BE ASSESSED.

Saturday next is the last day upon which voters can be assessed. We trust that our Republican readers in the various wards, boroughs and townships will look to it that none of our friends has neglected this essential duty.

The Tactics of the Enemy.

Last year the democrats made a great fuss, held meetings everywhere, fumed, fretted, raved and bragged by turns, and finally convinced themselves that they could and would elect their Senator, their Congressman in this district, and their Commissioner. Up to the very closing of the polls they remained firm in this decision; and were disenchanted only when the returns came in, and showed them beaten by from 2000 to 3000 majority.

This year the programme has been reversed. The policy now is to keep quiet, hold no meetings, make no fuss, but brag as before. They are going to elect, so they say, the Senator, one Assemblyman, (a man called Andrew Jackson Beaumont,) the Commissioner and the Treasurer. They have just about the same chance of electing these candidates that they had for electing those they boasted of last year, and that is just none at all. They will be beaten out of sight. But they must brag, all the same: and from this until the election, they will make a loud parade of their supposed chances.

There is not the least probability of their success, on any of these offices. But it is as well that our men should know where the assault is to be made, and guard the assaulted points most vigilantly. Let our friends in each district pay particular attention to the offices alluded to, and see that nothing is lost for want of attention.

The calculation of success we have alluded to is based wholly upon the supposed supineness and inactivity of the Republicans. They expect to get out their vote and catch us napping. Their expectation on this score must be disappointed. The Republicans of the county are now fully advised of it, and they will be lacking in the spirit we attribute to them if they do not disappoint the expectations of the locofocos as thoroughly this fall as they did last.

The peculiar hope which animates Mr. McKee and Mr. Beaumont, and leads them into the conviction that they can or will be elected, is founded upon a trifling movement, almost unworthy of notice, of a couple of German editors, who took it upon themselves, without authority, to interrogate the candidates as to their views on the question of running passenger railway cars and selling liquor on Sunday. One of these Germans was a candidate for nomination on the Assembly ticket, before the Republican Convention; and failing of success there, rushed with another disappointed friend into the publication of a new German daily paper. This paper they have endeavored to wield, as dexterously as possible, against the Republican ticket; and in order to ingratiate themselves with the Germans, have made themselves particularly boisterous on the Sunday question and in demanding the repeal of the Sunday laws. Assuming to speak in the name of the Germans, as a mass, they addressed interrogatories to all the candidates for the legislature, asking their opinions on the Sunday questions, hoping, no doubt, to make themselves, in this way, particularly agreeable to the Germans. Mr. McKee and Mr. Beaumont answered their interrogatories favorably, we believe; and assuming that these two German editors are able to carry over, bodily, the entire German Republican vote, the candidates named are pluming themselves highly on their chances of success.

They are reckoning, however, without their hosts. The Republican German vote is not in the keeping of the editors alluded to, nor in the keeping of any one. The German Republicans of this county, as a class, are intelligent, shrewd, sensible men, who can see through a political trick much more quickly than the schemers can concoct one. They see through this trick, and will not be misled by it. We have conversed with a large number of them, and they all assure us that the German Republicans cannot be and will not be imposed upon by any such artifice. They will vote the Republican ticket because they are attached to the principles of the party and have confidence in the honor and integrity of its candidates. The two German Republican papers—the Freiheits Freund and the Courier, have boldly exposed the trick, and advocate the Republican ticket as it stands, without a single alteration. All calculations based upon the defection of the German Republicans, are doomed to disappointment.

As to the candidates for Treasurer and Commissioner, they are equally doomed to disappointment. They may pick up a few Republican votes here and there, but will lose them elsewhere. The Republican candidates for these offices are men entirely reliable, and worthy of the united support of the party. They will both be elected by handsome majorities.

We have deemed it our duty, however, to call attention to the expectations of the enemy, as a means of stirring up our Republican friends to greater activity and earnestness. Let them go to work with greater zeal, that the enemy may have no cause of boasting. With the excellent and harmonious feeling now prevailing in our ranks, nothing but criminal carelessness and inactivity can subject any portion of our ticket to danger, much less to defeat; and now that the Republicans of the county know how the enemy is expecting to profit by this supineness, they will not, we are sure, leave any thing open to doubt, in the result.

The Railroad Interest.

No denial or explanation has been given of the statement made by us last week that Messrs. McElhinney and Tomer, the locofoco Commissioners, united in drawing warrants, last year, for the payment of interest on railroad bonds. The fact is unquestioned and unquestionable that they did so. Their sign manual is to the documents, which can be seen at the Auditors' office. After pledging themselves never, never, NEVER to pay any interest on railroad bonds, these immaculate men did draw warrants for that purpose, and the record is there to confront them.

