Republican Meetings.

Republican meetings will be held at the following times and places, and the friends in the neighborhood are requested to give general notice of the same:

Pitt Township, at Copperworks, on Monday, October 10, at 7 P. M.

Birmingham, Monday evening, Oct. 10, at 7 o'clock.

Manchester, Monday night, Oct. 10, at 7 o'clock.

Etna, Monday night, Oct. 10, at 7 o'clock.

Perrysville, Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock.

THE CONTEST TO-MORROW.—We have before alluded to the responsibility which rests upon each individual member of the Republican party to do his whole duty at the election, to-morrow, and we recur to the subject now to stir up the minds of our readers by way of remembrance.

We have no Presidential contest, no Gubernatorial nor Congressional canvass, to call forth enthusiasm. But this should be no excuse for a fatal apathy that may jeopardize the most serious interests of the commonwealth. The duty of voting is as imperative, in this contest, as in any that have preceded it or are likely to follow. The absence of excitement is no excuse for neglecting it.

The only danger which menaces the success of the Opposition, is the fatal delusion which a triumphant party is at all times likely to indulge. That danger is over-confidence. It seems to be a conviction with many of the most earnest Republicans that victory must be a matter of course. That such will be the result, if a full vote is only polled, there can be no earthly donbt. But if a two-third vote merely is brought out to the polls, the result is not so certain. It is not confidence, however strong or however boastful, but quiet votes, that carry the election; and this homely truth should be pressed home forcibly upon the mind of every Republican.

The election to-morrow has far more important bearings than the mere local limits of our own State. The same day on which the voters of Pennsylvania record their decision upon the shortcomings of the National Administration, the great States of Ohio, Minnesota and Iowa discharge the same patriotic duty. We have an abiding faith that Republican principles will be sustained in all of them. The present prospects are, that from all these States we may expect the cheering sound of Northern thunder. Shall it be that those tones of freedom shall meet no responsive echoes from the Keystone State? Shall it be that our commonwealth is to go backward in the glorious race she has begun? Shall it be that her banner of independence from Federal tyranny is to be trailed ignominiously in the dust?

We beg every voter to ponder upon these suggestive queries. Let each one answer for himself and work from this hour forth until the contest is ended, to secure such a triumph as will redound to the honor of the State. Let no fatal remissness, no tardy neglect of the most important duty of freemen, come to blight the hopes of the whole country. Whatever other States may decree to do, let, at least, the Keystone prove herself the centre of the arch of Republican States; and whatever other counties may do, let Allegheny do her whole duty, roll up an old-fashioned majority, and maintain her proud position as the strongest Republican county in the Commonwealth.

We beg attention, also, to the necessity of giving a generous support to the Republican County Ticket. It is well deserving of the support of every Republican, and we hope to see it elected by an overwhelming majority. We appeal, especially, to the business men, mechanics and working men of the two cities and the neighborhood. It takes but little time to vote; and every one feels so pleasant, after having thus had the chance to throw a stone effectively at locofocoism, that we marvel how any one can refrain from availing himself of it. Make ready, therefore, for an effective rally to-morrow.

THE MORMON WAR EXPENSES.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore, Sun, who is deep in the secrets of the Administration, and who is an earnest adherent of Mr. Buchanan, in a late letter remarks as follows:

"The contracts for transportation of supplies for the army of Utah were preceded by tales of shocking disorders in the Territory, and it is plain enough that the number of troops must be augmented and the amount of supplies increased. It would be a profitable measure for the United States Government to give Brigham Young half of the estimated cost of sustaining the army, for the next ten years, as a consideration for keeping his subjects in better order. But for a less sum than this would amount to, Brigham would consent to withdraw all his people from Utah and from the territory of the United States.

"Another thing is certain, that if the Mormons quit Utah that territory will never be occupied again by any community of white men. That is the opinion of those who are best acquainted with that miserable region. The Mormons themselves are there by accident. They were brought to a halt there by the occurrence of the war with Mexico, and by the occupation of California by the United States, for their destination was California."

Whose fault is it that this war is so expensive, and that all the troubles in Utah have not reached a satisfactory termination? Had Mr. Buchanan pursued a firm and upright course, there can be no doubt that the Mormons would have been subdued, and that peace would exist in a territory which is now occupied by our army. The President has appointed a Governor for Utah, whose tampering cowardice has brought the government into contempt with the very people whose policy it was to overawe; and instead of girding aid to the judiciary, this official is its worst foe. A good President, who would regard the interests and honor of the nation above those of a few army contractors, would have settled the Mormon difficulty a year ago. As matters now stand, no one can tell when these troubles will end, for they are more complicated than at their commencement.

