Most persons have an idea that the Peruvian Syrup is a preparation of Peruvian Barks. This is not the case. It is a soluble preparation of Prictoxite of Iron, which is readily received into the constitution, and will act as a tonic in a way that that metal those not unsulty set, when given in the form of carbonate, or even in the Iron by bydrogen preparation, so popular with physicians. Whoever desires to give iron in a form that will be acceptable to the human stomach, and that will be readily taken into the blood, will give this Peruvian Syrup, which is attended by men of high character throughout the country. Dr. Hayas, the State Assayer of Alseanchusetts, testifies to its extraordinary virtues, and we have every condidence in the ability of the agent here to convince anyone of the same.