The only excuse they have to offer, is, that the warrants they issued were renewals of old ones issued the year before. The excuse is an aggravation, not a palliation, of the offence. The old warrants were good for their face, at any time, and did not need renewal. The Treasurer almost daily receives warrants of the previous year, for which no renewal is asked, expected or needed. There was no special reason in these instances, except one, and that one grew out of the demand for interest upon the warrants. This the locofoco Commissioners conceded. They recognized the validity of the old warrants by drawing new ones, and they thus not only drew warrants to pay railroad interest, but they added interest upon the interest—thus actually compelling the county to pay compound railroad interest.

If they believed, as they pretended to do, that the payment of the railroad interest was illegal, they had a plain course before them, and that was either to stop the payment of the warrants altogether, or to suffer the holders of these old warrants to collect them at their face, without interest, or, if they preferred it, to sue upon them, and bring the whole question before the courts. They chose not to do this; and, in utter violation of their pledges, renewed the warrants and added the interest in.

THIRD WARD, PITTSBURGH.—An ordinance was presented and passed, in both branches of Councils, on Monday night last, changing the place of holding the election in the second precinct of the Third Ward, Pittsburgh, upon representation being made that the original lessee of the election house had sold out and the new comer was desirous of having the election removed. It has since transpired that this representation was incorrect. The present lessee, so far from desiring the removal, is anxious to prevent it; and as the passage of the Ordinance was procured upon a statement of facts which has turned out to be incorrect, the officers of Councils have declined to sign the Ordinance or direct its publication until the matter can be laid before Councils, which will be done at a special meeting to be held on Monday night next. The Ordinance is not a law until it is published and recorded: and as it will not be published or recorded until after the special meeting of Councils, the Ordinance is not yet a law, and the election place has not, therefore, been changed. The Sheriff's Proclamation will accordingly conform to this state of the facts.

In the Warren Senatorial district, the Republicans have nominated ISAAC BESSON, of Potter, to succeed Mr. Scofield. An excellent nomination.

IN PERIL FROM FRIENDS.—The Mobile Register is charged with inconsistency by the New-Orleans Delta, for supporting Douglas for President after his avowed hostility to the reopening of the Slave trade—a measure which that paper has hitherto warmly advocated. In reply, the Register says that "Judge Douglas has never uttered one word against the morality of the Slave trade, no more than against Slavery itself"—and that his doctrine of local self-government applies to this subject as well as every other. "Carried to its logical and inevitable deductions, it is the only hope we have in the halls of Congress for the abrogation of the piracy laws. Slavery, and all things connected with Slavery, are matters of State legislation exclusively. It is not then for Congress, but for the South, to decide whether there shall be importation of foreign slaves or not. This is one of the reasons why we, consistantly with our oft-expressed views and policy are earnest supporters of Judge Douglas." Such support as this will be found to involve some little danger:—and we presume Judge Douglas would prefer to dispense with it. He and his friends must rely for their main strength at Charleston upon Northern votes: but if the Register succeeds in throwing any doubt upon his views concerning the Slave-trade, or the position he would take on the proposal to reopen it, he will not be strong enough in Convention to go home again. This is a question, moreover, on which the Southern Democracy will not be permitted to play fast and loose. If they intend to make the restoration of the Slave-trade a principle of their platform, they must avow it explicity—nominate a candidate who is pledged to it, and get as many votes as they can. They have no right to hoodwink either section on so important a matter—and the temper of the public mind in regard to it is such that they will find it quite impossible to do so. Neither Judge Douglas nor any other man in the Union can get a single electoral vote from any free State, if it can be made to appear even probable that he would aid or abet, directly or indirectly, the re-opening of this traffic. What his chances would be of carrying Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland or Tennessee, the Register can probably guess quite as well as we can.—N. Y. Times.

PROPERTY GROWS REBELLIOUS AND IS PUNISHED.—One day last week, five pieces of living, moving, self-acting merchandise, owned by some Missouri farmers residing in Missouri, some forty or fifty miles west of Chester, having forgotten—if indeed, they had ever learned—the wise and wholesome precepts taught in the Dred Scott decision, threw off the yoke of bondage, and started freedom ward on Illinois. Although closely pursued by a large band of human bloodhounds, four of them managed to get across the Mississippi river, in Randolph county. Their pursuers, being mounted, had managed to get ahead of them, and intercepted and surrounded them while they were crossing the covered Plank Road Bridge, over Mary river, about five miles from Chester, in the midst of a violent storm, last Sunday evening. Still laboring under the hallucination that they had rights which white men were under obligations to respect, the negroes charged—with their fists, the only weapons they had—upon that portion of the pursuing army that was stationed at the east end of the bridge, and, breaking their way through, ran for "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," under the mistaken idea that they were a portion of the "all men" alluded to in the Declaration of Independence. The negro drivers fired a volley at them as they ran; one of them fell, badly wounded, but the other three continued their flight and escaped.

