A MATTER OF TASTE.—Mr Dickinson, in addressing the great ratification meeting at Albany, though as happy as he usually is in many of his "hits," nevertheless made some statements which he must have been aware would be received with some incredulity. One of them was that the Democratic party "had a divine mission to carry out, but that this must be done by human agency." We do not quite see to deny absolutely the truth of either branch of this proposition. But we cannot think the divinity of the Democratic mission is quite as clear as the extremely human nature of some of the agencies which it employs. It is a little difficult to understand why a party whose work in this vale of tears is of such a sublime character, if it be driven into the use of human agency at all, should be under the necessity of selecting such persons as occasionally carry on its work in these parts. The bullies and shoulder-hitters, whose yoke the Democratic revivalists are trying to throw off, are the agencies principally engaged in a divine mission as any body of men we know of.

Mr Dickinson himself will acknowledge that the Benicia Boy and the new Registrars of Election do not strongly remind one of the Apostles or the Prophets, and we defy their best friends to detect much likeness in them to the angels. It is, of course, a great thing to have a "divine mission," and a nice thing to have to use "human agencies;" but why, of the various agencies which our world supplies, select so largely cocktails, corner groceries and pugilists?

There is an incongruity here which we hope the leaders of the party will make haste to remove. Human agencies, apparently, are none of them worthy of the Democratic party; but as there is room to choose even amongst them, of the various kinds, we prefer the clean, the sober, the honest, the industrious, to the dirty, the drunken, the thievish and the lazy.—N. Y. Times.

IS A NUT SHELL.—No man has hit upon so happy a description of the Douglas policy in reference to the Territories, as that given by Lincoln in one of his Ohio speeches, when he said that by it "slavery may be excluded from a Territory in which it may legally remain." No form of words could more clearly bring out the contradiction between a belief in the Dred Scott decision, which legalizes slavery everywhere, and a belief, at the same time, in "unfriendly legislation," which may everywhere forbid it. This condensed statement, embodying the facts and logic of an elaborate political theory, appeals so forcibly to popular comprehension, that, as long as the contest which gave rise to it, continues, it will be forgotten. Douglas owes his old competitor for many a damaging illustration, but Lincoln has rarely said anything which the small tenant will be more unwilling to forgive, than that sentence which we have quoted. It is a complete refutation of longlainism, in a nut shell. Our Republican contemporaries will pardon us if we suggest that they will do well to "keep it before the people."—Chicago Press.

NEW MODE OF WATERING STREETS.—A curious experiment of watering public promenades is being tried at Lyons, and hitherto with success. A chemist of the city accidently spilling some hydrochloric acid on a terrace, found the spot hardened and maintained in a state of permanent moisture. This induced him to think it might be applied to macadamized roads with the view of allaying the dust. Experiments have resulted in a carriage way being now several months free from dust. During the hottest part of the day the ground, although dry and gravelly, has the appearance of having been recently damped. At evening the moisture becomes more and more perceptible. Every morning the ground is stiffer and more comfortable to walk on. This acid, it is said, decomposes the gravel or stone, and forms one or several deliquescent salts, which, therefore, attract the moisture of the air. The only question is whether roads thus damped will endure under such a process as long as they ought.—London Paper.

TWENTY-FIVE years ago a woman, seduced by a farmer in Albany, gave birth to a little girl. She afterward went to Columbia county and married a mechanic, while the farmer also wedded and prospered. In course of time, the girl came to this city as a servant, and, a short time since, married a young mason here. The farmer coming to town with produce, was attracted by the girl's appearance, and led to a course of inquiry which resulted in establishing the fact that she was his lost daughter. His wife had never known of his criminal love, and he dared not reveal it to her. For several months he wrapped the secret in his own breast, till at last paternal affection would no longer allow him to remain silent, and he made himself known to his daughter, told his wife all, who wisely forgave him and consented to receive her as one of the family. The daughter is happy in the possession of a father's love, and will be joint heir of his property.

SOMNAMBULISM.—A case of somnambulism occurred on the night of Sept. 28, at the hotel of Capt. Goff, in Oakland township. It appears that Mr. William Harl, of Brady Bend, had been at the Fair, and with his brother had stopped at Capt. Goff's over night. He was the first to retire, and when his brother came to his bed, about ten o'clock, he got up in an excited manner, and went into the hall, taking his bedclothes with him. As he laid down, and immediately went asleep, they did not molest him further. In the middle of the night he got up again, crawled out of the window on to the porch roof, from that he climbed up to the roof of the main building, and from there, a distance of twenty five feet, fell to the ground, breaking one thigh, and dislocating the other thigh joint.—Butler Amer.

IT is stated that Col. Fremont has written a letter, declaring that he is not and will not be a Presidential candidate in 1860. He is represented as closing his letter in the following language: "I consented to hold that relation in 1856, against my better judgment and will, but I was assured that those who would rally around me possessed the power essential to my election; and I confess that the 'bauble,' as it might have been called by Oliver Cromwell, possessed attractions which I could not well resist. But I would not again encounter all the vexation, mortification, and annoyance I then encountered, if the reward were to be ten thousand presidencies."

THE SWISS LAW AGAINST THE JEWS.—It appears from the "Sulesz," a Bernese journal, that Mr. Fay, the representative of the United States at Switzerland, has just submitted a memorial to the Bundesrath, requesting that measures be taken by the Swiss federal government for abolishing the illiberal laws against the Jews. Mr. Fay has made a positive complaint to the effect that persons from the United States, who are of the Jewish persuasion, are treated in such a manner that it is in perfect violation of the treaty which several years ago was made between Switzerland and the United States.