MEETING AT LAFAYETTE HALL.—There was a very fine Republican meeting at Lafayette Hall, on Saturday night. Gen. J. K. Moorhead presided, assisted by Adams Getty, R. P. M'Dowell and B. C. Sawyer as Vice Presidents, and D. L. Eaton and D. Fitzsimmons as Secretaries.

The first address was made by Thos. Howard, Esq., after which Hon. John Covode spoke for a considerable time, laying bare, with a masterly hand, the corruptions of the National Administration. The speech was well received, and the meeting adjourned in excellent spirits.

THE Post makes itself very miserable over a pledge it says has been given by our candidate for Commissioner, honest JONATHAN BRAUFF, to re-appoint the present County Solicitor. We have nothing to say as to any such appointment, as that is not now a proper subject for discussion; but we are authorized to say that Mr. Brauff has made no pledge of the kind. What his course will be, if elected, we are not called upon to say; but we know that he will enter office perfectly untrammeled upon that subject, as it is right he should do.

REPUBLICAN MEETING.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at Depp's Tavern, in Robinson township, on Saturday afternoon. The officers were JOHN RIDDLE, Esq., President, John McCloskey and Samuel Riddle, Vice Presidents, and F. M. Edmundson and Robert McElherron, Secretaries. Gen. Moorhead spoke, and was followed by Hon John Covode, both of whom made excellent speeches, and stirred up the Republicans of Robinson to a keen sense of their duty.

A fine meeting was also held in Penn township, at Laurel Point School House, on Friday night, which was addressed by Gen. Moorhead and Thos Mellit, Esq. On Saturday, the Republicans of Elizabeth had a cheering turn out at Buena Vista, and were addressed by John P. Penney, Esq. At Mansfield, on Saturday night, Dr. Garzam addressed the Republicans in that region, in his usual happy manner.

In Baldwin township, a very encouraging meeting was held at Cowan's, on Saturday night. JOHN REDMOND, Esq., presided, and S. B. Moore and J. McGibboney acted as Secretaries. Sturdy addresses were made by J. H. Miller and A. M. Brown, Esqs. Baldwin will do her duty to-morrow.

To-night meetings will be held at the Copper Works, Birmingham, Manchester and Etna, and in the afternoon at Perrysville.

(For the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.)

AUGUSTUS WASHINGTON, not unexpectedly, is dead, of consumption, contracted years since in the faithful discharge of his duty as Notary for the Bank of Pittsburgh—an office which he acceptably filled for three years.

Educated as a lawyer, in the office he was without a peer. With a fine personal presence and very agreeable manners, constitutional timidity prevented him from appearing as an advocate.

As a son and a brother, for years he labored assiduously to sustain those dearer to him than life—and at last, when the goal seemed reached, he was stricken down in the prime of life.

With a warm, generous and noble heart, he possessed all those manly qualities which so endeared him to his friends, and which should properly characterize a descendant of Washington.

H. W.

A COALITION OF SECTS IN PHILADELPHIA.—Some time since a number of our prominent clergymen, of different denominations, signed a paper, which was published in all the religious and some of the daily journals, the bearing of which was that they were deeply concerned at the divisions among Christians. They proposed that there should be a concert of prayer for Catholic Unity on the first Monday in October.

The Rev. J. W. Cracraft offered the Epiphany Church, Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, for a meeting of ministers, at 9 o'clock. We saw clergymen of all denominations, and we have been told that 150 were present. Mr. Cracraft presided, ministers of the churches crowding about him in and around the chancel. The Rev. Dr. Boardman, of the Presbyterian Church (O. S.,) opened the meeting with prayer. Mr. Cracraft read from the Scriptures. He then read a letter from Bishop M'Ilvaine, of Ohio, cordially approving the object of the meeting. Dr. Nott, for half a century President of Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., of the Presbyterian church, (O. S.,) then rose, with some assistance from Dr. Jenkins and Dr. Duffield, of Detroit—an exceedingly venerable figure, with snow-white hair—and, leaning on his staff, for he feels the weight of four-score years, he addressed to the assemblage a few words breathing the spirit of Christian union. The Chairman then called upon the venerable Dr. Humphrey, of the Congregational church, late President of Amherst College, Mass., who responded in a similar strain.