The wounded chattel was carried back to Chester, where it was ascertained that about two hundred shot had entered his body. He lingered along in great agony until Thursday morning, when he died. It was afterwards ascertained that two of those who escaped were severely though not fatally wounded.—Alton Cou.

DECREASE OF ABORIGINES IN THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—The natives of the Sandwich Islands, like the Indians of this country, appear to fade away upon the approach of the foreigners. A letter from the Islands, received at the rooms of the American Board at Boston, gives a brief report upon the condition and prospects of the Islands, in which it is stated—

"The Islands, or the inhabitants upon them, are gradually working out their destiny. There is a constant but certain and rapid decrease of the aborigines. The present number of Hawaiians would not probably exceed 65,000, and should the present ratio of decrease proceed unchecked, in a few years the number must be comparatively small. The principal causes of this decrease are, the former and present licentious habits of the people; indolence; the prevalence of epidemics; and the great demand for Hawaiian seamen, who go abroad many of them never to return. And while the aborigines are decreasing the foreign element in the community is upon the increase. The number of births among foreigners is equal to that in America or England. The children of foreign residents are generally healthy, and for the most part those born upon the Islands desire to grow up and spend their days there. There is also a gradual increase of the foreign population by immigration, most of those arriving from other countries to settle here being Americans, Englishmen, German, Portuguese, or Chinese."

D'AUBIGNE'S HISTORY OF THE REFORMATION.—The Rev. Dr. Merle D'Aubigne has written to the Rev. Dr. Baird that he is well advanced in the preparation of the VIth and VIIth volumes of his History of the Reformation of the XVIth century. This will be welcome news to the many thousands in this country who have read with delight the five preceding volumes. We know not how many volumes the work when completed will embrace, but we suppose at least eight. On this point we have heard an interesting anecdote, for the authenticity of which we can vouch. It is this: Soon after the appearance of the first volume in French, the distinguished author had occasion to visit Paris, and whilst there called on M. Guizot, who at that day (1836 or '37) was Minister of Public Instruction in the Cabinet of Louis Philippe. In the course of the conversation which these two illustrious savans held, M. Guizot said to the Professor, "Sir, I learn that you contemplate concluding your History of the Reformation in four volumes." Dr. D'Aubigne replied that such was his expectation. "Well, then," replied M. Guizot, "you must change your plan; let there be six volumes; let there be eight volumes; let there be ten volumes." M. Guizot was right; we trust that there will be at least eight. We shall be glad if there should be ten.—Jour. of Com. Sept. 22.

AN ingenious Scotchman has trained a couple of mice to turn a reel for twisting twine. The laborers run about ten miles a day and reel from 100 to 120 threads. A half penny's worth of oatmeal lasts a mouse six weeks; and the clear annual profit on each animal per year is computed at six shillings.

THE HARVEST IN IRELAND.—The Cork Constitution gives the annexed report of the yield of the harvest. It will be seen from this statement that the reiterated accounts of the wholesale blight of the potato crop throughout the country were exaggerated, and that all alarm for its ultimate safety was fast dying away. Accounts from various places represent the harvest as having turned out better than was anticipated. By far the greater bulk of the cereals have been cut down and secured. The wheat and barley are upon the whole considered average crops, and although oats in some places are under the average of former years, and the straw short, still not much complaint is made. Potatoes appear to be getting along very well. The rumors of blight are dying away. In this country there can be no doubt that the disease has made its appearance in some districts, but not to any great extent, and the crop generally is considered safe. The green crops have been much served by the late rains, and are now progressing favorably.

