are all signed by responsible names; but it takes gold ear to withhold the names; thus depriving them of all possible apthority. If there have been any movements of the north looking to the rescue of Brown, the men who have ommunicated the fact to Gov. Wise need not be ashamed to see their names in print; and the very fact that the names are withheld, proves that the letters are either hoaxes, forgeries or were manufactured in Richmond to suit the purpose. We incline to the latter belief; but it is not at all improbable that wags in various parts of the country, knowing the credulity and excitability of Virginia, have resorted to this means of provoking the ludicrous displays that have followed, in order to have a hearty laugh over them. If that is the case, the whole country has had the opportunity of joining in the laugh. It is certain that no people ever made themselves or ridigitations as the Virginians have in this instance.

If Gov. Wise has really received the forged dispatches which he sileges to have received, purporting to be from U. S. Marchalls and Governo, a sense of fair dealing towards them should prompt him to ferret out and expose those who have so imposed upon him; and if he does not do this, the officials whose names have attempted. These letters, the Enquirer says.

does not do this, the officials whose names have been used owe it to themselves to trace the whole affair out. They can easily ascertain whether such dispatches were sent, if not who sent them; and if it should turn out that no such dispatches ever passed over the line, which is very probable, let the fact be made known, that the Governor of Virginia and his courageous cead-

A REMARKIBLE FACT .- Professor Mitchell, in his lectures on astronomy, related a very remarkable fact. He said that he had not long since met, in the city of St. Louis, a man of great scientific attainments, who for forty years had been engaged in Egypt in decyphering the hierogylphics of the ancionts. This gentlemen had stated to him that he had lately unravelled the inscriptions upon the coffic of a manner. the inscriptions upon the coffin of a mummy, now in the London Museum, and that by the aid of previous observations, he had discovered the lay to all the now in the London Museum, and that by the aid of previous observations, he had discovered the key to all the astronomical knowledge of the Egyptians. The rodine, with the exact position of the planets, was delineated on the coffin, and the date to which they pointed was the autumnal equinox in the year 1722 before Christ, or nearly thirty-six hundred years ago.

Professor Mitchell employed his assistants to ascertain the exact position of the heavenly bodies belonging to our solar system on the equinox of that year, (1722 B. C.,) and sent him a correct diagram of them, without having communicated his object in doing so. In compliance with this the calculations were made, and to his astonishment, on comparing the result with the restrict of the approximation of the planet.

It will be seen that Jones, Democrat, for whom the Americans voted, received 25,387 more votes than Church, whom they did not support: that Denniston, Republican, whom the Americans indorsed, received 24,723 more votes than Leavenworth, who received only Republican support. So that the Brooks-Americans appear to have cast about 25,000 votes for the Utica ticket. It will be observed that Leavenworth, who received only Republican support, has about 3,000 more votes than were cast for Gov. to us on that morning that he had something, now, to be especially thankful for—that he was not, to wit, a citizen of Virginia.

If Frank Leslie's picture-taker had not been driven from Charlestown by the suspicious populace of that seedy, card-playing, whisky-drinking town, wo might rationally look for a lifesize engraving of that cow which exerced the sentinel out of his wits. Also of the sentinel in the act of challenging the cow. Whether it would be possible to give what the cow did not ay, and counstances, we cannot tell; we leave that to the artist; but it certainly would not be difficult to depict the terrified look of the sentry as he blazed away at the bovine enemy, and then fied to alarm the town. This fellow, it is evident, was a very good coward, but a very poor cowherd.

But what of the people of Charlestown themselves? How prompt they were to extinguish the lights, close the shutters, and make ready for the general doom! The cackling of geese one gaard at Charlestown instead of the kind that were on guard. You couldn't scare a genuine goose with a cow; and hence it would hardly be fair to the tribe of geese to class this politroon sentry with them. The cow was challenged and did not answer; and where there is
