE FAIR.—The Philadelphia papers have the programme of the opening of the State Fair, in full, and if it comes up to the high-sounding phrase of the manifesto, it will be a great enterprise. Ample preparation has been made for the occasion in the way of new halls and spacious tents, for all kinds of exhibitions, for the convenience of officers and the accommodation of visitors. The number of entries is very large, and the multitude of visitors flocking in from all parts of the State, tremendous A fine display of horses is certain. The Inquirer speaks of the expected arrival of the members of the Firemen's Association from this city, and also of the great preparation on the part of the Philadelphia Fire Department to give them a grand reception. The prospect for a good time to all who may visit Philadelphia this week is promising. A large number of our citizens have gone on already, and more are going

A NEW BOOK.—J. G. Backofen & Son, No. 93 Smithfield street, have just issued a neat little book, by J. P. Dake, M. D., entitled, "Acute Diseases, and their Homœopathic Treatment; also, directions for the treatment of injuries received by accidents and from poisons." It appears to be a sort of hand book of practical directions to all those who feel disposed to be their own Dake, who is one of our fellow-citizens, speaks from long experience and an observation enriched by a large practice. Of course we are not expected to pass judgment upon his work, but are willing to commend it to such as have confidence in the homœopathic system.

SUNDAY TRAVEL.—The argument in the case of Wm. H. Jeandelle, arrested by the Mayor of Philadelphia on the 17th of July last, for driving a passenger car on Sunday, in the streets of that city, was argued before Judge Ludlow, in that city, on Saturday, by Messrs. Olmstead and Wm A. Porter for the prosecution and Messrs. David Webster and Hirst for the defence. The decision of the Judge was reserved. He intimated in the course of the case that he considered the driving of any carriage violently through the streets, on any day of the week, a breach of the peace.

CAPT. HAZLEY, of the elegant new steamer "Andy Fulton," gave an entertainment to his friends, on board the neat craft, yesterday at two o'clock. The Captain extended to us a cordial invitation to be present, which we exceedingly regretted we were obliged, by duties which at that hour called us elsewhere, to decline. We trust the "Andy" may be as successful as the man she is named for, and that she may prove as substantial and as well built as the man that commands her—that is Capt. Hazlep

REPUBLICAN MEETING, FIFTH WARD.—There was a glorious, rousing meeting last night, in the Fifth Ward, at Freeman's Hall. The Hall was full, and the best of feeling prevailed. Stirring addresses were made by D. L. Eaton, Thomas Howard, George Stewart and Gen J. K. Moorhead. A great deal of enthusiasm prevailed, showing that the fires are still burning brightly in the good old Fifth Ward. The Republicans of that ward are wide awake and will give a good account of themselves.

GRAND RALLY.—The Republicans of Monongahela borough will hold a meeting at Clinton mills, on Monday, Oct 3. The place is excellent for a meeting of Republicans, owing to the great number of hard-working men who live there, all of whose best interests are bound up with the success of the great cause we labor to advance. Let there be a grand turn out. Several speakers will be in attendance.

THE elegant furniture at the residence of Rev. C. P. Krauth, No. 122 Centre avenue, will be sold this morning, at 10 o'clock, by P. M. Davis, auctioneer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—A letter dated the 3d of July gives the following account of the relations existing between the Chinese and the present American Minister: "Last Wednesday, June 30, the Toreman went in search of another entrance to the river Peiho, and returned during the day with the report that they had landed with an interpreter at a small town near a stream, and just had time to give the Minister's letter to a Chinese official, when a troop of mounted cavalry was discovered galloping towards them some thousand strong. All hands very naturally took to 'shank's mare' as fast as they could carry them to the boat, returned and made a full report of their failure, which created some merriment. It was given up for a certainty that John Chinaman was not going to receive Mr. Ward yesterday. However, at 9 a. m. two large junks loaded with produce came within a short distance of us and anchored. A small boat, lowered from one of the junks, and having on board a Chinese official bearing an answer to our Minister's letter, immediately came alongside. The answer was in the highest degree favorable. It seems that the party who landed from the Toreman had been mistaken for the English, and the cavalry which chased them to their boat was part of a guard, four thousand strong, which was to have escorted Mr. Ward to Pekin, and had been waiting several days in expectation of his daily arrival. The embassadors, present for our Minister, consisted of nine ten-boats, nineteen sheep, thirty-three sacks of flour and fifteen sacks of rice, besides ducks, chickens, fruit and vegetables in great quantities. The answer to his letter stated that the Commissioner would meet him whenever convenient that he would send a guide to help in hauling up the river eight miles A great deal of correspondence has since passed between the officials, the English squadron lying in close proximity

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. The Herald reporter had an interview, yesterday, with Capt. Comstock, lately of the Fulton steamer Habit, who came home as a passenger in the Vanderbilt. Capt. C. commanded the Russian frigate General Admiral on her trip from New York to Cronstadt. He has taken great interest in the mammoth vessel Eastern from the commencement, has visited her every few months while in course of construction, and on the invitation of Capt Harris, his commander, and the directors of the great ship company, he accompanied her on her present trip, and happened to be on deck at the time of the fatal steam explosion off Hudson on