The most interesting incident of the meeting occurred at this point, an incident, so far as we know, unparalleled in the history of Protestantism. Dr. Nevin, of the Presbyterian church, (O. S.,) rose and stated that the Apostles' Creed was one of the symbols of his branch of the church, and it might be of all the churches represented, and proposed that Mr. Cracraft should repeat it as the creed of the meeting, all standing and joining in it. Instantly every individual of the vast assemblage sprang to his feet. The Chairman began: "I believe in God, the Father Almighty, maker of Heaven and Earth." Every voice joined him. Nearly two thousand people—Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Old and New School, Seceders, Covenanters, Dutch Reformed, German Reformed, Baptists, Methodists, Lutherans, Moravians, Congregationalists, Independents—all repeated with the simplicity of children this grand old formula which has come down to us on the stream of ages—"I believe in God, the Father Almighty." Even a calm spectator, not easily excited, and standing aloof from any enthusiasm of the moment, could not but be moved. As the "Apostles' Creed," so called, is the only unimpaired summary of Christian doctrine in which all these churches believe, it seemed like an Act of Union of the Church Universal. It brought startlingly, and, judging from the appearance of the congregation, affectingly, to every individual the idea, so much lost sight of, that in all that is essential, these Christians, cut up into what are called sects, are, in fact, one.

CATCHING A BEAR.—On Wednesday evening a week, Mr. George Hess, of Lawrence township, set a trap in a cornfield of Harrison Miller, near Clearfield creek, to catch a bear, which had been committing depredations on cornfields in the neighborhood, having destroyed about 40 bushels for one man. On visiting the trap on Thursday morning the bear was on the ground, detained, no doubt, against his will. Some eight or ten persons soon assembled, and were much delighted at the prospect of oiling their mouths with "bar's grease." Bruin, however, not much admiring their rejoicing, concluded to be off, if possible. In his anger he soon bit off a sapling, some four inches thick, to which the trap was chained, and commenced making tracks. The trap being fast to his foot, impeded him in his progress, but coming to a log, he soon rid himself of it by beating it to pieces, and then went his way rejoicing. Nearly half the persons present had guns, but the "bar fever" had seized upon them so firmly that neither thought of shooting, until Bruin had made good his escape, most likely to feast in some other cornfield, thanking his stars for his narrow escape from being eat by the hungry men.—Clearfield Jour.

PARIS.—The Paris correspondent of the Boston Advertiser says "Paris is being torn down and rebuilt with an activity that borders upon the marvellous. Narrow streets that had been for centuries damp, dark and unhealthy, have disappeared as if by enchantment, and long rows of white palaces replace the old tumble-down, jumbled up dwellings that have been demolished. Light and air have thus gained access to portions of the city that knew them not, and great is the consequent reduction in the bills of mortality. The stone used for building in Paris is one peculiarly adapted to the purpose. Of a rich cream color, it presents a beautiful appearance and possesses a singular property. It is, when first quarried, easily cut with the knife or chisel, and thus the beautiful sculptures that may be seen in the facades of all the new houses in Paris are chiseled without difficulty. But exposure to the air renders this soft and easily worked stone as hard as granite, so that being accommodatingly soft at first, it becomes duly hard in course of time, rendering the beautiful ornaments enduring."

A PRETTY serious difficulty seems to be raging between the Hon. A. P. Walker, formerly editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and now editor of the N. O. Delta, and Mr. J. P. Heiss, formerly proprietor of the Delta, and now of the States, the Douglas organ in Washington. Mr. Heiss says that while he was proprietor of the Delta he dismissed Walker, because he detected him in selling the columns of the paper to advance the private interests of other parties, for a consideration, which he put in his own pocket." He also caught Walker, as he says, writing for another journal on the other side in politics. Mr. Walker responds with a denial, and with a clever retorporation of Heiss, who, he says, owes all his success to the size of his fist, the depth of his chest, the muscle of his arm, the taurine brawn of his neck, and prodigious circumference of his head." In the further course of the controversy, charges of forgery, perjury and swindling, are pretty freely exchanged. That's all at present.

LAWRENCE TOD, a citizen of Illinois, who died some weeks since, has devised his estate ($30,000) to Girard College, in Philadelphia. The deceased was of Danish parentage, and formerly commanded a packet between Philadelphia and New York. At that time he became acquainted with Stephen Girard, and seems to have carried to the west, where he went soon after, a most exalted idea of the disposition which Girard made of his estate. With this feeling, he has devised to the college his estate. Mr. Tod had no family.

JESSE CRAWFORD, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Columbus District of Georgia, was recently asked whether he would support Douglas for the Presidency if he were nominated by the Charleston Convention, and replied that his position was, that in the event of such a nomination, he would advise the Southern members to withdraw from the Convention and go home.

THE town elections in Connecticut, on Monday resulted more favorably for the Republicans than ever before. Out of 105 towns heard from, the Republicans were successful in 63, the Administration in 36, and in the balance the result was either divided or did not depend upon politics. The Republicans made a net gain of seven towns.

A DESIRABLE CHANGE.—The Richmond Enquirer proposes to devote its columns to religion instead of politics during the session of the Episcopal Convention in that place. For the sake of the Enquirer's readers, it is to be hoped the session may prove a long one.—N. Y. Times.