ADULTERATION OF BRANDY IN FRANCE.—The adulteration of brandy having proceeded to a great extent at Cognac, in the department of the Charente, the attention of the authorities has been called to the circumstance, and ten of the offending casks have been prosecuted by the Tribunal of Correctional Police. Owing to the malady in grapes and other causes, the production of wine has decreased of late years, which increased the demand for brandy, and to meet it some scrupulous unmanufacturers of the latter article resorted to adulteration, by mixing it with the coarser kinds of alcohols. Five of the accused were acquitted; the others were fined in various sums varying from 50f to 300f each.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.—The fact is now too well established for any one to attempt to controvert it, that most of the diseases which often prove fatal in summer, are produced by excessive use of fruits and vegetables, by which the stomach is disordered, the liver deranged, the blood stagnated and digestive organs rendered inactive if not torpid. Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Bilious and Cramp Colic, Dysentery, Diarrhœa and such like complaints germinate and thrive upon improper food and often times become so deep seated and fixed upon the constitution, that the strongest and most active mineral medicines are unable to arrest their progress until the patient is prostrate, and all hopes of relief are ended. Who is it that has not seen a fine, healthy infant or adult, seized with one of the annoying diseases above spoken of, and despite the skill and science of medical gentlemen literally waste away under their treatment? And how is this treatment to be accounted for simply by the fact, that instead of administering some remedy to stay the failing strength of the afflicted, and at the same time check the disease in its progress, the remedy prescribed aided in the exhaustion of the natural strength, and at the time the disease was mastered the sufferer was prostrate, and failed to excite a reaction in the blood from the effect of the poison administered to expel the disease. Not so with BRANDRETH'S HERB AND BITTERS, which are composed entirely of vegetable matter, and which have not only proved themselves the best aid to nature, but have never failed to correct disorders of the stomach and bowels when taken according to directions in the cure of Summer Complaints they have no equal. Try them and be convinced.—The Genuine Dr. Brandreth's Pills and Dr. Brandreth's Herb and Bitters is put up in half pint bottles only, and retailed at $1 per bottle. The great demand for this truly Celebrated Medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Beware of imposition! See that our name is on the label of every bottle you buy.

PROFESSOR S. THALBERG, PIANIST, says, on his arrival in the United States he was rapidly becoming gray, but on applying Wood's Hair Restorative his hair soon recovered its original hue.

CHARLES GARDNER, 13 Nassau Street, N. Y., says the gray hairs on his wife's head were, after a few week's trial, turned into a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair.

A. C. RAYMOND, Bath, Maine, says he is now sixty years old, and his hair and whiskers were tworkably gray, but by the use of two bottles of Restorative the gray hairs have disappeared, both on his head and face, and is more soft and glossy than for twenty-five years previous. His wife, at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

FINLEY JOHNSON, Esq., of New Orleans, says that he lost his hair by the Yellow Fever, in 1854. He used Wood's Hair Restorative, and his hair is now thick and glossy.

S. M. MIDDLETON, Livingston, Alabama, says the Restorative has done much good in his part of the country. He used it for baldness, and now has a fine head of hair.

R. L. MORSE, Lebanon, Kentucky, says he has been Wood's Hair Restorative in hundreds of cases, and never knew it to fail in restoring the hair to all it professes to do.

A. J. ALDEN, N. Y. insurance office, says he has used all kinds of hair dyes, and was baldheaded by the universal sense of Wood's Hair Restorative, and has a fine head of hair.

Dr. Churchill's Remedy for the Prevention and Cure of Consumption.

Winchester's Genuine Preparation of the Hypophosphites of Lime and of Soda,

The Specific Remedy for Consumption, Scrofula, Bronchitis, Asthma, Debility, Dyspepsia, and Nervous Diseases,

The success of this NEW REMEDY (discovered by Dr. J. F. Churchill, of Paris) is obtaining for it the most unbounded popularity throughout Europe and the United States.

It is a purely Specific Preparation, acting with certain effect in all stages of Pulmonary and Nervous Diseases—The

CURE OF CONSUMPTION,

In the second and third stages (at a period, consequently when there can be no uncertainty as to the nature of the disease,) can be obtained, in all cases, by this treatment, except when the existing lesion of the lungs is of itself sufficient to produce death.

This Remedy has not only a curative effect, but will, if used whenever there exists a suspicion of the disease, Prevent its Development, and thus act as a preventive with regard to Consumption, just as vaccination does with regard to Small Pox.

Consumptives, in any stage of the disease should resort immediately to the use of the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. "Winchester's Genuine Preparation" (in simple syrup) in extra large bottles, is "chemically pure" in the combination proposed by Dr. Churchill "for general use" and is prepared according to his original formula.

DR. CHURCHILL'S WORK ON CONSUMPTION,

Comprising his report made to the Imperial Academy of Medicine, Paris; Notes of Cures, and Letters, Documents, Testimonials, &c., which, together with a Circular, will be sent on receipt of TWELVE CENTS in stamps.

CAUTION.—Interested Druggists will try to sell you other preparations than mine. Do not buy them. My "Genuine Preparation" bears my fac simile signature.