SIMPLICITY OF DRESS.—Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, speaks thus to his readers: "Those who think that, in order to dress well, it is necessary to dress extravagantly and gaudily, make a great mistake. Nothing so well becomes true feminine beauty as simplicity. We have seen many a remarkably fine person robbed of its fine effect by being over-dressed. Nothing is more unbecoming than over-loaded beauty. The simplicity of the classic taste is seen in the old statues and pictures, painted by men of very superior artistic genius. In Athens the ladies were not gaudily, but simply arrayed, and we doubt whether any ladies excited more admiration. So also the noble old Roman matrons, whose superb forms were worthy of them, were always very plainly dressed. Fashion often presents the lines of the butterfly, but fashion is not a classic goddess.

BEARS KILLED.—Three half grown bear cubs were killed near the Reservoir, in Richland township, about seven miles from this place, on Tuesday afternoon last, by Elias Penrod, a farmer of that neighborhood. The cubs, in company with their dam, came to the house of Penrod and sat down within a few feet of the front door. Penrod instantly seized his gun and shot two of the cubs, when the mother made off, leaving the remaining cub behind, which he at his leisure dispatched with a club. Our informant states that, on Wednesday, parties were out in pursuit of the dam.—Cambria Trib.

SUMMER COMPLAINT.—The fact is now too well established for any one to attempt to controvert it, that most of the diseases which often prove fatal in summer, are produced by excessive use of fruits and vegetables, by which the stomach is disordered, the liver deranged, the blood stagnated and digestive organs, rendered inactive if not torpid. Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Bilious and Cramp Cholic, dysentery, Diarrhoea and such like complaints germinate and thrive upon improper food and often times become so deep seated and fixed upon the constitution, that the strongest and most active mineral medicines are unable to arrest their progress until the patient is prostrate, and all hopes of relief are exiled. Who is it that has not seen a fine, healthy infant or adult, seized with one of the annoying diseases above spoken of, and despite the skill and science of medical gentlemen literally waste away under their treatment? And how is this treatment to be accounted for? simply by the fact, that instead of administering some remedy to stay the falling strength of the afflicted, and at the same time check the disease in its progress, the remedy prescribed aided in the exhaustion of the natural strength, prostrate, and failing to excite a reaction the patient died from the effect of the poison administered to uproot the disease. Not so with DR. HEAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS, which are composed entirely of vegetable matter, and which have not only proved themselves the best tonic in use, but have never failed to correct disorders of the stomach and bowels when taken according to directions. In the cure of Summer Complaints they have no equal. Try them at once.

RARE CHANCE.—The Genuine Philadelphia Concentrated Heave's Holland Bitters is put up in half pint bottles only, and retailed at $1 per bottle. The great demand for the truly Celebrated Medicine has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Beware of imitations! See that our name is on the label of every bottle you buy.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

IT is well known that first class Dentistry has been beyond the reach of the mass of people on account of its costliness, and the majority, rather than take up with the inferior workmanship of "cheap Dentists," have adapted the wiser course and done without any, for if a set of teeth be imperfect in workmanship and inexact in fit, it is worse than useless and dear at any price.

THE CORALITE AND PORCELAIN TEETH have inaugurated a new era in the science of dentistry—being the very best Artificial Teeth now in use, they can be afforded at prices that place them within the reach of all.

Being the first to introduce these new styles of work in this community, I accordingly fixed such prices as I deemed would remunerate the best article and mechanical skill. Since then, however, the unprecedented favor with which the work has been received, has compelled other Dentists to adopt it, some of whom wish to retain the old gold plate prices, which I consider would be exorbitant, for, though the new styles are really more valuable than the best gold work, they are made of less expensive material, the increased amount of work done compensates for the reduction in price.

On the other hand, a few Dental Quacks of this city, who possess neither mechanical skill or economy honestly, advertise the work at prices slightly less than my own, notwithstanding they have neither the ability nor the right (it being patented) to manufacture it. The object of this trickery is merely to obtain an opportunity to disparage the Coralite and Porcelain and recommend some of their worthless work.

I have felt bound, in justice to myself and the public, to make known these facts.

The qualities of the PORCELAIN AND CORALITE PLATE TEETH, which established their great superiority over the best gold or other metallic plate are—entire freedom from all metallic taste, smell or tarnish, being indissoluble and impervious to the juice of the mouth, perfect adaptation or fit, (impossible in metallic work) which, with much greater strength and lightness, enables them to be worn with much more ease and comfort and utility. They are also far more durable, less liable to accident and more easily repaired.

The public are invited to call and examine these new styles of work at
